El Precio Para Ser Medico Memorias De Un Estudian:

El Precio Para Ser Medico Joseph N. Nader, 2004-06 Relata la historia de un joven que pierde a su padre a los 9 años. Lo envían a estudiar interno en una gran ciudad donde se gradúa de Bachiller. Quería estudiar Medicina. Su único consistía en que estudiara Derecho porque Medicina era difícil. La Anatomía fue su gran obsesión consumiendo grandes esfuerzos. Fueron años de intensos conflictos políticos sociales recibiendo su grado en Medicina con honores. Describe con emoción sus experiencias como Interno y Residente. No quería morir. Pedía que le suministraran aire. Pálido sudoroso cerró sus ojos. Había muerto. Diariamente alguien moría. Comprendí entonces como era, no como una tragedia sino como parte de la vida. Comprendí que esa era también su obligación: prevenirla, alejarla, conquistarla. El Anestesiista increíble preguntó donde estaba el cirujano. Yo soy, respondí. Terminada la intervención, la monjita estaba preocupada por el reto. Tiene que bautizarlo, es un ser humano. Realicé no solo mi primera operación sino también mi último bautismo. Decepcionado abandona su País para afrontar nuevas dificultades en América. No está segura si el precio pagado para estudiarla justifica todos sus esfuerzos. El libro es un ejemplo de la tenacidad y dedicación de un médico extranjero enfrentándose a un futuro incierto. Una admirable lección para las nuevas generaciones de estudiantes de Medicina.

When she applied for a job at a ranch in Texas, the last person in the world she expected to see was her first and only true love, her high school sweetheart Robert. Robert worked too hard to get over Rae; this woman was the only woman he had allowed himself to truly fall completely in love with. He could not believe the new employee his foreman James had hired was Rae. Robert did not need or want Rae to come back in his life and mess up everything he had accomplished. He had his dream ranch and was in a good place in his life.

Could these two people who had gone in two completely different directions in their lives reunite and spark up an old flame or blow up in a blaze of glory Could LOVE conquer all
