clashed with others of decay and degeneration Furthermore the blurring of language evolution with biological evolution encouraged Victorians to re imagine language as a mixture of social convention and primordial instinct Abberley argues that fiction by authors such as Charles Kingsley Thomas Hardy and H G Wells not only reflected these intellectual currents but also helped to shape them Genres from utopia to historical romance supplied narrative models for generating thought experiments in the possible pasts and futures of language Equally fiction that explored the instinctive roots of language intervened in debates about language standardisation and scientific objectivity These textual readings offer new perspectives on twenty first century discussions about language evolution and the language of science
