Antler on the Sea Anna M. Kerttula, 2000 Antler on the Sea is a fascinating important and near unique study of a threatened culture Colin Thubron author of In Siberia Anna M Kerttula an anthropologist offers a vivid portrayal of life in Sireniki a Siberian village on the Bering Sea Once a traditional Yup ik community it was by the final years of the Soviet Empire home to three cultural groups the Yup ik native hunters of sea mammals the Chukchi nomadic reindeer herders who had been required by the state to turn their animals over to cooperative farms and Russians of European ancestry enticed to the region by incentive programs designed to colonize the Russian Far East Kerttula who lived among the villagers for eighteen months draws on her experiences to explore how each group's beliefs and customs have transformed those of the other two Her book shows the endurance of the indigenous cultures of Far Eastern Russia despite years of intrusion by the Soviet state The author describes in rich detail how the Yup ik the Chukchi and the Russian newcomers developed a sense of cultural difference because of their separate symbolic systems and yet cohered as a community She explains that relations among the groups have become tenuous since the breakup of the Soviet Union and the subsequent collapse of the local economy Kerttula's research provides a unique perspective on today's ethnic rivalries within the former USSR She maintains that these conflicts not always expressions of ancient animosities may be efforts toward mutual understanding during times of economic and social change

Bovids of the World José R. Castelló, 2016-04-12 The most comprehensive guide to the bovids of the world

Bovids are a diverse group of ruminant mammals that have hooves and unbranched hollow horns. Bovids of the World is the first comprehensive field guide to cover all 279 bovid species including antelopes, gazelles, cattle, buffaloes, sheep, and goats. From the hartebeest of Africa and the takin of Asia to the muskox of North America, bovids are among the world's most spectacular animals, and this stunningly illustrated and easy-to-use field guide is an ideal way to learn more about them. The guide covers all species and subspecies of bovids described to date. It features more than 300 superb full-color plates depicting every kind of bovid, as well as detailed facing-page species accounts that describe key identification features, horn morphology, distribution, subspeciation, habitat, and conservation status in the wild. This book also shows where to observe each species and includes helpful distribution maps. Suitable for anyone with an interest in natural history, Bovids of the World is a remarkable and attractive reference showcasing the range and beauty of these important mammals. The first comprehensive field guide to all 279 bovid species. 337 full-color plates with more than 1,500 photographs. Detailed species accounts describe key identification features, distribution, subspeciation, habitat, behavior, reproduction, and conservation status. Fully updated and revised taxonomy with common and scientific names. Easy-to-read distribution maps. The Serengeti Lion George B. Schaller, 2009-10-15 Based on three years of study in the Serengeti National Park, George B. Schaller's The Serengeti Lion describes the vast impact of the lion and other predators on the vast herds of wildebeest, zebra, and gazelle for which the area is famous. The most comprehensive book available on the lion, this classic work includes the author's findings on all aspects of lion behavior, including its social system, population dynamics, hunting behavior, and predation patterns. If you have only enough time to read one book about field biology, this is the one I recommend. Edward O. Wilson, Science. This book conveys not only the fascination of its particular study of lion behavior but the drama and wonder and beauty of the intimate interdependence of all living things. Saturday Review. This is an important book not just for its valuable information on lions but for its broad, open, and intelligent approach to problems that cut across the fields of behavior, populations, ecology, wildlife management, evolution, anthropology, and comparative biology. Richard G. Van Gelder, Bioscience. Man in Adaptation Yehudi A. Cohen, 2017-07-12 How do specific activities and institutions in which people are involved fit into the overall adaptive strategy of their society? What are the particular pressures leading to change in each of these spheres when the group's strategy of adaptation changes? What are the human demands made by a hunting-gathering strategy that lead to the development of particular family systems, modes of social control, religious beliefs and practices, values and ideologies, and personality structures? What are the new human demands that lead to the reorganization of these aspects of life as the group moves from one level of development to another? Man in Adaptation: The Institutional Framework introduces the institutional, psychological, and ideological dimensions of the strategies of adaptation that have characterized human societies from the earliest known forms of social life to the present. Cohen includes topics that are of principal anthropological concern, notably marriage, law, and social control, religion and magic, value systems, personality, and art. There are no studies that deal with cultural change as such in this book Where possible Cohen includes articles that deal with changes in particular spheres of activity such as family organization law religion and value systems He argues that change is not a special situation Instead culture is change and change is culture and it is unrealistic to study change outside the specific social and technological organization of a given society This volume unifies the subject matter of anthropology within a single and powerful explanatory framework and incorporates the work of the most renowned anthropological experts on man
