

SOCIAL STRUCTURES

social structures in sociology are the relationships or interactions between groups of different people in a society.

IN SOCIOLOGICAL ANALYSIS

The analysis of social structures often occurs on three levels:

1. Macro analysis – looks at broad categories and systems like large populations and groups like entire countries or economic systems.
2. Meso analysis – studies communities or certain groups in a society.
3. Micro analysis – observes patterns and collects data from smaller groups like families, or individuals (DeCarlo, 2018).

EXAMPLES

- 1 Nations
- 2 Economies
- 3 Racial groups
- 4 Religions
- 5 Legal systems
- 6 Political parties

Robles,2016-05-26 Bhutan s education sector has attracted international attention for recent reforms driven by the national development philosophy of Gross National Happiness which aspires to balance change with the continuity of tradition This book traces the history of education in Bhutan and reveals that as the country has modernised and become globally connected and further influenced by international and Western mores tensions have emerged across the education sector The author examines how these tensions between the curriculum and local knowledges can impact teaching and learning and offers approaches to addressing them Based on extensive empirical data including in depth interviews and classroom observations Robles analyzes the discourses of high level officials who were involved in the early development of the modern system of education a range of education leaders and teachers Filling a gap in the literature this book is an invaluable resource for students and researchers interested in the formation of education policy social and political reform in Bhutan and South Asia Studies

Education, Society, and Development Jandhyala B. G. Tilak,2003 Contributed articles      Technological Development, Society And State: Western And Chinese Civilizations In Comparison - Proceedings Of The Joint Conference Welf Heinrich Schnell,Wolfgang Radtke,Hans Poser,W Konig,1991-10-16 This is a collection of essays focused on problems concerning the philosophy of technology the concept of nature the relationships between policy and economic development on the one hand and technological development on the other hand with respect to philosophical principles historical and cultural background both in Western and Chinese Civilization      Educational Attainment and Society Nigel Kettley, 2007-01-15 Sophisticated monograph focussing on attainment at the end of secondary high school education and the interface with tertiary education Combines re analysis of secondary literature including official statistics institutional histories interview data and analysis of qualitative and quantitative primary research using descriptive and inferential statistics value added analysis and grounded theory The results show the significance and weakness of both the mid twentieth century classic analyses of social class and the late twentieth century feminist approaches Shows how a joint consideration of social issues in particular of gender and social stratification produce a powerful model for explaining attainment with important implications for policy on a boys underachievement and b participation in higher education

Envisioning a Sustainable Society Lester W. Milbrath, 1989-01-01 The evidence is increasingly persuasive We are changing the way our planet's physical systems work irrevocably These changes are global and interconnected and unavoidable They are upon us already making it virtually impossible for any modern society to continue its present trajectory of growth This book provides a penetrating analysis of how we have come to this point of why science and technology will fail to solve these problems and of how we as a society must change in order to avoid ecological catastrophe The scope is broad the urgency of the message is impossible to ignore      Endless Education Carl C. Campbell, 1997 Endless Education is the first comprehensive study of education in Trinidad and Tobago during the long thirty year regime of the People's National Movement PNM from 1956 to 1986 Carl Campbell focuses on the efforts by Williams and the PNM to use education as an instrument of postcolonial nation building and the consequent tensions and conflicts between him and the churches between creoles and Indians and between Tobago and Trinidad His study concludes that the goal of national integration through education eluded the planners and that diversity not unity characterized the education system Significantly Campbell finds that as in many other facets of national life only partial and incomplete decolonization was attained in education This study is useful as a source book in schools colleges and at the University of the West Indies Readers who reside outside of the Caribbean and who want to know more about the social history of one of the most important English speaking Caribbean islands should find this book of more than passing interest This is the companion volume to Campbell's The Young Colonials A Social History of Education in Trinidad and Tobago 1834-1939 The University of the West Indies Press 1996
