The Galaz Ruin Roger Anyon, Steven A. LeBlanc, 1984 The Galaz Ruin Roger Anyon, Steven A. LeBlanc, 1984

Mimbres Archaeology at the NAN Ranch Ruin Harry J. Shafer, 2003 Following two decades of excavations and research at the NAN Ranch Ruin in southwestern New Mexico Harry Shafer offers new information and interpretations of the rise and disappearance of the ancient Mimbres culture that thrived in the area from about A D 600 to 1140 The NAN Ranch site gives evidence of a fascinating restructuring of Mimbres culture and society owing to the introduction of irrigation agriculture in the late ninth century The social restructuring that accompanied this shift in technology resulted in changes that are visible in architecture mortuary practices and ceramic decoration The NAN Ranch ruin has yielded the largest body of evidence ever gathered at a single Mimbres site and thus offers the clearest picture to date of who the ancient Mimbres were in relation to their Anasazi and Hohokam neighbors to the north and east Shafer introduces us to the Mimbres people gives a history of archaeological research in the Mimbres Valley and traces the occupation of the NAN Ranch site from pithouses to classic pueblo to abandonment Social customs subsistence biological information and the symbolism of the distinctive Mimbres designs in their ceramics pottery stone artifacts textiles and jewelry are all addressed in this comprehensive survey Early

Cosgrove, 2012-01-16 This classic volume on the evocative and enigmatic pottery of the Mimbres people has become an irreplaceable design catalogue for contemporary Native American artists The Peabody's reissue of The Swarts Ruin once again makes available a rich resource for scholars artists and admirers of Native American art New Perspectives on Mimbres Archaeology Barbara J. Roth, Patricia A. Gilman, Roger Anyon, 2018-11-27 In the early 1970s understanding of the Mimbres region as a whole was in its infancy In the following decades thanks to dedicated work by enterprising archaeologists and nonprofit organizations our understanding of the Mimbres region has become more complex nuanced and rich New Perspectives on Mimbres Archaeology brings together these experts in a single volume for the first time The contributors discuss current knowledge of the people who lived in the Mimbres region of the southwestern United States and how our knowledge has changed since the Mimbres Foundation directed by Steven A LeBlanc began the first modern archaeological investigations in the region Many of these authors have spent decades conducting the fieldwork that has allowed for a broader understanding of Mimbres society Focusing on a variety of important research topics of interest to archaeologists including the social contexts of people and communities the role of ritual and ideology in Mimbres society evidence of continuities and cultural change through time and the varying impacts of external influences throughout the region New Perspectives on Mimbres Archaeology presents recent data on and interpretations of the entire pre Hispanic sequence of occupation Additional contributions include a history of nonprofit archaeology by William H Doelle and a concluding chapter by Steven A LeBlanc reflecting on his decades long work in Mimbres archaeology and outlining important areas for the next wave of research

Ancient Communities in the Mimbres Valley Roger Anyon, Steven A.

LeBlanc, 2024-04-09 Spanning from the end of the Classic Mimbres period to the Black Mountain phase this volume contains the final report on the excavations of the Mimbres Foundation The authors consider the nature of the relationship between the Classic Mimbres period population of the valley and the people of the succeeding Black Mountain phase as well as relationships among the Black Mountain phase people and those of neighboring parts of the region Mimbres During the Twelfth Century Margaret Cecile Nelson, 1999 During the mid twelfth century villages that had been occupied by the Mimbres people in what is now southwestern New Mexico were depopulated and new settlements were formed While most scholars view abandonment in terms of failed settlements Margaret Nelson shows that for the Mimbres abandonment of individual communities did not necessarily imply abandonment of regions By examining the economic and social reasons for change among the Mimbres Nelson reconstructs a process of shifting residence as people spent more time in field camps and gradually transformed them into small hamlets while continuing to farm their old fields Challenging current interpretations of abandonment of the Mimbres area through archaeological excavation and survey she suggests that agricultural practices evolved toward the farming of multiple fields among which families moved with small social groups traveling frequently between small pueblos rather than being aggregated in large villages Mimbres during the Twelfth Century is the first book length contribution on this topic for the Classic Mimbres period and also addresses current debates on the role of Casas Grandes in these changes By rethinking abandonment Nelson shows how movement by prehistoric cultivators maintained continuity of occupation within a region and invites us to reconsider the dynamic relationship between people and their land Ancient Southwestern Mortuary Practices James T. Watson, Gordon F. M. Rakita, 2020-08-03 Ancient Southwestern Mortuary Practices chronicles the modal patterns diversity and change of ancient mortuary practices from across the US Southwest and northwest Mexico over four thousand years of Prehispanic occupation The volume summarizes new methodological approaches and theoretical issues concerning the meaning and importance of burial practices to different peoples at different times throughout the ancient Greater Southwest Chapters focus on normative mortuary patterns the range of variability of mortuary patterns how the contexts of burials reflect temporal shifts in ideology and the ways in which mortuary rituals behaviors and funerary treatments fulfill specific societal needs and reflect societal beliefs Contributors analyze extensive datasets archived and accessible on the Digital Archaeological Record tDAR from various subregions structurally standardized and integrated with respect to biological and cultural data Ancient Southwestern Mortuary Practices together with the full datasets preserved in tDAR is a rich resource for comparative research on mortuary ritual for indigenous descendant groups cultural resource managers and archaeologists and bioarchaeologists in the Greater Southwest and other regions Contributors Nancy J Akins Jessica I Cerezo Rom n Mona C Charles Patricia A Gilman Lynne Goldstein Alison K Livesay Dawn Mulhern Ann Stodder M Scott Thompson Sharon Wester Catrina Banks Whitley

