Family Welfare Gender Property And Inheritance Since The Seventeenth Century:

Family Welfare ,2004 Family Welfare David R. Green,Alastair Owens,2004-06-30 The history of welfare provision has generally focused on the rise of the so called welfare state and institutional provision for the poor This work widens our understanding of welfare by focusing not on the poor but on those who have some wealth This book offers an exciting new approach to the history of welfare by focusing attention on the complex range of sources of support drawn on to meet family needs

Gender Inequalities, Households and the Production of Well-Being in Modern Europe Tindara Addabbo,Marie-Pierre Arrizabalaga,Alastair Owens,2016-04-22 Feminist scholars have long pointed out the relevance of the unpaid work that goes on within European households in sustaining the well being of the continent s populations However care work and domestic labour continue to be largely unremunerated and unequally distributed by gender This unique volume of interdisciplinary essays casts new light on the roles that households play in securing the well being of individuals and families uncovering the processes of bargaining and accommodation and conflict and compromise that underpin them Contributors put gender at the centre of their analyses demonstrating the uneven experiences of men and women as both providers and receivers of welfare in European households in both the past and the present As European states grapple with changing family forms a growing population of dependent people increased participation of women in labour markets and a profound shift in the nature and organisation of work this book makes a timely contribution to our understanding of the critical role played by households in mediating processes of economic and social change It offers new challenges to scholars researchers and policy makers eager to address gender inequalities and enhance well being This book is the second of four volumes being published as part of Ashgate s Gender and Well Being series that arise from a programme of international symposia funded by the European Science Foundation under the auspices of COST European Cooperation in the field of Scientific and Technical Research

Women and Family Property Beatrice Moring,2024-02-01 This book examines property legislation and the actual position of women in receiving holding and passing on family property as daughters wives and as widows throughout history Traditionally the prevailing view has been that women have been disadvantaged in the distribution of property and therefore less interesting as objects of study This volume challenges this view and explores the securing of property for families or for individuals through transfers in the shape of dowries marriage contracts wills and other arrangements as well as how women used and distributed the property they were holding The scope of the volume is both urban and rural analysing the position of women in relation to family property through contributions from a wide geographic area The chapters investigate the situation in southern and northern Europe across the Atlantic and Africa throughout the 18th to the 20th century This volume will be of value to academics undergraduates postgraduates and scholars interested in gender and history and social history

The Appeal of Insurance Geoffrey Wilson Clark, Christiane Thomann, 2010-01-01 The Appeal of Insurance is an excellent collection that reflects a growing interest in insurance research within the social sciences Clearly written and accessible to a variety of audiences this is a volume of world class scholarship Luis Lobo Guerrero School of Politics International Relations and Philosophy Keele University In the marketing of its products the insurance industry has always depended on a considerable dose of moral exhortation and enlightened appeal The Appeal of Insurance traces the ways in which insurance over the past three centuries perhaps more than any other business has grown in concert with a clientele largely of its own making Faced with a public that has preferred to avoid confronting the certainty of fatality or the probabilities of catastrophe insurance promoters have had to create a demand for their products first by persuading the public to see the world as ruled less by divine judgments and more by statistical patterns and second by proclaiming a moral imperative of hedging against death and disaster by the prudential recourse to insurance The essays presented here examine the history of insurance as a process of negotiation between the embedded social legal and cultural norms out of which the practice of insurance grew and the new arrangements and sensibilities that insurance itself helped bring into being Today insurance is a global economic colossus and a fixture in the developed countries of the world But neither the financial clout of the insurance industry nor its ubiquity conveys the full measure of its social and political influence The insurance industry has in fact become a primary agent of discipline and control over public and private behaviours by imposing upon them the criterion of insurability By tracing the boundaries of acceptable and compensated from unacceptable and uncompensated risk insurers directly or indirectly govern people products and markets and by this process become one of the most powerful and pervasive agents of social and economic control Geoffrey Clark is a professor in the Department of History at the State University of New York at Potsdam Gregory Anderson is the former Associate Head of the Business School at the University of Salford Christian Thomann is a senior fellow at the Centre for Risk and Insurance at Leibniz University Hanover J Matthias Graf Von Der Schulenburg is the Director of the Centre for Risk and Insurance at Leibniz University Hanover

