Sam Winter, 2021-09-22 Chicago Has Fallen Without warning Chicago has gone dark It has been thirty days since electricity has flowed in the city Those who survived have been in hiding for thirty days but now they are hungry The last words Elliot's parents told him were to hide in the attic Then he heard the two gunshots blasts from downstairs Now this sixteen year old boy is in the middle of downtown Chicago without food or water He hides from warring gangs that fill the streets with dead bodies as they collect every scrap of food But something in the night has the gangs terrified The Lord's Chosen leave burnt and mutilated bodies in their wake and they are hunting Elliot Defenseless Elliot dives into an abandoned house for refuge and he stumbles into Kat a fierce woman with a baseball bat Alone the few good hearted people left alive are hunted like animals Evil threatens to shroud the city in permanent darkness if the few good souls don't shine their light Divided they will fall but together even good men and women stand a chance if their courage can hold

The City Lament

Tamar M. Boyadjian, 2018-12-15 Poetic elegies for lost or fallen cities are seemingly as old as cities themselves In the Judeo Christian tradition this genre finds its purest expression in the book of Lamentations which mourns the destruction of Jerusalem in Arabic this genre is known as the ritha al mudun In The City Lament Tamar M Boyadjian traces the trajectory of the genre across the Mediterranean world during the period commonly referred to as the early Crusades 1095 1191 focusing on elegies and other expressions of loss that address the spiritual and strategic objective of those wars Jerusalem Through readings of city laments in English French Latin Arabic and Armenian literary traditions Boyadjian challenges hegemonic and entrenched approaches to the study of medieval literature and the Crusades The City Lament exposes significant literary intersections between Latin Christendom the Islamic caliphates of the Middle East and the Armenian kingdom of Cilicia arguing for shared poetic and rhetorical modes Reframing our understanding of literary sources produced across the medieval Mediterranean from an antagonistic orientalist model to an analogous one Boyadjian demonstrates how lamentations about the loss of Jerusalem whether to Muslim or Christian forces reveal fascinating parallels and rich cross cultural exchanges

City of Sedition John Strausbaugh,2016-08-02 In a single definitive narrative City of Sedition tells the spellbinding story of the huge and hugely conflicted role New York City played in the Civil War No city was more of a help to Abraham Lincoln and the Union war effort or more of a hindrance No city raised more men money and materiel for the war and no city raised more hell against it It was a city of patriots war heroes and abolitionists but simultaneously a city of antiwar protest draft resistance and sedition Without his New York supporters it s highly unlikely Lincoln would have made it to the White House Yet because of the city s vital and intimate business ties to the Cotton South the majority of New Yorkers never voted for him and were openly hostile to him and his politics Throughout the war New York City was a nest of antiwar Copperheads and a haven for deserters and draft dodgers New Yorkers would react to Lincoln s wartime policies with the deadliest rioting in American history The city s political leaders would create a bureaucracy solely devoted to helping New Yorkers evade service in Lincoln's army Rampant war profiteering would create an entirely new class of New York millionaires the shoddy aristocracy New York newspapers would be among the most vilely racist and vehemently antiwar in the country Some editors would call on their readers to revolt and commit treason a few New Yorkers would answer that call They would assist Confederate terrorists in an attempt to burn their own city down and collude with Lincoln's assassin Here in City of Sedition a gallery of fascinating New Yorkers comes to life the likes of Horace Greeley Walt Whitman Julia Ward Howe Boss Tweed Thomas Nast Matthew Brady and Herman Melville This book follows the fortunes of these figures and chronicles how many New Yorkers seized the opportunities the conflict presented to amass capital create new industries and expand their markets laying the foundation for the city's and the nation's growth WINNER OF THE FLETCHER PRATT AWARD FOR BEST NON FICTION BOOK Pacific Rim Modernisms Mary Ann Gillies,Helen Sword,Steven G.

