Falling Leaves Adeline Yen Mah,2001 Adeline Yen Mah s childhood in China during the civil war was a time of fear isolation and humiliation This was not caused by the upheaval of war but by the cruelty she suffered at the hands of members of her own family The moving true story of a young girl s determination to survive the pain of a lonely childhood Chinese

Cinderella Adeline Yen Mah, 2010-09-14 More than 800 000 copies in print From the author of critically acclaimed and bestselling memoir Falling Leaves this is a poignant and moving true account of her childhood growing up as an unloved daughter in 1940s China A Chinese proverb says Falling leaves return to their roots In her own courageous voice Adeline Yen Mah returns to her roots to tell the story of her painful childhood and her ultimate triumph in the face of despair Adeline's affluent powerful family considers her bad luck after her mother dies giving birth to her and life does not get any easier when her father remarries Adeline and her siblings are subjected to the disdain of her stepmother while her stepbrother and stepsister are spoiled with gifts and attention Although Adeline wins prizes at school they are not enough to compensate for what she really yearns for the love and understanding of her family Like the classic Cinderella story this powerful memoir is a moving story of resilience and hope Includes an Author's Note a 6 page photo insert a historical note and the Chinese text of the original Chinese Cinderella A PW BEST BOOK OF THE YEAR AN ALA YALSA BEST BOOK FOR YOUNG ADULTS One of the most inspiring books I have ever read The Guardian The Young Mind Mike Shooter, Sue Bailey, 2010-07-13 Sadly millions of children today are affected by mental health problems almost a doubling of the number of sufferers in just one generation Now in this timely new book mental health experts provide invaluable information and guidance for concerned parents teachers and young adults With chapters covering subjects such as child and adolescent development parenting skills problems at school emotional health and wellbeing The Young Mind also looks specifically at some of the most distressing problems facing young people today including anxiety and stress disorders drugs alcohol self harm and psychosexual development Illustrated and written in a completely accessible style by some of the most distinguished and respected professionals in the field of child and adolescent psychiatry The Young Mind offers a guiding hand and insight into this most vital area of mental health Hegemonic Globalisation Thanh Duong, 2017-11-22 This title was first published in 2002 This innovative work analyses how the United States has laid down the foundations for global power It reassesses and re-evaluates the declinist renewal argument and challenges conventional balance of power theories demonstrating how the United States is attempting to hegemonically globalise the entire international system To evaluate the success of hegemonic globalisation the book analyses four major powers and regions Russia the People's Republic of China PRC the European Union EU and Japan and their historical political economic cultural and geopolitical relations with the United States Each study examines the tangible and intangible sources of their relationship and the possible tensions and resistance towards United States hegemony therein Providing much needed insight and a fresh perspective this book makes a worthwhile contribution to our understanding of contemporary international power Chinese Women Writers in Diaspora Amy Tak-yee Lai, 2009-03-26 The mention of Chinese women writers in diaspora immediately brings to mind Jung Chang's 1952 Wild Swans Three Daughters of China 1991 which won the 1992 NCR book award and the 1993 British Book of the Year Award and got officially banned in China Despite its popular reception and crucial acclaim Chang's work has invited a lot of attacks Among the most common is the contention that it merely focuses on the experience of the privileged and does not tell the reader what other memoirs have not already revealed Chinese Women Writers in Diaspora is a pioneering study that focuses on four Chinese women writers currently living in the United States and England whose works have been popularly received and are in many cases highly controversial but have received little scholarly attention Xinran b 1958 Hong Ying b 1962 Anchee Min b 1957 and Adeline Yen Mah b 1937 The chapters illuminate how Xinran constructs her identity and her fellow Chinese women in dialectics of self and other how Hong Ying evokes cycles of return that blend Western and Chinese philosophical concepts how Min employs images of theatre and theatrical conventions to depict the entrapment and transgression of her protagonists and how Mah transliterates and appropriates both Western and Chinese fairy tale motifs to fashion her Chinese feminist utopia While Jung Chang s memoir seems confining it has aroused interest in the genre of Chinese female autobiography and Chinese women writers who live and write between cultures The Columbia Guide to Asian American Literature Since 1945 Guiyou Huang,2006-08-08 The Columbia Guide to Asian American Literature Since 1945 Beyond the Borders Deborah L. Madsen,2003-08-20 This book challenges the boundaries of postcolonial theory Focusing on American literature it examines how America s own imperial history has shaped the literature that has emerged from America from Native American Latino Black and Asian American writers They contrast this with postcolonial literature from countries whose history has been shaped by American colonialism from Canada Central America and the Caribbean to Hawaii Indonesia and Vietnam It explores questions about national identity and multiculturalism why for instance is a Native writer categorised