

The background of the top half of the poster is a dark, atmospheric landscape. In the distance, a suspension bridge, resembling the Golden Gate Bridge, is visible against a heavy, greenish-grey sky filled with clouds. The foreground shows dark, silhouetted hills and a body of water with some rocks. The overall color palette is dominated by dark greens, greys, and blacks, creating a somber and mysterious mood.

Cinema of Outsiders Emanuel Levy,1999 The most important development in American culture of the last two decades is the emergence of independent cinema as a viable alternative to Hollywood s safe and innocuous entertainment Indeed while Hollywood studios devote much of their time and energy to churning out big budget star studded event movies a renegade independent cinema that challenges mainstream fare continues to flourish with strong critical support and loyal audiences

Film Noir Bruce Crowther,2011-12-31 With the advent of the Second World War a new mood was discernible in film drama an atmosphere of disillusion and a sense of foreboding a dark quality that derived as much from the characters depicted as from the cinematographer s art These films among them such classics as Double Indemnity The Woman in the Window Touch of Evil and Sunset Boulevard emerged retrospectively as a genre in themselves when a French film critic referred to them collectively as film noir Bruce Crowther looks into noir s literary origins often in the novels of the so called hard boiled school typified by Raymond Chandler Dashiell Hammett and Cornell Woolrich and at how the material translated to the screen noting in particular influences from German expressionist films and the almost indispensable techniques of flashback and voice over narration He also assesses the contribution made by the players by actors such as Robert Mitchum Dick Powell Alan Ladd and John Garfield and actresses such as Barbara Stanwyck Lizabeth Scott Joan Crawford and Gloria Grahame together with a roll call of supporting players whose screen presence could lend almost any film the noir imprimatur Noir was in its heyday from 1945 to 1955 a time when paranoia and disillusion anxiety and violence could be said to have been part of the fabric of American and particularly Hollywood society yet its impact and its influence are with us still in films as diverse as The French Connection Chinatown and Body Heat This Book commemorates a special period in film making and a unique combination of talent resulting in a spectrum of films that are as welcome today on their small screen airings as they were when first shown in cinema