Yao,2009-01-01 Pacific Rim Modernisms explores the complex ways that writers artists and intellectuals of the Pacific Rim have contributed to modernist culture literature and identity Geopolitical Shakespeare Erica Sheen,2024-03-13 Geopolitical Shakespeare Western Entanglements from Internationalism to Cold War examines the entanglement of Shakespearean culture in the geopolitical dynamics of the post war West Taking its cue from a speech given by Albert Einstein in London in 1933 in which Shakespeare is cited as an example of the Western value of personal and intellectual freedom this book explores a series of events between 1945 and 1955 featuring key historical figures scientists international lawyers diplomats and politicians writers actors and filmmakers who experienced the tensions of the early Cold War through Shakespeare or called on him to articulate this new post war world Erica Sheen examines political diplomatic cultural and economic interactions within core Western power relations the USA UK and Europe with particular reference to Germany in which Shakespeare or the idea of Shakespeare was entangled in the struggle for new ideas and social structures The subjects of this book include John Humphrey and the drafting of the Universal Declaration of Human Rights the Nuremberg Trials and the foundation of West Germany Noel Annan and the Berlin Elizabethan Festival an American production of Hamlet in Elsinore Laurence Olivier David Selznick and the Shakespeare film in post war Hollywood Graham Greene and The Third Man and Carl Schmitt and Salvador de Madariaga on Hamlet in post war Europe In each of these case studies Sheen discovers a Shakespeare for our time engaged in contestations of territoriality in cultures of international law and human rights theatre film and literature Radical Pastoral, 1381-1594 Mike Rodman Jones,2016-04-22 From William Langland's Piers Plowman through the highly polemicized literary culture of fifteenth century Lollardy to major Reformation writers such as Simon Fish William Tyndale and John Bale and into the 1590s this book argues for a vital reassessment of our understanding of the literary and cultural modes of the Reformation It argues that the ostensibly revolutionary character of early Protestant literary culture was deeply indebted to medieval satirical writing and indeed can be viewed as a remarkable crystallization of the textual movements and polemical personae of a rich combative tradition of medieval writing which is still at play on the London stage in the age of Marlowe and Shakespeare Beginning with a detailed analysis of Piers Plowman this book traces the continued vivacity of combative satirical personae and self fashionings that took place in an appropriative movement centred on the figure of the medieval labourer The remarkable era of Protestant plowman polemics has too often been dismissed as conventional or ephemeral writing too stylistically separate to be linked to Piers Plowman or held under the purview of historians who have viewed such texts as sources of theological or documentary information rather than as vital literary cultural works in their own right Radical Pastoral 1381 1594 makes a vigorous case for the existence of a highly politicised tradition of polemical pastoral which stretched across the whole of the sixteenth century a tradition that has been largely marginalised by both medievalists and early modernists

Sustainability and the City Lauren Curtright,Doris Bremm,2017-07-28 Sustainability and the City Urban Poetics and Politics contributes to third generation discourse on sustainable development by considering through a humanistic lens theories and practices of sustainability in a wide range of urban cultures It demonstrates cities inextricability from discussions on sustainability because not only is the world urbanizing at an unprecedented rate but also cities are primary locations of the circulation of excess capital socioeconomic divisions and hierarchies political resistance friction between human and non human worlds and the confluence of art policy and identity formation in placemaking With essays by scholars working in a variety of fields from architecture to literature to music to sociology this collection maintains that any hope for achieving urban sustainability will require taking seriously the ways in which cities are imagined Efforts to make cities sustainable must fully incorporate the humanities because critical endeavors and creative expressions that fall within the purview of the humanities are vital to closing the conceptual gulf as well as the practical gap between human and non human conservation Even if the environmental humanities embrace cities critics must ask whether coalescing the terms sustainability and city may actually obstruct human action to combat climate change which from some angles seems impending self imposed apocalypse To examine the urban turn Sustainability and the City attends to culture Essays in the first part of the collection approach urban sustainability from various disciplinary vantage points to emphasize history ideology pedagogy and critical theory The second part of the collection analyzes urban commons on four different continents Finally the collection moves from a diverse set of interpretations of on the ground urban phenomena to a compilation of readings of sustainability in different media and genres sound art drama fiction and film set in or evocative of cities The collection carves out a place for artists and critics to help realize social justice in cities which generate remarkable power but power that is too often and too easily used destructively unfairly and wastefully despite cities unique capacities to inspire and sustain humanity historically been conceived as a project with a sense of duty to be it is the prefiguration of a reality that emerges from the negation of the pre existing city The city anticipates a desired future from an ideal perspective that tends to overcome the existing structural or particular challenges of the present It can be argued that this proposition represents the historical trajectory of urban thought on a planetary scale Therefore the prospective dimension of the city constituted a central dynamic in urban theory throughout history leading to the emergence of planning as a key approach The history of the city as a project is the core of the first volume in this two part contribution It presents an overview of diverse city projects that have been pursued throughout history providing a framework for exploring new perspectives of urban development The cities profiled and analyzed here reflect a living catalog of initiatives that can inform promising directions More than a compilation this volume compares and critically assesses these historical projects to provide a grounding for the contemporary advances presented in the second volume Streetwalking the Metropolis : Women, the City and Modernity Deborah L.

undercurrents of diverse and complex expressions of gender and sexual variance are widely in evidence Undercurrents uncovers a queer media culture that has been largely overlooked by critics in the West and demonstrates the cultural vitality of Hong Kong amidst political transition It will appeal to scholars and general readers interested in Asian studies film and cultural studies and sexuality and gender studies Life on the Bosphorus: Doings in the City of the Sultan William James Joseph Spry,1895 The Xenton Chronicles: The Jenshia Star W.M.
