Gielen, Juris G. Draguns, Jefferson M. Fish, 2008-06-19 In an era of globalization characterized by widespread migration and cultural contacts psychologists counselors and other mental health professionals face a unique challenge how does one practice successfully when working with clients from so many different backgrounds Gielen Draguns and Fish argue that an understanding of the general principles of multicultural counseling is of great importance to all

practitioners The lack of this knowledge can have several negative consequences during therapy including differences in expectations between counselor and client misdiagnosis of the client's concerns missed non verbal cues and the client feeling that she has been misunderstood This volume focuses on the general nature of cultural influences in counseling rather than on counseling specific ethnic groups Counseling practices from all over the world not just those of Western society are explored Bringing together the work of a diverse group of international experts the editors have compiled a volume that is not only concise and teachable but also an essential guidebook for all mental health professionals Mirrors and Reflections Charlotte Burck, Gwyn Daniel, 2018-05-08 In this volume as the title indicates the focus is on understanding and elaborating what might be said to be going on in supervision as well as further exploring what is distinctive about systemic supervision Looking at processes within systemic supervision involves engaging with the different contexts within which the supervision takes place and engaging with a range of theories some developed or applied within therapeutic contexts and others drawn from theories of learning Various theoretical frameworks have emerged and been described as underpinnings for systemic supervision Social constructionist and narrative ideas have been vital in the creation of supervisory practices that promote open dialogues multiple perspectives and the interrogation of traditional assumptions about expertise and hierarchy This has inevitably led to a discussion of tensions and contradictions unease about implicit practices of power the problematics of assessment and evaluation and issues concerning the allocation of clinical responsibility Positioning theory dialogic theories and ideas from the field of adult education have also contributed helpful theoretical concepts for use by systemic supervisors
