Congress. House. Select Committee on Aging, 1989      The Enigmatic Academy Christian J. Churchill, Gerald Levy, 2011-06-15 The Enigmatic Academy is a provocative look at the purpose and practice of education in America Authors Christian Churchill and Gerald Levy use three case studies a liberal arts college a boarding school and a Job Corps center to illustrate how class bureaucratic and secular religious dimensions of education prepare youth for participation in American foreign and domestic policy at all levels The authors describe how schools contribute to the formation of a bureaucratic character how middle and upper class students are trained for leadership positions in corporations government and the military and how the education of lower class students often serves more powerful classes and institutions Exploring how youth and their educators encounter the complexities of ideology and bureaucracy in school The Enigmatic Academy deepens our understanding of the flawed redemptive relationship between education and society in the United States Paradoxically these three studied schools all prepare students to participate in a society whose values they oppose      Choice, 1984      Restoring the Innovative Edge Jerald Hage, 2011-05-17 This book provides a framework for restoring America's innovative edge by driving the evolution of science and technology and ameliorating obstacles and blockages that cause failures in this process The book's perspective is informed not only by the author's decades of research on innovation but also his recent consulting with national public research laboratories and agencies      Second International Handbook of Science Education Barry Fraser, Kenneth Tobin, Campbell J. on the key issues in that field Leading researchers from around the world have participated as authors and consultants to produce a resource that is comprehensive detailed and up to date The chapters provide the most recent and advanced thinking in science education making the Handbook again the most authoritative resource in science education Better Homes and Gardens ,1981 Teachers' Identities and Life Choices Pattie Luk-Fong,2012-11-08 This book discusses issues related to teachers identities and life choices when globalisation and localisation are enmeshed It examines how competing cultural traditions and contexts acted as resources or and constraints in framing teachers identities and their negotiations in the family and the work domains according to their gender positioning their roles in the family such as husband wife father mother brother sister son and daughter and roles in the school such as principal senior teacher or regular teacher Contrary to an essentialist approach to identity and culture teachers stories show that their identities and life choices were hardly free choices but were often part and parcel of the culture and contexts in which they were embedded Teachers identities are found to be fluid complex hybrid and multifaceted Using Hong Kong as a case study this book provides not only traces of the continuity and changes of Confucian self and cardinal relationships but also a glimpse of how educational reform as neo capitalist discourses in the workplace interacts with Confucian cultural traditions creating new hybrid practices problems or possibilities or both in the school and in the daily lives of teachers Problems of the Rural Elderly in Oklahoma United States. will give you a firm grasp on what it takes to make an organization perform. It presents the basic principles of management simply but not simplistically. Why did an eBay succeed where a Webvan did not? Why do you need both a business model and a strategy? Why is it impossible to manage without the right performance measures and do yours pass the test? What Management Is is both a beginner's guide and a bible for one of the greatest social innovations of modern times: the discipline of management. Joan Magretta, a former top editor at the Harvard Business Review, distills the wisdom of a bewildering sea of books and articles into one simple, clear volume explaining both the logic of successful organizations and how that logic is embodied in practice. Magretta makes rich use of examples, contemporary and historical, to bring to life management's High Concepts: value creation, business models, competitive strategy, and organizational design. She devotes equal attention to the often unwritten rules of execution that characterize the best performing organizations. Throughout, she shows how the principles of management that work in for-profit businesses can and must be applied to nonprofits as well. Most management books preach a single formula or a single fad. This one roams knowledgeably over the best that has been thought and written with a practical eye for what matters in real organizations. Not since Peter Drucker's great work of the 1950s and 1960s has there been a comparable effort to present the work of management as a coherent whole, to take stock of the current state of play and to write about it thoughtfully for readers of all backgrounds. Newcomers will find the basics demystified. More experienced readers will recognize a store of useful wisdom and a framework for improving their own performance. This is the big picture management book for our times. It defines a common standard of managerial literacy that will help all of us lead more productive lives, whether we aspire to be managers or not.

Population, Migration and Settlement in Australia and the Asia-Pacific Natascha Klocker, Olivia Dun, 2018-12-07. The chapters in this book reflect on the work of seminal Australian geographer, the late Professor Graeme Hugo. Graeme Hugo was widely respected because of his impressive contributions to scholarship and policy in the fields of migration, population, and development, which spanned several decades. This collection of works contains contributions from authors whose own research has been influenced by Hugo and includes numerous authors who worked closely with Hugo throughout his career. The collection provides an opportunity to reflect on Hugo's legacy and also to foreground contemporary scholarship in his key areas of research focus. The chapters are organized into two thematic threads: Part I contains works relating to Population, Migration, and Settlement in Australia, while Part II focuses on Labour and Environmental Migration in the Asia-Pacific. Together, these two thematic threads provide broad coverage of Graeme Hugo's key areas of research focus. The chapters also serve as a reminder of Hugo's steadfast concern with producing careful scholarship for the public good and seek to prompt continued work in this vein. The chapters, originally published in special issues in Australian Geographer.