Constitutionalism, Legitimacy, and Power Kelly L. Grotke, Markus Josef

Prutsch,2014 If one counts the production of constitutional documents alone the nineteenth century can lay claim to being a constitutional age one in which the generation and reception of constitutional texts served as a centre of gravity around which law and politics consistently revolved This volume critically re examines the role of constitutionalism in that period in order to counter established teleological narratives that imply a consistent development from absolutism towards inclusive participatory democracy Credit Networks in The Preindustrial World Elise M. Dermineur,Matteo

Pompermaier,2024-11-06 This open access book examines the formation and sustainability of private credit networks in past societies gathering a global range of case studies from Europe and the Americas The book represents a first attempt to coordinate the work of different scholars working on credit networks and aims to explore the possibilities offered by social network analysis for the study of past financial markets and networks Each contribution offers new perspectives for the comprehension of past financial networks with a broad chronological and geographical scope The chapters are arranged thematically and study both rural and urban networks each employing a network perspective to facilitate an increased understanding of the relational dynamics of preindustrial credit transactions This book models the various ways that SNA can be utilized by economic and financial historians as well as discusses its limitations and ways in which it can be combined with qualitative archival research The book is of interest to a broad audience of scholars in the fields of economic financial and social history Women and Their Money 1700-1950 Anne Laurence,Josephine Maltby,Janette

Rutterford,2008-11-20 This volume explores the activities of women as investors and managers of wealth across the globe from the early 18th century to the mid 20th century Gender and Well-Being in Europe Lina Gálvez,2016-04-22 This book is the first of four books based on a series of symposia funded by COST which is an intergovernmental framework for the promotion of European Cooperation in the field of Scientific and Technical Research It draws on both historical and contemporary European case studies to offer a sophisticated account of the relationship between gender and well being The authors focus on key discussions of the changing conceptions of well being from early twentieth century calculations of the relationship between income and the cost of living to more recent critiques from feminist writers Their fascinating answers allow them to significantly challenge the issue with the idea that well being is not only associated with income or opulence but also relates to more abstract concepts including capabilities freedom and agency of different women and men and will be of considerable interest to economic and social historians sociologists of health gender sexuality and economists

