Laws and Societies in the Canadian Prairie West, 1670-1940

Louis A. Knafla, Jonathan Swainger, 2011-11-01 Laws and Societies in the Canadian Prairie West 1670 1940 examines the legal history of the north west frontier from the earliest years of European Native contact in the seventeenth century to the mid 1900s Challenging myths about a peaceful west and prairie exceptionalism the book explores the substance of prairie legal history and the degree to which the region's mentality is rooted in the historical experience of distinctive prairie peoples The chapters written by a cross section of established and emerging scholars working in the allied fields of law legal history sociology and criminology focus on what is distinctive in prairie legal culture By approaching the issue from a variety of perspectives those of colonial administrators fur company employees Native peoples women men entrepreneurs judges magistrates and the police among others the authors find evidence of a conscious effort to apply broad non regional experiences to seemingly familiar local issues The ways in which prairie peoples perceived themselves and their relationships to a wider world were directly framed by notions of law and legal remedy shaped by the course and themes of prairie history Legal history is not just about black letter law It is also deeply concerned with the ways in which people affect and are affected by the law in their daily lives By examining how central and important the law has been to individuals communities and societies in the Canadian Prairies this book makes an original contribution

Transforming Power Aynsley

Kellow, 1996 Originally published in 1996 this book is an exploration and analysis of the electricity industry in the context of uncertainty following the energy crisis of the 1970s and concern over the greenhouse effect Few industries demand a similar level of foresight and planning or such vast amounts of capital The book examines five well known Australian Canadian and New Zealand cases and closely analyses the ways in which various agencies have sought ends to serve the means at their disposal Electricity has long been regarded as a natural monopoly but questions of privatisation regulation and government control are increasingly prevalent The book explores these issues and also notes the experiences of other countries in its analysis of institutional reform Aynsley Kellow argues for different approaches to electricity planning which offer much by way of economic savings and minimisation of environmental problems

A Business History of Alberta Henry Cornelius

The Limits of Labour David Bright, 2011-11-01

In a few short decades before the First World War Calgary was transformed from a frontier outpost into a complex industrial metropolis With industrialization there emerged a diverse and equally complex working class David Bright explores the various levels of class formation and class identity in the city to argue that Calgary's reputation as a prewar centre of labour conservatism is in need of revision Bright also delineates the trials of the Calgary labour movement in the 1920s Internal divisions and dissent prevented the movement from realizing the potential strength of the working class Instead even as local capitalism restructured itself political and industrial labour organizations wilfully fragmented their own base of support In particular they failed to address the concerns and needs of the growing number of unemployed in the city a neglect that foreshadowed events of the 1930s This failure left the labour movement unable to meet the challenge of the Great Depression In part at least the demise of labour as a viable political alternative in Calgary paved the way for the rise of Social Credit Using Calgary as a model The Limits of Labour reasserts the need to place class formation at the heart of the development of western Canada and provides an historical context to the renewed struggle of labour for social justice in the 1990s

The River Returns Christopher Armstrong, Matthew Evenden, H.V. Nelles, 2009-10-14 Alberta's iconic river has been dammed and plumbed made to spin hydro electric turbines and used to cleanse Calgary Artificial lakes in the mountains rearrange its flow downstream weirs and ditches divert it to irrigate the parched prairie Far from being wild the Bow is now very much a human product its fish are as manufactured as its altered flow changed water quality and newly stabilized and forested banks The River Returns brings the story of the Bow River's transformation full circle through an exploration of the recent revolution in environmental thinking and regulation that has led to new limits on what might be done with and to the river Rivers have been studied from many perspectives but too often the relationship between nature and people between rivers and the cultures that have grown up beside them have been separated The River Returns illuminates the ways in which humans both inadvertently and consciously have interacted with nature to make the Bow

Native Peoples and Water Rights Kenichi Matsui, 2009-05-01 Economic developments in irrigation agriculture and hydroelectric power generation in western Canada at the turn of the last century challenged the way Native peoples had traditionally managed the watershed environment Facing rapidly expanding provincial and federal power as well as private industries Native peoples saw opportunities to protect their self governing rights and explore reserve based economy Through a combination of field work and archival research Kenichi Matsui offers an original and pioneering overview of the evolution of water law and agricultural policies in the Canadian west By incorporating the history of water law philosophies water development technologies agricultural policies and cross cultural theories Matsui constructs an interdisciplinary analysis of how both Native peoples and non native stakeholders struggled for better rights and livelihood through litigation political campaigns and direct actions The dramatic stories of early cultural legal and political conflict in interior British Columbia and Alberta featured in Native Peoples and Water Rights enrich our understanding of current Native rights disputes throughout North America

