Fast-Talking Dames Maria DiBattista, 2008-10-01 There is nothing like a dame proclaims the song from South Pacific Certainly there is nothing like the fast talking dame of screen comedies in the 1930s and 40s In this engaging book film scholar and movie buff Maria DiBattista celebrates the fast talking dame as an American original Coming of age during the Depression the dame a woman of lively wit and brash speech epitomized a new style of self reliant articulate womanhood Dames were quick on the uptake and hardly ever downbeat They seemed to know what to say and when to say it In their fast and breezy talk seemed to lie the secret of happiness but also the key to reality DiBattista offers vivid portraits of the grandest dames of the era including Katharine Hepburn Irene Dunne Rosalind Russell Barbara Stanwyck and others and discusses the great films that showcased their compelling way with words and with men With their snappy repartee and vivid colloquialisms these fast talkers were verbal muses at a time when Americans were reinventing both language and the political institutions of democratic culture

As they taught their laconic male counterparts most notably those appealing but tongue tied American icons Gary Cooper Henry Fonda and James Stewart the power and pleasures of speech they also reimagined the relationship between the sexes In such films as Bringing Up Baby The Awful Truth and The Lady Eve the fast talking dame captivated moviegoers of her time For audiences today DiBattista observes the sassy heroine still has much to say The Star System Paul

Phillips, Ginette Vincendeau,2019-07-25 A comprehensive guide to European actors in American film this book brings together 15 chapters with A Z entries on over 900 individuals It includes case studies of prominent individuals and phenomena associated with the emigres such as the stereotyping of European actresses in bad women roles and the irony of Jewish actors playing Nazis Pre-Code Hollywood Thomas Doherty,1999-08-27 Pre Code Hollywood explores the fascinating period in American motion picture history from 1930 to 1934 when the commandments of the Production Code Administration were violated with impunity in a series of wildly unconventional films a time when censorship was lax and Hollywood made the most of it Though more unbridled salacious subversive and just plain bizarre than what came afterwards the films of the period do indeed have the look of Hollywood cinema but the moral terrain is so off kilter that they seem imported from a parallel universe In a sense Doherty avers the films of pre Code Hollywood are from another universe They lay bare what Hollywood under the Production Code attempted to cover up and push offscreen sexual liaisons unsanctified by the laws of God or man marriage ridiculed and redefined ethnic lines crossed and racial barriers ignored economic injustice exposed and political corruption assumed vice unpunished and virtue unrewarded in sum pretty much the raw stuff of American culture unvarnished and unveiled No other book has yet sought to interpret the films and film related meanings of the pre Code era what defined the period why it ended and what its relationship was to the country as a whole during the darkest years of the Great Depression and afterward

Theaters of Occupation Jennifer Fay, 2008 In the aftermath of total war and unconditional surrender Germans found themselves receiving instruction from their American occupiers It was not a conventional education In their effort to transform German national identity and convert a Nazi past into a democratic future the Americans deployed what they perceived as the most powerful and convincing weapon movies In a rigorous analysis of the American occupation of postwar Germany and the military's use of soft power Jennifer Fay considers how Hollywood films including Ninotchka Gaslight and Stagecoach influenced German culture and cinema In this cinematic pedagogy dark fantasies of American democracy and its history were unwittingly played out on screen Theaters of Occupation reveals how Germans responded to these education efforts and offers new insights about American exceptionalism and virtual democracy at the dawn of the cold war Fay's innovative approach examines the culture of occupation not only as a phase in U S German relations but as a distinct space with its own discrete cultural practices As the American occupation of Germany has become a paradigm for more recent military operations Fay argues that we must question its efficacy as a mechanism of cultural and political change Jennifer Fay is associate professor and codirector of film studies in the Department of English at Michigan State University

George Cukor's People Joseph McBride, 2024-12-17 The director of classic films such as Sylvia Scarlett, The Philadelphia Story, Gaslight, Adam's Rib, A Star Is Born, and My Fair Lady, George Cukor is widely admired but often misunderstood. Reductively stereotyped in his time as a woman's director, a thinly veiled disparaging code for gay, he brilliantly directed a wide range of iconic actors and actresses including Cary Grant, Greta Garbo, Spencer Tracy, Joan Crawford, Marilyn Monroe, and Maggie Smith. As Katharine Hepburn, the star of ten Cukor films, told the director: "All the people in your pictures are as goddamned good as they can possibly be, and that's your stamp." In this groundbreaking, lavishly illustrated critical study, Joseph McBride provides insightful and revealing essayistic portraits of Cukor's actors in their most memorable roles. The queer filmmaker gravitated to socially adventurous, subversively rule-breaking, audacious dreamers who are often sexually transgressive and gender fluid in ways that seem strikingly modern today. McBride shows that Cukor's seemingly self-effacing body of work is characterized by a discreet way of channeling his feelings through his actors. He expertly cajoled actors, usually gently but sometimes with bracing harshness, to delve deeply into emotional areas they tended to keep safely hidden. Cukor's wry wit, his keen sense of psychological and social observation, his charm and irony, and his toughness and resilience kept him active for more than five decades in Hollywood. George Cukor's People gives him the in-depth, multifaceted examination his rich achievement deserves.

Classical Hollywood Cinema, Sexuality, and the Politics of the Face Paul Morrison, 2020-11-30 Classical Hollywood Cinema: Sexuality and the Politics of the Face examines the representation of iconic female faces in the golden age of Hollywood: Greta Garbo, Gloria Swanson, Elizabeth Taylor, and the gay male fetishization of those faces. Classical Hollywood cinema is given to an aesthetic and ideological struggle between rival scopophilic economies: an erotics of to-be-looked-at-ness is countered by a hermeneutics of to-be-seen-through-ness. The latter emerges triumphant, but the legendary female faces of Hollywood resist in their different ways, a coercive and normalizing knowledge which is the source of the gay male investment in them. A disciplinary society privileges a hermeneutics of gaze; the iconic female faces of classical Hollywood cinema demand an erotics. Classical Hollywood Cinema: Sexuality and the Politics of the Face explores the tension between the two through detailed readings of Ninotchka, Sunset Boulevard, and Suddenly, Last Summer in the context of early and mid-century cinema and culture. It includes, for instance, an analysis of D.W. Griffith and blackface, the Stonewall riots, and the coming into voice of the modern gay subject. Several major films by Hitchcock, Citizen Kane, and the emergence of rival standards of beauty, both female and male, in figures such as Katharine Hepburn, Ingrid Bergman, Humphrey Bogart, Rock Hudson, and James Dean. This is an important study for students of queer theory, film theory, and history, and gender and sexuality studies.
