Mothering, Mixed Families and Racialised Boundaries Ravinder Barn, Vicki Harman, 2015-09-04 This pioneering volume draws together theoretical and empirical contributions analyzing the experiences of white mothers in interracial families in Britain Canada and the USA The growth of the mixed race population reflects an increasingly racially and culturally heterogeneous society shaped by powerful forces of globalisation and migration Mixed family formations are becoming increasingly common through marriage relationships and adoption and there is also increasing social recognition of interracial families through the inclusion of mixed categories in Census data and other official statistics The changing demographic make up of Britain and other Western countries raises important questions about identity belonging and the changing nature of family life It also connects with theoretical and empirical discussions about the significance of race in contemporary society In exploring mothering across racialised boundaries this volume offers new insights and perspectives The notion of racialisation is invoked to argue that while the notion of race does not exist in any meaningful sense it continues to operate as a social process This crucial resource will appeal to academics researchers policy makers practitioners and undergraduate and postgraduate students This book was originally published as a special issue of Ethnic and Racial Studies

Handbook of Marriage and the Family Marvin B. Sussman, Suzanne K. Steinmetz, Gary W. Peterson, 2013-06-29 To know where we are going as scholars educators and practitioners in the field of marriage and family life we first need to know where we have been A perusal of early texts on marriage and family life provides some thought provoking insights into the accuracy of the saying what goes around comes around It is interesting to note who has been considered to be in a position to provide information on marriage and family life Included in the eclectic collection of texts we reviewed were ministers whose focus was on spirituality doctors who emphasized medical aspects of child and adult health and public health professionals and home economists concerned with fighting disease who emphasized cleanliness order fighting germs and eliminating rodents and insects There are also philosophers who drew from ancient texts when discussing family life and a count who assembled a group of German intellectual elites to address various topics An insightful essay of this type is by Marta Karlweis 1926 in which she notes There is no other fetish that society holds to so firmly as the conception woman with all its usual associations of infantilism and dependence The child requires protection is a minor and consequently a serf but above all it possesses no spiritual existence Neither doctorates or other distinctions nor the right to vote have as yet been able to dispel this sweet idea of the childishness of woman which man cherishes p

Fearful Symmetry - The Fall and Rise of Canada's Founding Values Brian Lee Crowley,2013-07-27 In the 1960s Canada began a seismic shift away from the core policies and values upon which the country had been built A nation of makers transformed itself into a nation of takers Crowley argues that the time has come for the pendulum to swing back back to a time when Canadians were less willing to rely on the state for support when people went where the work was rather than waiting for the work to come to them Thought provoking meticulously detailed and ultimately polarizing Fearful Symmetry is required reading for anyone who is interested in where this country began where it s been and where it s going citizenship The book answers these questions by analyzing the interplay between issues of security citizenship and rights from the perspectives of migrants and policymakers but also from actors who negotiate encounters with the state such as lawyers non governmental organizations and translators

Women and Property Renee Hirschon, 2023-07-21 First published in 1984 Women and Property studies the idea of wealth and property in relation to women in diverse countries It attempts a definition of the term property itself and goes on to look at the relationships and rights associated with these various kinds of property The authors assess the effects of wider economic forces and State intervention indicating the changing contexts in which these systems are set today In some cases life cycle markers such as marriage divorce and widowhood are critical and in many cases it is the organisation of the household residential patterns and kinship rights which are seen to structure the relationships of women men and property Ideological constructs regarding female sexuality and also those in which women and children may be conceptualised as objects are considered in detail Surprisingly little attention has been paid to the significance of property as a critical factor affecting the position of women in society and the original papers presented here provide new dimensions for a neglected area of feminist debate This book will be of interest to students of sociology political science law and gender studies

Handbook of Marriage and the Family Suzanne K. Steinmetz, Marvin B. Sussman, 2013-11-11 The lucid straightforward Preface of this Handbook by the two editors and the comprehensive perspectives offered in the Introduction by one of them leave little for a Foreword to add It is therefore limited to two relevant but not intrinsically related points vis a vis research on marriage and the family in the interval since the first Handbook Christensen 1964 appeared namely the impact on this research of the politicization of the New Right and of the Feminist Enlightenment beginning in the mid sixties about the time of the first Handbook In the late

1930s Willard Waller noted Fifty years or more ago about 1890 most people had the greatest respect for the institution called the family and wished to learn nothing whatever about it Everything that concerned the life of men and women and their children was shrouded from the light Today much of that has been changed Gone is the concealment of the way in which life begins gone the irrational sanctity of the home The aura of sentiment which once protected the family from discussion clings to it no more We want to learn as much about it as we can and to understand it as thoroughly as possible for there is a rising recognition in America that vast numbers of its families are sick from internal frustrations and from external buffeting We are engaged in the process of reconstructing our family institutions through criticism and discussion 1938 pp 3 4
