Rollan McCleary, 2017-07-28 Gay spirituality represents a hidden strand in Western thought that was only publically declared from the Gay Liberation of the 1970s Since coming out expressions of gay spirituality have proliferated in both number and diversity Beginning with gay theology within Christianity the phenomenon has now reached as far as Buddhism and neo paganism But so far critical analysis of the movement has been very limited largely because gay spirituality has been treated as a political and social movement arguing for rights and acceptance within religious circles A Special Illumination offers an indepth analysis and argues that gay spirituality should be placed at the heart of religion Loss Within Loss Edmund White, 2001 A moving collaboration by some of America s most eloquent writers who supply wry raging sorrowful and buoyant accounts of artist friends and lovers struck down by AIDS Published in association with the Estate Project for Artists with AIDS the 23 essays stand as a powerful reminder and survey of the devastating impact of the AIDS epidemic on the arts community The book also contains biographies of the subjects and the authors as well as many bandw photographs Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR Emergent U.S. Literatures Cyrus Patell, 2014-11-07 Emergent U S Literatures introduces readers to the foundational writers and texts produced by four literary traditions associated with late twentieth century US multiculturalism Examining writing by Native Americans Hispanic Americans Asian Americans and gay and lesbian Americans after 1968 Cyrus R K Patell compares and historicizes what might be characterized as the minority literatures within U S minority literature Drawing on recent theories of cosmopolitanism Patell presents methods for mapping the overlapping concerns of the texts and authors of these literatures during the late twentieth century He discusses the ways in which literary marginalization and cultural hybridity combine to create the grounds for literature that is truly emergent in Raymond Williams s sense of the term literature that produces new meanings and values new practices new relationships and kinds of relationships in tension with the dominant mainstream culture of the United States By enabling us to see the American literary canon through the prism of hybrid identities and cultures these texts require us to reevaluate what it means to write and read in the American grain Emergent U S Literatures gives readers a sense of how these foundational texts work as aesthetic objects rather than merely as sociological documents crafted in dialogue with the canonical tradition of so called American Literature as it existed in the late twentieth century as well as in dialogue with each other Gay Male Fiction Since Stonewall Les Brookes, 2008-09-22 The conflict between assimilationism and radicalism that has riven gay culture since Stonewall became highly visible in the 1990s with the emergence and challenge of queer theory and politics The conflict predates Stonewall however indeed Jonathan Dollimore describes it as one of the most fundamental antagonisms within sexual dissidence over the past century By focusing on fiction by Edmund White Andrew Holleran David Leavitt Michael Cunningham Alan Hollinghurst Dennis Cooper Adam Mars Jones and others Brookes argues that gay fiction is torn between assimilative and radical impulses He posits the existence of two distinct strands of gay fiction but also aims to show the conflict as an internal one a struggle in which opposing impulses are at work within individual texts This book places post Stonewall gay fiction in context by linking it to theoretical and historical developments since the late nineteenth century and tracing the conflict back to the fiction of Wilde Forster Genet Vidal Burroughs and Isherwood Other relevant topics discussed include gay fiction of the 1970s gays and the family sexual transgression gay fiction and the AIDS epidemic

Claiming a Tradition Mary Jo Bona, 1999 Mary Jo Bona reconstructs the literary history and examines the narrative techniques of eight Italian American women's novels from 1940 to the present Largely neglected until recently these women's family narratives compel a reconsideration of what it means to be a woman and an ethnic in America Bona discusses the novels in pairs according to their focus on Italian American life She first examines the traditions of Italianity a flavor of things Italian that inform and enhance works of fiction The novelists in that tradition were Mari Tomasi Like Lesser Gods 1949 and Marion Benasutti No Steady Job for Papa 1966 Bona then turns to later novels that highlight the Italian American belief in the family's honor and reputation Conflicts between generations specifically between autocratic fathers and their children are central to Octavia Waldo's 1961 A Cup of the Sun and Josephine Gattuso Hendin's 1988 The Right Thing to Do Even when writers choose to steer away from the familial focus Bona notes their developmental narratives trace the reintegration of characters suffering from a crisis of cultural identity Relating the characters' struggles to their relationship to the family Bona examines Diana Cavallo's 1961 A Bridge of Leaves and Dorothy Bryant's 1978 Miss Giardino Bona then discusses two innovative novels Helen Barolini's 1979 Umbertina and Tina De Rosa's 1980 Paper Fish both of which feature a granddaughter who invokes her grandmother a godparent figure Through Barolini's feminist and De Rosa's modernist perspectives both novels present a young girl developing artistically Closing with a discussion of the contemporary terrain Italian American women traverse Bona examines such topics as sexual identity when it meets cultural identity and the inclusion of Italianity when Italian American identity is not central to the story Italian American women writers she concludes continue in the 1980s and 1990s to focus on the interplay between cultural identity and women's development

Queering the Middle Ages Glenn Burger, Steven F. Kruger, 2001 The essays in this volume present new work that in one way or another queers stabilized conceptions of the Middle Ages allowing us to see the period and its systems of sexuality in radically different off center and revealing ways While not denying the force of gender and sexual norms the authors consider how historical work has written out or over what might have been non normative in medieval sex and culture and they work to restore a sense of such instabilities At the same time they ask how this pursuit might allow us not only to re envision medieval studies but also to rethink how we study culture from our current set of vantage points within postmodernity The authors focus on particular medieval moments Christine de Pizan's representation of female sexuality chastity in the Grail romances the illustration of the sodomite in manuscript commentaries on Dante's Commedia the complex ways that sexuality inflected English national politics at the time of Edward II's deposition the construction of the sodomitic Moor by Reconquista Spain Throughout their work seeks to disturb a logic that sees the past as significant only insofar as it may make sense for and of a stabilized present
