Megan Greene,2016-11-03 Imperialism in the Modern World combines narrative primary and secondary sources and visual documents to examine global relations in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries The three co editors Professors Bowman Chiteji and Greene have taught for many years global history classes in a variety of institutions They wrote Imperialism in the Modern World to solve the problem of allowing teachers to combine primary and secondary texts easily and systematically to follow major themes in global history some readers use primary materials exclusively Some focus on secondary arguments This book is more focused than other readers on the markets for those teachers who are offering more specialized world history courses one important trend in global history is away from simply trying to cover everything to teaching real connections in more chronologically and thematically focused courses The reader

also provides a genuine diversity of global perspectives and invites students to study seriously world history from a critical framework Too many readers offer a smorgasbord approach to world history that leaves students dazed and confused This reader avoids that approach and will therefore solve many problems that teachers have in constructing and teaching world history courses at the introductory or upper division levels The reader will allow show students how to read historical documents through a hands on demonstration in the introduction The book also incorporates images as visual documents Finally the book conceives of global history in the widest possible terms it contains pieces on political diplomatic economic and military history to be sure but it also has selections on technology medicine women the environment social changes and cultural patterns Other readers can not match this text s breadth because they are chronologically and thematically so extended

Living Politics in the City Marion Hohlfeldt ,Carmen Popescu,2023-03-15 Public space and performativity from the perspective of architecture In recent decades architecture has been seen as a field of practice that contributes greatly to the performativity of public space In spite of the explosion of virtual communities through social media and the limitations imposed by pandemics architecture today still holds an active role in literally building our societies Bearing in mind its acute politicisation in past years Living Politics in the City looks at public space from the perspective of architecture and its effective contribution not as a prop but as an actual catalyst for embodying politics The essays gathered here span five continents activating various disciplinary approaches to architecture and examining it in different contexts from a Palestinian refugee camp to the most vibrant urban axis in Sao Paulo from the numerous city squares around the world crowded with rebellious populations to the proximal politics of housing in Australia Contributors Endriana Audisho University of Technology Sydney Maja Babic Charles University Alexandra Biehler Ecole Nationale Sup rieur e d Architecture de Marseille Tracey Bowen University of Toronto Mississauga Etienne Delprat Rennes 2 University Claudia Faraone IUAV Venice School of Architecture ETICity Caterina Frisone Oxford Brookes University Catherine Grout ENSAPL Lille Pavel Kunysz University of Li ge Flavia Marcello Swinburne University of Technology Eric Le Coguiec University of Li ge Tova Lubinsky University of Technology Sydney Giovanna Muzzi IUAV Venice School of Architecture ETICity Can Onaner Ecole Nationale Sup rieur e d Architecture de Bretagne Shadi Saleh KU Leuven Fr d ric Sotinel Ecole Nationale Sup rieur e d Architecture de Bretagne Karolina Wilczynska Adam Mickiewicz University Ian Woodcock Swinburne University of Technology This publication is GPRC labeled Guaranteed Peer Reviewed Content
