that allow students to test comprehension With an integrated approach to theory and practice and written in an accessible tone this text helps students recognize the dynamic forces that shape the way the law is constructed and implemented particularly how law drives social inequality The Late Ottoman Empire and Egypt Elizabeth Shlala,2017-07-31 Law and identification transgressed political boundaries in the nineteenth century Levant Over the course of the century Italo Levantines elite and common exercised a strategy of resilient hybridity whereby an unintentional form of legal imperialism took root in Egypt This book contributes to a vibrant strand of global legal history that places law and other social structures at the heart of competing imperial projects British Ottoman Egyptian and Italian among them Analysis of the Italian consular and mixed court cases and diplomatic records in Egypt and Istanbul reveals the complexity of shifting identifications and judicial reform in two parts of the interactive and competitive plural legal regime The rich court records show that binary relational categories fail to capture the complexity of the daily lives of the residents and courts of the late Ottoman empire Over time and acting in their own self interests these actors exploited the plural legal regime Case studies in both Egypt and Istanbul explore how identification developed as a legal form of property itself Whereas the classical literature emphasized external state power politics this book builds upon new work in the field that shows the interaction of external and internal power struggles throughout the region led to assorted forms of confrontation collaboration and negotiation in the region It will be of interest to students scholars and readers of Middle East Ottoman and Mediterranean history It will also appeal to anyone wanting to know more about cultural history in the nineteenth century and the historical roots of contemporary global debates on law migration and identities Women's Rights in Authoritarian Egypt Hiam Elgousi,2016-04-20 During the uprisings of late 2010 and 2011 which took place across the Middle East and North Africa women made up an important part of the crowds protesting Women s rights were central to the demands made However despite this in the ensuing social and political struggles these rights have not progressed much beyond the situation under previous governments Hiam El Gousi s book offers an examination of the status of women under Egypt s various authoritarian regimes In exploring the role played by religious scholars in helping to define women s status in society she focuses on personal status laws and health rights In examining the issue of women s rights El Gousi begins with an account of feminism in Egypt the centre of feminist thought in the Middle East at the end of the nineteenth and beginning of the twentieth century Based on extensive research in the country especially at grassroots level El Gousi goes on to analyse the constitutional and legislative rulings which have affected the lives and rights of Egyptian women This book will become a vital primary resource for those studying feminism in the wider Middle East and North Africa Islamic Public Law - Islamic Law in Theory and Practice Ahmed Akgunduz,2011-11-01 Islamic law contains explications and divisions that imply a classification in terms of public and private law In this book we will explain the outlines of Islamic public law e g First Chapter Islamic constitutional law al siy sah al shar iyyah and administrative law al siy sah al shar iyyah Second Chapter penal law al uq b t Third Chapter financial law zakat ushr arj and other taxes Fourth Chapter trial law qa and Fifth Chapter international public law al siyar The fields of especially Islamic constitutional law administrative law financial law tazir penalties and arrangements concerning military law based on the restricted legislative authority vested by Shar'ah rules and those jurisprudential decrees based on secondary sources like customs and traditions and the public good maslahah all fell under what was variously called public law al siyasa al shar'iyyah Shar'ah policy qanun legal code qanun mah or fuq'ah etc Since these laws could not go beyond Shar'ah principles either at least in theory they should not be regarded as a legal system outside of Islamic law But Islamic penal law financial law trial law and international law depend mostly on rules that are based directly on the Qur'an and the Sunnah and codified in books of fiqh Islamic law called Shar'ah rules Shar'i sharf or Shar'ah law Such rules formed 85% of the legal system In this book we will focus on some controversial problems in the Muslim world today such as the form of government in Islamic law and the relation between Islam and democracy Islamic law does not stipulate a certain method of state government nonetheless we may say that the principles it decrees and its concept of sovereignty suggest a religious republic As a matter of fact ulaf al Rashidun the Rightly Guided Caliphs were both caliphs and religious republican presidents We could say that this book has three main characteristics i We have tried to base our explanations directly on the primary Islamic law sources For example after reading some articles on the caliphate or tamar system in articles or books by some Western scholars and even by some Muslim scholars one might conclude that there are different views on these subjects among Muslim scholars This is not true Muslimisms have agreed on the basic rules on legal subjects but there are some conflicts regarding nuances and interpretations If one reads works by Imam Gazzali Ibn Taymiyyah al Mawardi and al Farr one will not find any disagreement on the main rules but there are some different interpretations of some concepts We have tried to discover where they agreed and we have sometimes pointed to where they differed ii We have researched practices of Islamic law especially legal documents in the Ottoman archives For example we explain addi sariqa but also mention some legal articles from the Ottoman legal codes qanunnames and some Shar'ah court decisions like legal decrees ilmi shar'iyyah It is well known that nobody can understand any legal system without implementing and practicing it That also holds for Islamic law because theory alone does not yield a complete understanding of Shar'ah rules iii We have worked hard to correct some misconceptions and misunderstandings about Islamic law That is why we appeal to the primary sources For example some scholars claim that the anaf jurist Imam Sara's did not accept the idea of punishment for apostasy We have studied his work al Mabsut and