Mimbres Society Valli S. Powell-Marti, Patricia A. Gilman, 2019-11-01 The enchanting pottery created by the Mimbres people of southwestern New Mexico is considered by many scholars to be unique among all the ancient art traditions of North America Distinguished by their elaborate hand painted black on white designs Mimbres vessels have inspired artists and collectors and many insist that they are unrivaled in several millennia of pottery making While the attention to the extraordinary Mimbres painted pottery is well merited the focus on its artistry alone has obscured other equally remarkable achievements and compelling questions about this unique and sophisticated society Was the society as truly egalitarian as it has often been suggested Was the pottery produced by specialists How did Mimbres architecture among the first to break living spaces into apartment style room blocks reflect the relationships among individuals families and communities Did aggregate housing units translate into social equality or did subtle hierarchies exist Tracing the way technology evolved in ceramic decoration architecture and mortuary practices this collection of eight original contributions brings new insights into previously unexplored dimensions of Mimbres society The contributors also provide vivid examples of how today s archaeologists are linking field data to social theory Casas Grandes and the Ceramic Art of the Ancient Southwest Richard F. Townsend, Barbara Moulard L., Ken Kokrda, Barbara L. Moulard, 2005-01-01 A fascinating exploration of the rich artistic heritage and beauty of Casas Grandes ceramics Soils, Climate and Society John D. Wingard, Sue Eileen Hayes, 2013-03-15 Much recent archaeological research focuses on social forces as the impetus for cultural change Soils Climate and Society however focuses on the complex relationship between human populations and the physical environment particularly the land the foundation of agricultural production and by extension of agricultural peoples The volume traces the origins of agriculture the transition to agrarian societies the sociocultural implications of agriculture agriculture s effects on population and the theory of carrying capacity considering the relation of agriculture to the profound social changes that it wrought in the New World Soil science plays a significant though varied role in each case study and is the common component of each analysis Soil chemistry is also of particular importance to several of the studies as it determines the amount of food that can be produced in a particular soil and the effects of occupation or cultivation on that soil thus having consequences for future cultivators Soils Climate and Society demonstrates that renewed investigation of agricultural production and demography can answer questions about the past as well as stimulate further research It will be of interest to scholars of archaeology historical ecology and geography and agricultural history Evolving Complexity And Environmental Risk In The Prehistoric Southwest Joseph A. Tainter, 2018-05-04 This book explores how and why prehistoric Southwestern societies changed in complexity and offers important new perspectives on evolution of culture It discusses the factors that made prehistoric Southwesterners vulnerable to an arid environment and their strategies to lessen risk and stress Constant Battles Steven A. LeBlanc, Katherine E. Register, 2013-07-23 With armed conflict in the Persian Gulf now upon us Harvard archaeologist Steven LeBlanc takes a long term view of the nature and roots of war presenting a controversial thesis The notion of the noble savage living in peace with one another and in harmony with nature is a fantasy In Constant Battles The Myth of the Peaceful Noble Savage LeBlanc contends that warfare and violent conflict have existed throughout human history and that humans have never lived in ecological balance with nature The start of the second major U S military action in the Persian Gulf combined with regular headlines about spiraling environmental destruction would tempt anyone to conclude that humankind is fast approaching a catastrophic end But as LeBlanc brilliantly argues the archaeological record shows that the warfare and ecological destruction we find today fit into patterns of human behavior that have gone on for millions of years Constant Battles surveys human history in terms of social organization from hunter gatherers to tribal agriculturalists to more complex societies LeBlanc takes the reader on his own digs around the world from New Guinea to the Southwestern U S to Turkey to show how he has come to discover warfare everywhere at every time His own fieldwork combined with his archaeological ethnographic and historical research presents a riveting account of how throughout human history people always have outgrown the carrying capacity of their environment which has led to war Ultimately though LeBlanc s point of view is reassuring and optimistic As he explains the roots of warfare in human history he also demonstrates that warfare today has far less impact than it did in the past He also argues that as awareness of these patterns and the advantages of modern technology increase so does our ability to avoid war in the future Human Adaptations and Cultural Change in the Greater Southwest Alan H. Simmons,1989 Archaic Occupation on the Santa Cruz Flats T. Kathleen Henderson,1993 The Production and Distribution of Mimbres Pottery Darrell G.

Creel,2022-10-15 The famous and highly sought after Mimbres painted pottery in southwestern New Mexico continues to fascinate people today as much as it did when it first became known more than a century ago Despite several publications promoting Mimbres archaeology and innumerable analyses of style dating iconography meaning identity use wear and trade and travel implications however there had been little interest in the actual production of Mimbres pottery This changed with the professional investigations of the 1970s when petrographic analysis began and then again in the late 1980s and 1990s when Instrumental Neutron Activation Analysis INAA was first employed in the study of Mimbres pottery production and distribution The Production and Distribution of Mimbres Pottery assesses a much expanded INAA data set and presents a new and more informed interpretation of ceramic production and distribution in the Mimbres region The results should guide future research in the region and will also serve as an example of how INAA data can help students and scholars understand many other interrelated aspects of prehistoric Mimbres society in addition to Mimbres pottery production Emil W.