Uncovering Labour in Information Revolutions, 1750-2000: Volume 11 Aad Blok,Greg Downey,2003-12-15 Discussion of the current Information Revolution tends to focus on technological developments in information and communication and overlooks both the human labour involved in the development maintenance and daily use of information and communication technologies ICTs and the consequences of the implementation of these ICTs for the position and divisions of labour This volume aims to redress this imbalance by exploring the role position and divisions of information and communication labour in the broadest sense through periods of revolutionary technological change Someday All This Will Be Yours Hendrik Hartog,2012-01-15 Hartog tells the heartbreaking stories of how families fought over the work of caring for the elderly and its compensation in a time before pensions Social Security and nursing homes filled this gap As an explosive economy drew the young away from home we see how the elderly used promises of inheritance to keep children at their side Domestic Secrets Maria Ågren,2009 Between the seventeenth and nineteenth centuries women s role in the Swedish economy was renegotiated and reconceptualized Maria Agren chronicles changes in married women s property rights revealing the story of Swedish women s property as not just a s Winthrop Rockefeller John A. Kirk,2022-03-04 Why did Winthrop Rockefeller the scion of one of the most powerful families in American history move to a mountaintop in Arkansas from New York in the 1950s In this richly researched biography of the former Arkansas governor John A Kirk delves into the historical record to fully unravel that mystery From Body to Community Cristian Berco,2016-04-06 Known in early modern Europe by many names the French Disease the Bubas and eventually syphilis the Great Pox was a chronic disease that carried the stigma of sexuality and produced a slow and painful death The main institution which treated it the pox hospital has come down to us as a stench filled and overcrowded place that sought to treat the body and reform the soul Using the sole surviving admissions book for Toledo Spain s Hospital de Santiago Cristian Berco reconstructs the lives of men and women afflicted with the pox by tracing their experiences before during and after their hospitalization Through an innovative combination of medical institutional and notarial sources he explores the physical and social lives of the patients What were the social repercussions of living with a shameful disease What did living with this chronic illness mean for careers and networks love and families and everyday relationships From Body to Community is a textured analysis at once touched by the illness but not solely defined by it Gender in Transition Ulrike Gleixner,Marion W. Gray,2006 The historical influence of gender on German society and change The Routledge History of Women in Early Modern Europe Amanda L. Capern,2019-10-30 The Routledge History of Women in Early Modern Europe is a comprehensive and ground breaking survey of the lives of women in early modern Europe between 1450 and 1750 Covering a period of dramatic political and cultural change the book challenges the current contours and chronologies of European history by observing them through the lens of female experience The collaborative research of this book covers four themes the affective world practical knowledge for life politics and religion arts science and humanities These themes are interwoven through the chapters which encompass all areas of women s lives sexuality emotions health and wellbeing educational attainment litigation and the practical and leisured application of knowledge skills and artistry from medicine to theology The intellectual lives of women through reading and writing and their spirituality and engagement with the material world are also explored So too is the sheer energy of female work including farming and manufacture skilled craft and artwork theatrical work and scientific enquiry The Routledge History of Women in Early Modern Europe revises the chronological and ideological parameters of early modern European history by opening the reader's eyes to an exciting age of female productivity, social engagement and political activism across European and transatlantic boundaries. It is essential reading for students and researchers of early modern history, the history of women and gender studies.

Female Economic Strategies in the Modern World Beatrice Moring, 2015-10-06. This collection of essays looks at the various ways in which women have coped financially in a male-dominated world. Chapters focus on Europe and Latin America and cover the whole of the modern period.

The Stem Family in Eurasian Perspective Antoinette Fauve-Chamoux, Emiko Ochiai, 2009. Is the Asian stem family different from its European counterpart? This question is a central issue in this collection of essays assembled by two historians of the family in Eurasian perspective. The stem family is characterized by the residential rule that only one married child remains with the parents. This rule has a direct effect upon household structure. In short, the stem family is a domestic unit of production and reproduction that persists over generations, handing down the patrimony through non-egalitarian inheritance. In spite of its ambiguous status in current family typology as something lurking in the valley between the nuclear family and the joint family, the stem family was an important family form in pre-industrial Western Europe and has been a focus of the European family history since Frédéric Le Play and more recently Peter Laslett. However, the encounter with Asian family history has revealed that many areas in Asia also had and still have a considerable proportion of households with a stem family structure. The stem family debate has entered a new stage. In this book, some studies that benefited from recently created large databases present micro-level analyses of dynamic aspects of family systems, while others discuss more broadly the rise and fall of family systems past and present. A main concern of this book is whether the family type in a society is ethno-culturally determined and resistant to changes or created by socio-economic conditions. Such a comparison that includes Asian countries activates a new phase of the discussion on the stem family and family systems in a global perspective.

Charity and Mutual Aid in Europe and North America since 1800 Bernard Harris, Paul Bridgen, 2012-04-06. International in perspective, the essays in this volume are primarily concerned with two facets of the mixed economy of welfare: charity and mutual aid. Emphasizing the close relationship between these two elements and the often-blurred boundaries between each of them and commercial provision, contributors raise crucial questions about the relationship between rights and responsibilities within the mixed economy of welfare and the ties which bind both the donors and recipients of charity and the members of voluntary organisations. The volume critically assesses the relationships between the statutory and voluntary sectors in a variety of national settings, including Britain, the United States, the Netherlands, Sweden, Norway, Canada and Germany during the last two hundred and fifty years, making the book as topical as it is significant.
