British Women Composers and Instrumental Chamber Music in the Early Twentieth Century Laura

Seddon, 2016-04-15 This is the first full length study of British women's instrumental chamber music in the early twentieth century. Laura Seddon argues that the Cobbett competitions instigated by Walter Willson Cobbett in 1905 and the formation of the Society of Women Musicians in 1911 contributed to the explosion of instrumental music written by women in this period and highlighted women's place in British musical society in the years leading up to and during the First World War. Seddon investigates the relationship between Cobbett, the Society of Women Musicians and women composers themselves. The book's six case studies of Adela Maddison 1866-1929, Ethel Smyth 1858-1944, Morfydd Owen 1891-1918, Ethel Barns 1880-1948, Alice Verne Bredt 1868-1958 and Susan Spain Dunk 1880-1962 offer valuable insight into the women's musical education and compositional careers. Seddon's discussion of their chamber works for differing instrumental combinations includes an exploration of formal procedures, an issue much discussed by contemporary sources. The individual composers' reactions to the debate instigated by the Society of Women Musicians on the future of women's music is considered in relation to their lives, careers and the chamber music itself. As the composers in this study were not a cohesive group creatively or ideologically, the book draws on primary sources as well as the writings of contemporary commentators to assess the legacy of the chamber works produced. Performing Music in the Age of Recording Robert Philip, 2004-04-10

What is the relationship between performance and recording? What is the impact of recording on the lives of musicians? Comparison of the lives of musicians and audiences in the years before recordings with those of today. Survey of the changing attitudes toward freedom of expression, the globalization of performing styles and the rise of the period instrument movement.
