Economic Adjustment in New Democracies Diane Ethier, 1997 Economic Adjustment in New Democracies D. Ethier, 1997-05-29 The politics of economic adjustment in new democracies has received a lot of attention However none of the most recent examinations provide a thorough comparative analysis of Southern Europe Ethier's book fills this gap The book challenges many existing preconceptions about Southern Europe while confirming and complementing the main assertions of comparable studies on Eastern Europe Latin America Asia and Africa Constructing Democracy in Southern Europe Lauren M. McLaren, 2008-04-08 Why are some regimes democratic while others are not Specifically how have Spain and Italy managed to become democratic while Turkey which shares many similar characteristics has not Spain Italy and Turkey have shared common historical features which would have been disruptive to any new democracy however they represent a wide array of democratization experiences Providing a comparative case study analysis this book offers some clues as to the reasons for successful transitions to democracy This is done through a range of variables which include the degree of stateness problems learning from previous experiences with democracy and authoritarianism economic development the procedures used for designing the new rules of the regime the existence or absence of civil society and the connection between society and political institutions the democratic rules themselves the professionalization of the military the influence of external factors on democratic consolidation By examining these variables across the three countries Lauren McLaren narrows the range of possible explanations for differences in democratic consolidation The book will be of particular interest to students and researchers of European Politics and Democratization Studies Environment and Security M. Lowi, B.
