Futures Studies Personal And Global Possibilities:

Futures Studies Charles E. Whaley, 1984-01-01 Explores alternatives available for shaping personal and global futures as the world becomes more complex Dynamite in the Classroom Sandra Schurr, 1989 Anticipate the School You Want Arthur Shostak, 2008-08-16 Across America especially in the aftermath of 9 11 parents rely on K12 schooling to prepare their children for the shocks the perils and especially the bright possibilities that are part of our warp speed future A new generation of school staffers is forging a fresh learning partnership with youngsters for whom creative computer based schooling is as natural as breathing Together these staffers and students seek empowering ways to draw on futuristics a pedagogy that makes the most of the study of tomorrow Anticipate the School You Want offers pragmatic program ideas along with many operational hints Additionally it shares a blueprint for developing the nation s first high school of the future and a design for conducting a biannual Futures Fair America urgently needs an educational pathway for developing long range forecasters and Shostak provides recommendations for reaching that pathway Strengthened by numerous annotated citations for articles books and Web sites the book enables school staffers to draw on futuristics as they have always wanted to ably confidently and with confidence that it makes a desirable lasting difference Reframing the Early Childhood Curriculum Jane M. Page, 2000 Argues that pre school children have a less apprehensive view of the future than adolescents and that an effective programme in the early years can counteract the difficulties youths experience Reframing the Early Childhood Curriculum Jane Page, 2002-01-04 Pre school children have fundamentally different attitudes towards the future and attendant notions of time and space For this reason early childhood professionals are optimally placed to lay important foundations for young children s long term development Children s flexibility of thought their positive and constructive outlook on life their sense of the continuity of time their creativity and imagination and their sense of personal connection with time and the future are all qualities that should be recognized and addressed in early childhood educational programmes as a means of counteracting the difficulty youths experience in knowing what to expect in their future lives and coming to understand their roles in shaping them Reframing the Early Childhood Curriculum offers fresh insight into examining futurists and early childhood theorists thinking of the relevance of planning for children s long term needs in early childhood identifying the skills attitudes and outlooks required to assist young children attending early childhood programmes in their long term growth and development exploring the means through which these skills attitudes and outlooks can be achieved in curriculum frameworks through specific goals and learning experiences against the background of youth and young children s views of the future Handbook of Futures Studies Roberto Poli, 2024-07-05 This insightful Handbook emphasizes the unique contribution that Futures Studies offers when understanding and managing current situations Contributing authors argue that by learning to examine the future in the present individuals and organizations can expand their abilities to analyze assess and ultimately make better decisions This title contains one or more Open Access