found this claim to be unfounded The comparison between tamar and fief is another example because the tamar system is different from the fief system Some scholars confuse the concept of sovereignty and governance The Islamic state is not a theocratic state in the sense in which Europeans understand the term social intellectual and mentality history Defining Islam for the Egyptian State will be of great interest to students of Islamic law and social and intellectual history of the modern Middle East The Sanhuri Code, and the Emergence of Modern Arab Civil Law (1932 to 1949) Guy Bechor, 2007-09-30 Dr Abd al Razz q al Sanh r 1895 1971 is one of the most prominent jurists to emerge to date in the Arab world His alarm at the growing social gap in his country Egypt during the first half of the twentieth century fueled his vision of establishing moral social order by means of a new civil code Although Sanh r s chosen tool was the legal text this book argues that his vision was essentially a social one to introduce the principles of compassion solidarity and fairness alongside progress and pragmatism into polarized Egyptian society whereby property laws acquired a social function the laws of partnership were perceived as having an educational value and contract law was activated as a balance favoring the weaker members of society Accordingly this book examines the drafting of the Egyptian Civil Code exposing the hitherto unknown sociological strata of this act of legislation Yearbook of Islamic and Middle Eastern Law, Volume 13 (2006-2007) Eugene Cotran, Martin Lau, 2008-12-23 Practitioners and academics dealing with the Middle East can turn to the Yearbook of Islamic and Middle Eastern Law for an instant source of information on the developments over an entire year in the region The Yearbook covers Islamic and non Islamic legal subjects including the laws themselves of some twenty Arab and other Islamic countries The publication s practical features include articles on current topics country surveys reflecting important new legislation and amendments to existing legislation per country the text of a selection of documents and important court cases a Notes and News section and book reviews Global Contract Law in the Middle East and North Africa Mohamed Ismail, 2024-08-01 This book comprehensively covers the interplay between cultural and legal globalization and the impact this has on contract law with a particular focus on state contracts within the MENA region The book discusses the roles assumed by Supreme Courts in Egypt and MENA countries in creating unified principles of international contract law in states contracts which are consistent with international commercial contracts principles It makes a powerful argument for further harmonization of contract law in the area and how this can be achieved The book forms a case study of how international harmonization can be achieved through a number of routes such as codification digitalization of processes and contracts private public arbitration and further use of international instruments It also considers the implications of comparative European law convention law and other legal domains particularly international standards on contract law in the MENA region The book suggests how international legal standards can be integrated within contract law and how a harmonious contract law framework can thus be achieved Through analyzing ICSID case law the book argues that unification of contract law principles in the MENA region is a considerable step towards achieving legitimate expectations of foreign investors It argues further that global contract law is underway The book will be of interest to students and scholars in the field of international contract law public law and international law in Egypt and MENA countries Recasting Islamic Law Rachel M. Scott, 2021-03-15 By examining the intersection of Islamic law state law religion and culture in the Egyptian nation building process Recasting Islamic Law highlights how the sharia when attached to constitutional commitments is reshaped into modern Islamic state law Rachel M Scott analyzes the complex effects of constitutional commitments to the sharia in the wake of the Egyptian Revolution of 2011 She argues that the sharia is not dismantled by the modern state when it is applied as modern Islamic state law but rather recast in its service In showing the particular forms that the sharia takes when it is applied as modern Islamic state law Scott pushes back against assumptions that introductions of the sharia into modern state law result in either the revival of medieval Islam or in its complete transformation Scott engages with premodern law and with the Ottoman legal legacy on topics concerning Egypt s Coptic community women s rights personal status law and the relationship between religious scholars and the Supreme Constitutional Court Recasting Islamic Law considers modern Islamic state law s discontinuities and its continuities with premodern sharia Thanks to generous funding from Virginia Tech and its participation in TOME Toward an Open Monograph Ecosystem the ebook editions of this book are available as Open Access volumes from Cornell Open cornellpress.cornell.edu/cornell-open and other repositories Islamic Legal Revival Leonard Gustavus Harrison Wood,2016 In this meticulously researched volume Leonard Wood presents his ground breaking history of Islamic revivalist thought in Islamic law Islamic Legal Revival Reception of European Law and Transformations in Islamic Legal Thought in Egypt 1879 1952 brings to life the tumultuous history of colonial interventions in Islamic legal consciousness during the nineteenth and early twentieth centuries It tells the story of the rapid displacement of local Egyptian and Islamic law by transplanted European codes and details the evolution of resultant movements to revive Islamic law Islamic legal revivalist movements strove to develop a modern version of Islamic law that could be codified and would replace newly imposed European laws Wood explains in unparalleled depth and with nuance how cutting edge trends in European legal scholarship inspired influential revivalists and informed their methods in legal thought Timely and provocative Islamic Legal Revival tells of the rich achievements of legal experts in Egypt who disrupted tradition in Islamic jurisprudence and created new approaches to Islamic law that were distinctively responsive to demands of the contemporary world The story told bears important implications for understandings of Egyptian history Islamic legal history comparative law and deeply contested and highly transformative interactions between European and Islamic thought
