The Oxford Handbook of Modern Egyptian History Beth Baron, Jeffrey Culang, 2024 Until relatively recently scholars of Egyptian history understood the modern period to begin with the movement of European people and ideas to Egypt's northern shores precipitated by Napoleon's invasion in 1798 From this perspective modern Egyptian history was animated by the diverse and sometimes contradictory ways in which Egyptians responded over time to colonial power and modern forms of knowledge This handbook featuring 26 originally commissioned essays by top scholars in the field adds to a growing literature that complicates the facile colonizer colonized and modern tradition binaries undergirding this view Modern Egyptian history is a continuous process of translation and adaptation invention and reinvention Bringing together a dynamic and accomplished group of historians of Egypt the book maps the present state of modern Egyptian history highlighting the most promising avenues of research and laying new ground upon which future generations of scholars may build The contributors address both long persisting themes in the field though in new ways as well as new themes reshaping how we understand modern Egyptian history and thus Middle Eastern and global history These include environment family infrastructure intellectuals labor law literature medicine politics popular culture and slavery Within these categories they explore issues of gender race and class The questions these scholars consider reflect pressing contemporary concerns and debates including medical sovereignty and bodily autonomy the management of the environment the rights and movements of workers courts and legal struggles cultural expression production and reception and the relationship between the army state and society

Islamic Knowledge and the Making of Modern Egypt Hilary Kalmbach, 2020-10-22 This historical study transforms our understanding of modern Egyptian national culture by applying social theory to the history of Egypt's first teacher training school It focuses on Dar al Ulum which trained students from religious schools to teach in Egypt's new civil schools from 1872 During the first four decades of British occupation 1882-1922 Egyptian nationalists strove to emulate Europe yet insisted that Arabic and Islamic knowledge be reformed and integrated into Egyptian national culture despite opposition from British officials This reinforced the authority of the alumni of the Dar al Ulum the daramiyya as arbiters of how to be modern and authentic a position that graduates Hasan al Banna and Sayyid Qutb of the Muslim Brotherhood would use to resist westernisation and create new modes of Islamic leadership in the 1930s 40s and 50s Establishing a 130 year history for tensions over the place of Islamic ideas and practices within modernized public spaces tensions which became central to the outcomes of the 2011 Arab Uprisings Hilary Kalmbach

demonstrates the importance of Arabic and Islamic knowledge to notions of authority belonging and authenticity within a modernising Muslim majority community Gender and Class in the Egyptian Women's Movement, 1925-1939 Cathlyn Mariscotti, 2008-10-31 The women's movement in Egypt has been heralded as improving the lives of women in Egypt and paving the way for women throughout the Arab world As seen through the eyes of the university educated elite and middle class this is no doubt true yet such a narrow view fails to account for the diversity of women's experience In Changing Perspectives Cathlyn Mariscotti provides a critical re-examination of the women's movement framing it within the broader economic and political movements occurring in Egypt and abroad Her nuanced account unveils a rich differentiated and complex history of Egyptian women Drawing upon published journal reports and newspaper articles Mariscotti explores the tensions between upper class harem women and lower class women Rather than a unified movement the author describes the way in which elite feminism created a concept of womanhood that fed into the nationalist cultural ideal one that was not necessarily progressive for all Egyptian women Demonstrating active resistance the non elite women constructed a model of feminism in line with their own class position and political interests Mariscotti's reveals the tension in the movement through the profiles of From this class struggle a unique synthesized form of feminism emerged infused with the politics and culture of Egypt at that time Humanizing her analysis the author profiles two outspoken and prominent women who symbolize the conflict the university educated and wealthy Huda Sha rawi and Munira Thabit who represented the working class women The first book to emphasize the class conflict among women this book makes an invaluable contribution to the fields of women's studies and Middle East studies Treasured Christina Riggs, 2022-02-01 A bold new history of the discovery of King Tut and the seismic impact it left on modern society When it was discovered in 1922 in an Egypt newly independent of the British Empire the 3 300 year old tomb of Tutankhamun sent shockwaves around the world The boy king became a household name overnight and kickstarted an international obsession that continues to this day From pop culture and politics to tourism and the heritage industry it's impossible to imagine the past century without the discovery of Tutankhamun yet so much of the story remains untold In Treasured Christina Riggs weaves compelling historical analysis with tales of lives touched or changed forever by an encounter with the boy king Who remembers that Jacqueline Kennedy first welcomed the young pharaoh to America That a Tutankhamun revival in the 1960s helped save the ancient temples of Egyptian Nubia Or that the British Museum's landmark Tutankhamun exhibition in 1972 remains its most successful ever But not everything about King Tut glitters tours of his treasures in the 1970s were linked to Big Oil his mummified remains have been exploited in the name of science and accounts of his tomb's discovery exclude Egyptian archaeologists Treasured offers a bold new history of the young pharaoh who has as much to tell us about our world as his own Cartooning for a Modern Egypt Keren Zdafée, 2019-09-16 In Cartooning for a Modern Egypt Keren Zdafée foregrounds the role that Egypt's foreign local entrepreneurs and caricaturists played in formulating and constructing the modern Egyptian caricature of the interwar years

She illustrates how these caricaturists envisioned and evaluated the past present and future of Egyptian society in the context of Cairo's colonial cosmopolitanism

Gender and the Making of Modern Medicine in Colonial Egypt Hibba Abugideiri, 2016-04-15 Gender and the Making of Modern Medicine in Colonial Egypt investigates the use of medicine as a tool of empire to serve the state building process in Egypt by the British colonial administration. It argues that the colonial state effectively transformed Egyptian medical practice and medical knowledge in ways that were decidedly gendered. On the one hand, women medical professionals who had once trained as doctresses (hakimas) were now restricted in their medical training and therefore saw their social status decline despite colonial modernity's promise of progress. On the other hand, the introduction of colonial medicine gendered Egyptian medicine in ways that privileged men and masculinity. Far from being totalized colonial subjects, Egyptian doctors paradoxically reappropriated aspects of Victorian science to forge an anticolonial nationalist discourse premised on the Egyptian woman as mother of the nation. By relegating Egyptian women, whether as midwives or housewives, to maternal roles in the home, colonial medicine was determinative in diminishing what control women formerly exercised over their profession, homes, and bodies through its medical dictates to care for others. By interrogating how colonial medicine was constituted, Hibba Abugideiri reveals how the rise of the modern state configured the social formation of native elites in ways directly tied to the formation of modern gender identities and gender inequalities in colonial Egypt.

Modern Arabic Literature Paul Starkey, 2014-03-11 An introduction to Modern Arabic Literature from the beginning of the nineteenth century to the present

Egypt 1919 Heshmat Dina Heshmat, 2020-05-28 The 1919 anti-colonial revolution is a key moment in modern Egyptian history and a historical reference point in Egyptian culture through the century. This book offers a close reading of a wide range of novels, films, plays, and memoirs that feature this momentous historical event. By examining canonised as well as neglected works, Dina Heshmat highlights the processes of remembering and forgetting that have contributed to shaping a dominant imaginary about 1919 in Egypt, coined by successive political and cultural elites. Informed by concepts of class and gender, this book brings out a number of issues that underlie the memory of 1919 in Egypt as it is constantly evolving by ongoing social, cultural, and political struggles. As the author seeks to understand how and why so many voices have been relegated to the margins, she reinserts elements of the different representations into the dominant narrative. This opens up a new perspective on the legacy of 1919 in Egypt, inviting readers to meet the marginalised voices of the revolution and to reconnect with its layered emotional fabric.
