Leaving the field Robin James Smith,Sara Delamont,2023-07-04 Leaving the field gathers various accounts of ethnographers leaving their field sites In doing so the book offers original insights into an often overlooked aspect of the research process the ethnographic exit The chapters variously consider situations in which the researcher must extricate themselves from field relations deal with unexpected or imperfect ends to projects or manage situations in which the field becomes hard to leave Whilst the chapters are firmly focussed on ethnographic exits they also provide more general methodological insights into the conduct of fieldwork and the writing of ethnography as well as questioning established notions of the field as a bounded setting the researcher straightforwardly visits and then leaves The book highlights the importance of recognising ethnographic exits as an essential part of the research process Learning in the Field Gretchen B. Rossman, Sharon F. Rallis, 2012 The popular text that helped readers better understand and practice qualitative research has been completely updated and revised To help readers better visualize and grasp the concepts issues and complexities of qualitative inquiry the authors introduce each chapter with discussions among three characters students whose research projects demonstrate the challenges and excitement of qualitative research Woven into the chapters and the characters stories are three themes that make up the tapestry of qualitative research First research is a learning process Second research can and should be useful Finally a researcher needs to have a clear vision of the audience and purpose of a study Emerging Powers and the World Trading System Gregory Shaffer, 2021-07-22 Victorious after World War II and the Cold War the United States and its allies largely wrote the rules for international trade and investment Yet by 2020 it was the United States that became the great disrupter disenchanted with the rules constraints Paradoxically China India Brazil and other emerging economies became stakeholders in and at times defenders of economic globalization and the rules regulating it Emerging Powers and the World Trading System explains how this came to be and addresses the micropolitics of trade law what has been developing under the surface of the business of trade through the practice of law which has broad macro implications This book provides a necessary complement to political and economic accounts for understanding why at a time of hegemonic transition where economic security and geopolitics assume greater roles the United States challenged and emerging powers became defenders of the legal order that the United States created Overcoming Fieldwork Challenges in Social Science and Higher Education Research El Shaban, Abir, 2020-12-18 Conducting social science and education research studies that require involvement in fieldwork is not an easy task Many graduate students and novice researchers face difficulties efficiently and effectively conducting the practical aspects of their research in fieldwork One reason for this difficulty may be due to the lack of finding and or accessing authentic and realistic descriptions of previously conducted fieldwork experiences and processes in a variety of fields This could be the case whether the research is going to be on a virtual platform or in a real and actual context Thus it is critical to shed light on the successes and pitfalls of the personal experiences of fieldwork Overcoming Fieldwork Challenges in Social Science and Higher Education Research is an essential reference book that draws on the experience of conducting fieldwork in different contexts and world regions that are relevant to social science and education studies The diverse experiences in research processes and contexts that this book offers provide readers with an authentic and realistic description of how research data is collected the tools needed to envision some of the challenges that they might face and how to effectively solve them Highlighting topics such as methodology data collection and fieldwork partnerships in fields that include counseling psychology language studies and teacher education this book is ideal for social science and education studies professors who have research as a mandatory part of their curriculum administrators and policymakers independent and novice researchers and graduate students planning to conduct their research studies with humans in different contexts
