The Church of All Ages Howard A. Vanderwell, 2007-12-17 Many congregations today experience collisions between parents who want to spend time with their children and age segregated church programming as well as between the children worshiping in their pews and the increasing number of seniors in the same pew Among the questions these congregations struggle to address are these Should we try to hold the generations together when we worship Is it even possible Led by pastor and resource developer Howard Vanderwell nine writers pastors teachers worship planners and others serving in specialized ministries offer their reflections on issues congregational leaders need to address as they design their worship ministry In addition numerous sidebars illustrate the diversity of practices in the church today Contributors do not propose easy answers or instant solutions Rather they guide readers as they craft ministries and practices that fit their own community heritage and history Each chapter includes questions for reflection and group discussion and an appendix provides guidelines for small group use The thread that connects these varied contributions is the belief that there is no greater privilege for Christians than worshiping God and there is no better way to do that than as an intergenerational community in which all are important and all encourage and nurture the faith of the others

Jesus on Main Street David E. Kresta, 2021-07-29. God loves just economies, but sadly the invisible hand of the market has chiseled huge cracks in our communities. Fortunately, Jesus announced freedom for the poor and oppressed, and by taking on his mantle, we have a role to play in helping establish just economies here and now. Jesus on Main Street provides church leaders and church planters with a broad overview of Community Economic Development (CED) with practical steps to lead your church in following Jesus into those cracks. You'll be equipped with the CED toolkit, including microbusinesses, makerspaces, business incubators, worker cooperatives, workforce development, commercial district revitalization, locality development, anchor institutions, and accountable development. A robust assessment and planning guide specifically for churches will help you create a collaborative CED strategy rooted in God's love for people and justice. For churches looking to bring healing to their local economies, CED builds capacity for long-term equitable economic growth, catalyzing a movement of business creation, employment, and job creation that does not leave anybody behind. This is the promise and challenge of CED as we follow Jesus down Main Street and explore what good news for local economies looks like.
