Glover, 1966 Serengeti II A. R. E. Sinclair, Peter Arcese, 1995-08 Serengeti II Dynamics Management and Conservation of an Ecosystem brings together twenty years of research by leading scientists to provide the most thorough understanding to date of the spectacular Serengeti Mara ecosystem in East Africa home to one of the largest and most diverse populations of animals in the world Building on the groundwork laid by the classic Serengeti Dynamics of an Ecosystem published in 1979 by the University of Chicago Press this new book integrates studies of the ecosystem at every level from the plants at the bottom of the visible food chain to the many species of herbivores and predators to the system as a whole Drawing on new data from many long term studies and from more recent research initiatives and applying new theory and computer technology the contributors examine the large scale processes that have produced the Serengeti s extraordinary biological diversity as well as the interactions among species and between plants and animals and their environment They also introduce computer modeling as a tool for exploring these interactions employing this new technology to test and anticipate the effects of social political and economic changes on the entire ecosystem and on particular species and so to shape future conservation and management strategies An Ecological Survey of the Narok District of Kenya Masailand, 1961-1965: without special title, 1966 Woody Vegetation of the Serengeti National Park Dennis J. Herlocker, 1974 Natural Grasslands R.T. Coupland, 1993-02-01 This volume is concerned with those parts of the earth s surface where semiarid to subhumid climate determines that the potential vegetation is characterized by a more or less continuous layer of grasses and other associated herbs These grasslands have been modified to a very considerable degree by the activities of man and his domesticated animals The authors of the various chapters have evaluated the effect of these stresses in modifying ecosystem structure and activities of organisms The book provides an intensively referenced and indexed synthesis and review of knowledge concerning the natural grasslands of the world in as uniform a style as possible Because of its length it is published in two parts The first part deals with the grasslands of the Western Hemisphere and the Eastern Hemisphere and the resum compose this second volume Rangeland Ecology and Resource Development in Eastern Africa Dennis J. Herlocker, 1999 An Ecological Survey of the Narok District of Kenya Masailand, 1970 East African Agricultural Journal of Kenya, Tanganyika, Uganda and Zanzibar, 1966 Low-Level Aerial Survey Techniques International Livestock Centre for Africa, Kenya Water Towers Status Report, 2014 Plant Invasions in Protected Areas Llewellyn C. for protected areas The book provides in depth case studies illuminating interesting and insightful knowledge that can be shared across the global protected area network The book includes the collective understanding of 80 ecologists and managers to extract as much information as possible that will support the long term management of protected areas and the biodiversity and associated ecosystem services they maintain This outstanding volume draws together pretty much all that can be said on this topic ranging from the science through policy to practical action Dr Simon N Stuart IUCN Species Survival Commission UK This important and timely volume addresses two of the most serious problems affecting biodiversity conservation today assessing the extent to which protected areas are impacted by biological invasions and the complex problems of managing these impacts Written by leading specialists it provides a comprehensive overview of the issues and gives detailed examples drawn from protected areas across the world Professor Vernon H Heywood School of Biological Sciences University of Reading UK

Serengeti III A. R. E. Sinclair, Craig Packer, Simon A. R. Mduma, John M. Fryxell, 2009-05-15 Serengeti National Park is one of the world's most diverse ecosystems a natural laboratory for ecology evolution and conservation with a history that dates back at least four million years to the beginnings of human evolution The third book of a ground breaking series Serengeti III is the result of a long term integrated research project that documents changes to this unique ecosystem every ten years Bringing together researchers from a wide range of disciplines ecologists paleontologists economists social scientists mathematicians and disease specialists this volume focuses on the interactions between the natural system and the human dominated agricultural system By examining how changes in rainfall wildebeest numbers commodity prices and human populations have impacted the Serengeti ecosystem the authors conclude that changes in the natural system have affected human welfare just as changes in the human system have impacted the natural world To promote both the conservation of biota and the sustainability of human welfare the authors recommend community based conservation and protected area conservation Serengeti III presents a timely and provocative look at the conservation status of one of earth s most renowned ecosystems The Ixodid Ticks of Kenya Jane Brotherton Walker,1974
