China's Mongols at University Zhenzhou Zhao, Wing On Lee, 2010-04-09 Minority students in China often receive preferential treatment for access to universities However very little is known about minority student experiences and perceptions on campus after they are accorded what is called meaningful access to university The Mongols emerged as a distinct ethnic group in China starting in the 11th century and in the centuries that followed conquered a large part of the world However in modern times this nomadic people's influence has declined and even their survival in China has been threatened This decline is evidenced by the fact that increasing numbers of Mongols have abandoned their native language and traditional customs especially those who live in cities How do Mongol university students who form the backbone of the Mongol intellectual community identify themselves in a modern Chinese context How do they react as university students to the way in which their culture is recognized and represented Do Mongol students suffer from injustice in the cultural dimension of campus life China's Mongols at University Contesting Cultural Recognition seeks to answer these questions Zhenzhou Zhao addresses these issues by comparing the university discourse on minority culture policy institutional structure and daily life and the Mongol student discourse concerning their experiences perceptions of recognition and dedication to self representation on campus Additionally Gao compares three universities in China Located in Inner Mongolia Autonomous Region Beijing and Hubei Province respectively each of these universities represents one of three types of higher education accessible to minority students in China universities located in ethnic areas standard universities and universities for nationalities China's Mongols at University explores and discusses an intrinsic connection between marketization and globalization and the disadvantages faced by minority groups This book argues that China must move from a policy of preferential treatment

Envisioning a Critical Race Praxis in K-12 Education Through

Counter-Storytelling Tyson E.J. Marsh,Natasha N. Croom,2016-08-01 While critical race theory is a framework employed by activists and scholars within and outside the confines of education there are limited resources for leadership practitioners that provide insight into critical race theory and the possibilities of implementing a critical race praxis approach to leadership With a continued top down approach to educational policy and practice it is imperative that educational leaders understand how critical race theory and praxis can assist them in utilizing their agency and roles as leaders to identify and challenge institutional and systemic racism and other forms manifestations of oppression Stovall 2004 In the tradition of critical race theory we are charged with the task of operationalizing theory into practice in the struggle for and commitment to social justice Though educational leaders and leadership programs have been all but absent in this process given their influence and power educational leaders need to be engaged in this endeavor The objective of this edited volume is to draw upon critical race counter stories and praxis for the purpose of providing leaders in training and practicing K 12 leaders with tangible narratives that demonstrate how racism and its intersectionality with other forms of oppression manifest within K 12 schooling An additional aim of this book is to provide leaders with a working knowledge of the central tenets of critical race theory and the tools that are required in recognizing how they might be complicit in the reproduction of institutional and systemic racism and other forms of oppression More precisely this edited volume intends to draw upon and center the lived experiences and voices of contributors that have experienced racism in K 12 schooling Through the use of critical race methodology and counter storytelling Sol rzano Yosso 2002 contributors will share and interrogate their experiences while offering current and future educational leaders insight in recognizing how racism functions within institutions and how they can address it The intended goal of this edited volume is to translate critical race theory into practice while emphasizing the need for educational leaders to develop a critical race praxis and anti racist approach to leadership Education for Special Needs Rudolf Steiner, 2014 Essentially we do not really have the right to talk about normality or abnormality in a child s inner life nor indeed in the inner life of human beings altogether One does not gain much from such labelling and the first thing to happen should be that the physician or the teacher rejects such an assessment and goes further than saying that something is clever or sensible according to the way people are habitually thinking Rudolf Steiner Speaking in 1924 when general attitudes to people with special needs were far from enlightened Rudolf Steiner gave this seminal course of lectures to a small group of teachers and doctors as a fundamental basis for their future work In the cultural context of the time regressive ideas such as Social Darwinism and Eugenics were not only tolerated but popular some 15 years after these lectures were delivered the Nazis were to initiate their so called euthanasia programme In contrast Steiner who as a young man had successfully tutored a boy with special needs was devoted to the progressive task of special education and in the words of one of those present gave the course with pleasure and satisfaction In the twelve lectures Rudolf Steiner describes polarities of illness and derives courses of treatment from a comprehensive analysis He considers many individual cases in detail and gives indications on therapeutic exercises diet and medicine The I or self he states relates directly to the physical body and spirit and soul need to be taken into consideration when making diagnoses Throughout the course Steiner gives valuable advice regarding the educator s own development emphasizing the need for enthusiasm humour and courage As with Steiner s lectures on agriculture which stimulated the birth of the worldwide biodynamic movement this single course has had a huge international impact inspiring the founding of hundreds of schools and communities for people with special needs encompassing both the Camphill and Steiner special education movements Revolutionary in its approach the far reaching perspectives of these lectures are a living source of inspiration to both professionals in the field and parents and others seeking spiritual insight This new edition features a fresh translation introductory material notes colour plates and an index
