Families And Cultural Diversity In Australia:

Families and Cultural Diversity in Australia Robyn Hartley, 1995-01-01 Guide to the family values and practices of major ethnic groups in Australia Families Across Frontiers Nigel Lowe, Gillian Douglas, 2023-07-10 Comprising 56 of the papers originally presented at the highly successful 8th World Conference of the International Society of Family held in Cardiff UK Families Across Frontiers provides a unique and invaluable global insight into how both the international community and individual states are attempting to deal with problems and issues raised by families crossing political and cultural frontiers The book offers detailed consideration of many of the major international instruments affecting the family such as the UN Convention on the Rights of the Child the European Convention on Human Rights the UN Convention on the Elimination of Discrimination Against Women the Geneva Convention Relating to the Status of Refugees the Hague Convention on Inter Country Abduction the Hague and European Convention on International Child Abduction the Hague Convention on Recognition and Enforcement of Maintenance Obligation and on The Law Applicable to Maintenance Obligations and on the Inter American Convention Support Obligations Written by experts from 20 different nations this book provides indispensable reading for those wishing to enhance their understanding of the increasingly important international dimension of family law Islamic Family Law in Australia Ghena Krayem, 2014-02-03 In recent years all over the western world a conversation has begun about the role of Islamic law or Shariah in secular liberal democratic states Often this has focused on the area of family law including matters of marriage and divorce Islamic Family Law in Australia considers this often controversial issue through the lens of multiculturalism and legal pluralism Primarily its main objective is to clarify the arguments that have been made recently In both Australia and overseas debates have occurred which have been both controversial and divisive but have rarely been informed by any detailed analysis of how Muslim communities in these countries are actually dealing with family law issues Islamic Family Law in Australia responds to this need for accurate information by presenting the findings of the first empirical study exploring how Australian Muslims resolve their family law matters Through the words of religious and community leaders as well as ordinary Australian Muslims the book questions the assumption that accommodating the needs of Australian Muslims requires the establishment of a separate and parallel legal system Islamic Studies Series Volume 16 Family Dispute Resolution from a Cultural Perspective Buol Garang Anyieth Juuk, 2023-07-26 Family dispute resolution is the central theme of this book The book contributes to the growing body of research on non Australian perspectives of South Sudanese settlement in Australia in a unique way while other researchers have highlighted several of the settlement problems faced by South Sudanese former refugees none have focused on the important issue of how family law problems are resolved This book will also make a vital contribution to our understanding of how the Australian legal system works or does not work within the context of legal pluralism Ultimately this book will strengthen our understanding of social integration and family well being of South Sudanese families and other groups in Australia Multigenerational Family Living Edgar Liu, Hazel Easthope, 2016-11-03 Multigenerational living where more than one generation of related adults cohabit in the same dwelling is recognized as a common arrangement amongst many Asian Middle Eastern and Southern European cultures but this arrangement is becoming increasingly familiar in many Western societies Much Western research on multigenerational households has highlighted young adults delayed first home leaving the result of difficult economic prospects and the prolonged adolescence of generation Y This book shows that the causes and results of this phenomenon are more complex The book sheds fresh light on a range of structural and social drivers that have led multigenerational families to cohabit and the ways in which families negotiate the dynamic interactions amongst these drivers in their everyday lives It critically examines factors such as demographics the environment culture and family considerations of identity health care and well being revealing how such factors reflect and are reflected by a retracting welfare state and changing understandings of families in an increasingly mobile world Based on a series of qualitative and quantitative research projects conducted in Australia the book provides an interdisciplinary examination of intergenerational cohabitation that explores a variety of concerns and experiences It will appeal to scholars across the social sciences with interests in housing demographics and the sociology of the family Mixed Race Identities in Australia, New Zealand and the Pacific Islands Farida Fozdar, Kirsten McGavin, 2016-12-08 This volume offers a southern Pacific Ocean perspective on the topic of racial hybridity exploring it through a series of case studies from around the Australo Pacific region a region unique as a result of its very particular colonial histories Focusing on the interaction between race and culture especially in terms of visibility and self defined identity and the particular characteristics of political cultural and social formations in the countries of this region the book explores the complexity of the lived mixed race experience the structural forces of particular colonial and post colonial environments and political regimes and historical influences on contemporary identities and cultural expressions of mixed ness Intergenerational Ethnic Identity Construction and Transmission among Italian-Australians Simone Marino, 2020-07-02 This book focuses on the transmission of ethnic identity across three generations of Italian Australians specifically Italian Australians of Calabrian descent in the Adelaide region of Australia Simone Marino analyzes ethnographic data collected over a three year period to consider individual familial and community cultural practices as well as societal influences on ethnic identity transmission in order to present generational differences in the understandings of Italian Australian identity Among other factors the role of community events community networks and cultural practices associated with being Italian Australian are examined The transmission of ethnic identity is analysed through the lens of sociological theories including Sayad s concept of double absence and Bourdieu s ideas of habitus and cultural capital and is considered at the macro meso and micro spheres of social life Ultimately Marino s study reveals clear generational differences amongst Italian Australians the first generation those who arrived from Italy manifest a condition of feeling absent the second generation present a condition of in between ness between the world of their immigrant parents and that of Australians and the third generation experience a sense of ethnic revival

