Hidden Patrons Amy Boyington,2023-11-02 An enduring myth of Georgian architecture is that it was purely the pursuit of male architects and their wealthy male patrons History states that it was men who owned grand estates and houses who commissioned famous architects and who embarked upon elaborate architectural schemes Hidden Patrons dismantles this myth revealing instead that women were at the heart of the architectural patronage of the day exerting far more influence and agency than has previously been recognised Architectural drawing and design discourse and patronage were interests shared by many women in the eighteenth century Far from being the preserve of elite men architecture was a passion shared by both sexes intellectually and practically as long as they possessed sufficient wealth and autonomy In an accessible readable account Hidden Patrons uncovers the role of women as important patrons and designers of architecture and interiors in eighteenth century Britain and Ireland Exploring country houses Georgian townhouses villas estates and gardens it analyses female patronage from across the architectural spectrum and examines the work of a range of pioneering women from grand duchesses to businesswomen to lowly courtesans Re-examining well known Georgian masterpieces alongside lesser known architectural gems Hidden Patrons unearths unseen archival material to provide a fascinating new view of the role of women in the architecture of the Georgian era Two Acres of Irish History Eamon Phoenix, 2000-03-31 Friar's Bush is Belfast's oldest Christian Site The quality of ancient mystery surrounding this old walled graveyard at Stranmillis has long fascinated historians There is a tradition of a link with St Patrick and strong evidence of a medieval friary on the site it also served as a penal refuge for the local Catholic community up to 1769 Indeed in its manifold historical associations and monuments Friar's Bush reflects the landmarks in local Ulster and Irish history throughout the ages from the Penal Era to the Irish Volunteers from the Catholic Emancipation to the Great Famine and from the growth of Belfast to the First World War This book has been designed specifically to meet the requirements of the Local Study component of the Northern Ireland History Curriculum at Key Stage 3 It traces the exciting story of Friar's Bush and Belfast from the rich store of evidence available artifacts maps letters newspaper reports ballads and even paintings A major focus is the transition from Penal Era to Golden Age in Belfast as symbolised by the opening of Old St Mary's in 1784 Familia 1992 Kenneth Darwin, 1992-12 Familia which was first published in 1985 aims to provide informed writing on sources and case studies relating to that area where Irish history and genealogy overlap with mutual benefit Members of the Foundation's Guild receive Familia and the Directory of Irish Family History Research as part of the return on their annual subscription Lynn/Linn Lineage Quarterly, 1995 A Genealogist's Guide to Discovering Your Irish Ancestors Dwight A.