within American literature if writing on one side of the border but as Canadian and postcolonial if writing on the other This is a challenging collection that raises questions not only about the boundaries of postcolonial theory but also about ethnicity and multiculturalism and the impact of immigration and assimilation Literary Fantasy in Contemporary Chinese Diasporic Women's Literature Fang Tang,2019-12-03 This book explores the use of literary fantasy in the construction of identity and home in contemporary diasporic Chinese women s literature It argues that the use of fantasy acts as a way of undermining the power of patriarchy and unsettling fixed notions of home The idea of home explored in this book relates to complicated struggles to gain a sense of belonging as experienced by marginalized subjects in constructing their diasporic identities which can best be understood as unstable shifting and shaped by historical conditions and power relations Fantasy is seen to operate in the corpus of this book as a literary mode as defined by Rosemary Jackson Literary fantasy offers a way to rework ancient myths fairy tales ghost stories and legends it also subverts conventional narratives and challenges the power of patriarchy and other dominant ideologies Through a critical reading of four diasporic Chinese women authors namely Maxine Hong Kingston Adeline Yen Mah Ying Chen and Larissa Lai this book aims to offer critical insights into how their works re imagine a home through literary fantasy which leads beyond nationalist and Orientalist stereotypes and how essentialist conceptions of diasporic culture are challenged by global geopolitics and cultural interactions      The Unsociable Sociability of Women's Lifewriting A. Collett, L. D'Arcens, 2010-10-27 By investigating women lifewriters complex quest to distinguish themselves both within and from institutions and communities this volume uses Kant's concept of unsociable sociability to formulate a divided sense of self at the heart of women's lifewriting offering a provocative response to the notion of the relational female subject      Autobiographies by Americans of Color, 1995-2000 Deborah Stuhr Iwabuchi, Rebecca Stuhr, 2003 This annotated bibliography covers the years 1995 through 2000 which saw a tremendous output of autobiographical material by Americans of color Publishers released works by prominent civil rights leaders musicians entertainers athletes as well as unsung heroes with the courage to strive for a better life This is the long awaited follow up to the first volume of the Autobiographies by Americans of Color bibliography series      Asian American Autobiographers Guiyou Huang, 2001-05-30 Asian Americans have made many significant contributions to industry science politics and the arts At the same time they have made great sacrifices and endured enormous hardships This reference examines autobiographies and memoirs written by Asian Americans in the twentieth century Included are alphabetically arranged entries on 60 major autobiographers of Asian descent Some of these such as Meena Alexander and Maxine Hong Kingston are known primarily for their writings others such as Daniel K Inouye are known largely for other achievements which they have chronicled in their autobiographies Each entry is written by an expert contributor and provides a reliable account of the autobiographer's life reviews major autobiographical works and themes including fictionalized autobiographies and autobiographical novels presents a meticulously researched account of the critical reception of these works and closes with a bibliography of primary and secondary sources An introductory essay considers the history and development of autobiography in American literature and culture and discusses issues and themes vital to Asian American autobiographies and memoirs such as family diaspora nationhood identity cultural assimilation racial dynamics and the formation of the Asian American literary canon The volume closes with a selected bibliography      Falling Leaves ,      Footbinding and Women's Labor in Sichuan Hill Gates, 2014-12-05 When Chinese women bound their daughters feet many consequences ensued some beyond the imagination of the binders and the bound The most obvious of these consequences was to impress upon a small child's body and mind that girls differed from boys thus reproducing gender hierarchy What is not obvious is why Chinese society should have evolved such a radical method of gender marking Gendering is not simply preparation for reproduction rather its primary significance lies in preparing children for their places in the division of labor of a particular political economy Drawing on extensive fieldwork and interviews with almost 5 000 women this book examines footbinding as Sichuan women remember it from the final years of the empire and the troubled times before the 1949 revolution It focuses on two key questions what motivated parents to maintain this custom and how significant was girls work in China's final pre industrial century In answering these questions Hill Gates shows how footbinding was a form of labor discipline in the first half of the twentieth century in China when it was a key institution in a now much altered political economy Countering the widely held views surrounding the sexual attractiveness of bound feet to Chinese men footbinding as an ethnic boundary marker its role in female hypergamy and its connection to state imperatives this book instead presents a compelling argument that footbinding was in fact a crucial means of disciplining of little girls to lives of early and unremitting labor This vivid and fascinating study will be of huge interest to students and scholars working across a wide range of fields including Chinese history oral history anthropology and gender studies
