It adopts a psychosocial approach to illustrate the influence of social context on biologically based development in relation to topics including attachment, learning, play, parenting, family life, deviance, medicalisation, long term conditions, vulnerability and resilience. Through encouraging analysis of a practice oriented case study and offering reflective questions, it provides a robust introduction to how psychosocial perspectives may be applied within health, social care and education contexts. It offers students of Social Work, Nursing, Education, Psychology and Child and Adolescent Studies the critical and theoretical tools to evaluate the interlocking psychosocial factors influencing the lives of those who will be in their care.