Multicultural Family Art Therapy Christine Kerr, 2014-12-17 How does the family art therapist understand the complexities of another's cultural diversity? What are international family therapists' perspectives on treatment? These questions and more are explored in Multicultural Family Art Therapy, a text that demonstrates how to practice psychotherapy within an ethnocultural and empathetic context. Each international author presents their clinical perspective and cultural family therapy narrative, thereby giving readers the structural framework they need to work successfully with clients with diverse ethnic backgrounds different from their own. A wide range of international contributors provide their perspectives on visual symbols and content from America, Canada, Britain, Ireland, Australia, Israel, Russia, Singapore, Taiwan, Japan, Korea, Trinidad, Central America, and Brazil. They also address a diversity of theoretical orientations including attachment solution, focused narrative, parent-child, and brief art therapy, and write about issues such as indigenous populations, immigration, acculturation, identity formation, and cultural isolation. At the core of this new text is the realization that family art therapy should address not only the diversity of theory but also the diversity of international practice.

The Multi-Cultural Family Ann Laquer Estin, 2017-03-02 With the accelerating movement of individuals and families across national borders, the intersections of cultural and legal frameworks have become increasingly complex. The Multi-Cultural Family collects essays from around the world on the challenges of legal pluralism, minority religious communities, and customary or indigenous law, with attention paid to marriage and divorce as well as child custody and adoption, family violence, and dispute resolution.

Handbook of Family Policies Across the Globe Mihaela Robila, 2013-06-19 Family policy holds a particular status in the quest for a more equitable world as it intersects the rights of women, children, and workers. But despite local and global efforts and initiatives, the state of family policy in different areas of the world varies widely. Through a cross-section of countries on six continents, Family Policies Across the Globe offers the current state of the laws concerning family life, structure, and services, providing historical, cultural, and socioeconomic context. Lucidly written chapters analyze key aspects of family definition, marriage, child well-being, work-family balance, and family assistance, reviewing underlying social issues and controversies as they exist in each country. Details of challenges to implementation and methods of evaluating policy outcomes bring practical realities into sharp focus, and each chapter concludes with recommendations for improvement at the research, service, and governmental levels. The result is an important comparative look at how governments support families and how societies perceive themselves as they evolve. Among the issues covered: Sierra Leone's toward sustainable family policies; Russia's folkways versus state ways; Japan's policy responses to a declining population; Australia's reform, revolutions, and lingering effects; Canada's patchwork policy; Colombia's focus on policies for vulnerable families. Researchers, professors, and graduate students in the fields of social policy, child and family studies, psychology, sociology, and social work will find in Family Policies Across the Globe a reference that will grow in importance as world events continue to develop.
