Collaboration--across Campus, Across Town, and With K-12 Schools Jill F. Russell,Richard B. Flynn,2013-12-16 First Published in 2000 This is Volume 75 Number 3 of the Peabody Journal of Education and focuses on collaboration across campus town and with K 12 schools The issue provides descriptions of a range of ways in which universities and schools and colleges of education can provide leadership for collaborative ventures involving the wider community The collaborative undertakings include working with community agencies other schools or colleges within or external to the institution P 12 schools and business groups The rationale for the theme is that in today's world the problems we are facing are so complex that solutions can no longer be generated and successfully implemented in a vacuum Cross disciplinary and cross sector collaboration is required to have the desired impact This necessitates collaboration Boundaries of Adult Learning Richard Edwards, Ann Hanson, Peter Raggatt, 2013-09-13 Until relatively recently adult learning in the UK was largely recognised as being situated mainly within the LEA adult education centre university extra mural departments and the WEA However this picture has changed The major change has been a shift from education to learning as the key organising concept A greater range of settings are now recognised as sites producing learning and alongside this has grown a debate about the purpose and form of study within adult learning This has led people to question both the concept of adult learning and the boundaries of its provision This book reviews and assesses the changes which are taking place It explores the disputes surrounding adult learning discussing how boundaries have blurred thereby creating new opportunities such as APL and credit transfer and including a significantly wider range of activities within the definition of learning It also assesses the extent to which despite the changes in boundaries inequalities in learning opportunities still persist
