Family Business In Tourism And Hospitality:

The Family Business in Tourism and Hospitality Donald Getz, Jack Carlsen, Alison Morrison, 2004-04-16 The family business is a global phenomenon and is particularly prominent in tourism and hospitality In many cases the family business was developed for the purpose of facilitating personal and family goals For example in rural areas farmers can use tourism as a way to generate additional income thereby remaining in the area and retaining family property Running a bed and breakfast establishment is a way to mix family and work Lifestyle locational and autonomy motives are the norm but profit and growth oriented entrepreneurs are also found within family businesses This book is the first academic treatment of family business issues within the tourism and hospitality industry It provides comprehensive assessment of ownership management and family related concerns across the entire business and family life cycle Many new international case studies of real family businesses are used to illustrate key points The book will be of significant interest to researchers and students in tourism and hospitality small business and entrepreneurship studies as well as to owners and potential investors in family businesses

Family Businesses in Tourism and Hospitality Marco Valeri, 2023-06-21 This book provides a comprehensive collection of new insights into traditional paradigms approaches and methods as well as more recent developments in issues related to family businesses in tourism and hospitality The aim of the chapters is to verify whether in the tourism industry the family business model is an important development opportunity and in particular if it is an innovation driver for this industry development In this context the authors contribute chapters from a diverse set of countries to investigate personal and family needs and preferences alongside the relationship between family business model growth and profit maximization and the development of tourism businesses through innovation drivers SME competency the impact of COVID 19 on performance and marketing and policy improvements are also discussed in this volume

Perspectives of a family-operated company in the tourism industry. Challenges and chances Alina Fackler, 2018-05-16 Seminar paper from the year 2018 in the subject Business economics Business Management Corporate Governance grade 1 7 University of Applied Sciences Deggendorf language English abstract This paper aims to show the perspectives of a family operated company in tourism as well as to analyze the strengths weaknesses opportunities and threats with the help of the SWOT analysis Family businesses are more widespread in Germany than any other form of business The outstanding importance of this form of enterprise for employment growth and innovative power of the German economy is repeatedly emphasized in the public discussion 90% of companies in Germany belong to this form They generate almost half of the gross domestic product in Europe The success of family businesses not only depends on the overall economic performance but also they determine many other factors that are important to our society sustainability environmental orientation ethics multiculturalism and a strong value oriented attitude One of the most important tasks is therefore to strengthen the sustainability of family businesses and to support their corporate development Well known companies such as Volkswagen BMW and Aldi are also among the top 5 of the 1 000 largest family owned companies in Germany The owners are not necessarily active in the business but for more than 61 percent of the top 1000 companies the owner is also active as a manager or chairperson One of the most striking features of German family businesses is their combination of tradition and innovation The agility and innovation power comes not only from the much vaunted greater flexibility and shorter decision making of family owned businesses They also invest heavily in research and development Also in the tourism industry especially in the hotel sector family businesses play an important role Especially in this industry Family businesses shine with customer proximity and service