Cross-Currents Jean L. Manore, 2006-01-01 Most activities in our lives involve electricity Yet how often do we recall that even the simple act of turning on a light is supported by a long history of debates over group vs individual rights environmental impact political agendas and technological innovations Using the image of cross currents as the organizing metaphor this book details the many and often turbulent interactions and interconnections that occurred among the various people and events during the building of the northeastern Ontario hydroelectric system Special focus is on Native and non Native interests southern business and political elites northern natural resources and the interactions between technology and the environment Manore concentrates on the co operation that existed among the various interest groups during periods of expansion and amalgamation In today s environment of limited energy resources respect for the rights of First Nations and ecological concerns this book is a reminder that co operation rather than conquest is a more realistic approach to development

parks are for all Canadians for all time and their value cannot be measured in terms of how many access roads motels souvenir shops and golf courses we've provided Bob Jordan 1971 The Alpine Club of Canada imagined the Rockies and neighbouring ranges to the west and the north as a climber's paradise Through a century of adventure and advocacy the ACC led the way to mountain pursuits in spectacular regions Historian and mountain studies specialist PearlAnn Reichwein's research is informed by her experiences mountaineering and by her interest in mountain culture She presents a compelling case for understanding wild spaces and human activity within them as parts of a whole A work of invaluable scholarship in the areas of environmental history public policy sport studies recreation and tourism Climber's Paradise will appeal to many non-specialists mountaineers environmentalists and travellers across Canada and beyond Public Power, 1989 Vols for 1978 include an annual directory issue Aboriginal Title and Indigenous Peoples Louis A. Knafla, Haijo Westra, 2011-01-01 Delgamuukw Mabo Ngati Apa Recent cases have created a framework for litigating Aboriginal title in Canada Australia and New Zealand This book brings together distinguished scholars who show that our understanding of where the concept of Aboriginal title came from and where it may be going can also be enhanced by exploring legal developments in these former British colonies in a comparative multidisciplinary framework Contributors trace the role that courts and legislatures played in the extinguishment and acquisition of Aboriginal title and land They then establish that although each country's development was distinctive common issues shaped and continue to inform indigenous peoples' struggle for recognition This path-breaking book offers a perspective on Aboriginal title that extends beyond national borders to consider similar developments in common law countries Suburban Modern Robert M. Stamp, 2004 While avant-garde modernism disrupted the art salons architecture schools and design studios of the world's more sophisticated urban centres in the 20th century Calgary slept through the cultural upheavals as a provincial backwater Calgary's initiation to modernism might be dated to February 13 1947 when Imperial Oil blew in its famous well at Leduc Or the 1948 football season when Tom Brooks and Les Lear wrapped the Calgary Stampeders football team around an innovative and modernist-looking T-formation backfield to win the Grey Cup Calgarians embraced the modern age after the Second World War taking modernism into the streets and into the suburbs They went beyond art architecture and design and redefined modernism to include homes furniture appliances and cars In the process Calgarians democratized feminized and suburbanized modernism Suburban Modern examines controversies over coloured margarine and mixed drinking in post-war Calgary It shows how new petro-office buildings transformed the downtown skyline during the 1950s and 1960s and how new bus lines roads and bridges changed the city's transportation network As the city sprawled horizontally to engulf its ever-expanding suburbs shoppers deserted downtown for suburban malls The book follows young couples into their post-war dream homes with modern furnishings and barbecue appointed patios Suburban Modern argues that the suburbs rather than the downtown defined Calgary's approach to modernism The Electric Century John Negru, Canadian Electrical Association, 1990 The

Calgary Project Beverly Ann Sandalack, Andrei Nicolai, 2006 Focuses on the culmination of five years of research and observation in the study of this prairie metropolis This title looks at the city of Calgary not only because of its phenomenal growth but also to consider the premise that the evolution of any city reflects the ideology and cultural values of its inhabitants Canadian Books in Print 2002 Marian Butler, 2002-02 Canadiana , 1987 Small Press Record of Books in Print Len Fulton, 1993
