has become increasingly pronounced In the case of the French Caribbean the work of several writers Aime Cesaire Frantz Fanon Edouard Glissant and Patrick Chamoiseau for example has gained international recognition and has formed a vital part of more general debates on history culture language and identity in the post colonial world. The majority of such writers however have been male and perhaps recalling the preference that France has always shown for the island have come in large part from Martinique Mapping a Tradition Francophone Women's Writing from Guadeloupe aims to explore a different side of francophone Caribbean writing through the examination of selected novels by Jacqueline Manicom Michele Lacrosil Maryse Conde Simone Schwarz Bart and Dany Bebel Gisler Placing the work of these writers in the context of that of their better known male counterparts this study argues that it has provided an important mode of intervention in and disruption of a literary tradition which has failed to address questions of sexual difference and has often excluded issues relating to French Caribbean women At the same time this study suggests that Guadeloupean women s writing of the last thirty years may he seen to constitute a tradition in itself replete with its own influences and inheritances At once within and outside the dominant tradition women s writing from Guadeloupe and Martinique has come to occupy a position at the forefront of contemporary efforts to expand and redefine a still burgeoning corpus of literary and theoretical work with Empire Justin Izzo, 2019-05-06 In Experiments with Empire Justin Izzo examines how twentieth century writers artists and anthropologists from France West Africa and the Caribbean experimented with ethnography and fiction in order to explore new ways of knowing the colonial and postcolonial world Focusing on novels films and ethnographies that combine fictive elements and anthropological methods and modes of thought Izzo shows how empire gives ethnographic fictions the raw materials for thinking beyond empire s political and epistemological boundaries In works by French surrealist writer Michel Leiris and filmmaker Jean Rouch Malian writer Amadou Hamp t B Martinican author Patrick Chamoiseau and others anthropology no longer functions on behalf of imperialism as a way to understand and administer colonized peoples its relationship with imperialism gives writers and artists the opportunity for textual experimentation and political provocation It also Izzo contends helps readers to better make sense of the complicated legacy of imperialism and to imagine new democratic futures Atlantic Cross-currents Susan Z. Andrade, 2001 Taken from a poem by Nivi Osumdare Atlantic Cross Currents Transatlantiques was the theme of the 1993 meeting of the African Literature Association held in Guadeloupe suggesting the movement of people languages cultures and ideas The papers included in this volume are divided into three clusters the first focusing on forms of linguistic communication and literary genres the second on the construction of gender memory history and revolt against patriarchy and the third on political change and nation building Legacies of Enslavement in the French Republic Nicola Frith, 2025-05-06 Legacies of Enslavement in the French Republic explores the complex dynamics between social movements invested in remembering and addressing the legacies of African enslavement and the French State Exploring 25 years of activism from the build up to the 150th anniversary of the Abolition Act 1998 through to the present day the book Investigates strategies used by the French State to delink the recognition of France's enslaving past from contemporary issues with anti Black racism and reparation Asks why in the wake of the first Taubira law that recognized slavery as a crime against humanity 2001 the state has legitimized the work of certain activist groups while delegitimizing others Uses critical race theory and decolonial theory to examine the extent to which the State's approach to recognizing its past is structured by a colonial matrix of power Highlights and contests political and media misconceptions about reparations by showcasing the work of grassroots activists operating in France the Caribbean and the Indian Ocean In doing so Legacies of Enslavement showcases some of the key shifts that have taken place in the recent history of activist work operating in parallel with the successive metamorphoses of the French state as it responds to social and political pressure to recognize and repair the nation s enslaving past and its racial legacies today Patrick Chamoiseau Wendy Knepper, 2012-01-09 Patrick Chamoiseau A Critical Introduction examines the career oeuvre and literary theories of one of the most important Caribbean writers living today Chamoiseau s work sheds light on the dynamic processes of creolization that have shaped Caribbean history and culture He is the recipient of numerous literary prizes including the prestigious Prix Goncourt for the epic novel Texaco The author's diverse body of work which includes plays novels fictionalized memoirs treatises and other genres of writing offers a compelling vision of the postcolonial world from a francophone Caribbean perspective An important addition to Caribbean literary studies Patrick Chamoiseau is an indispensable work for scholars interested in francophone Caribbean and world literatures as well as cultural studies Scholars and students with interests in creolization neocolonialism and globalization will find this work particularly valuable Patrick Chamoiseau brings the writer s major works of fiction into dialogue with lesser known texts including unpublished theatrical works screenplays visual texts and treatises This holistic comprehensive and largely chronological study of Chamoiseau s oeuvre includes analyses of various authorial strategies especially the use of narrative masques cross cultural storytelling techniques and creolizing Race, Culture, and Identity Shireen K. Lewis, 2006-01-01 In this groundbreaking book Shireen Lewis gives a poetics comprehensive analysis of the literary and theoretical discourse on race culture and identity by Francophone and Caribbean writers beginning in the early part of the twentieth century and continuing into the dawn of the new millennium Examining the works of Patrick Chamoiseau Rapha l Confiant Aim C saire L opold Senghor L on Damas and Paulette Nardal Lewis traces a move away from the preoccupation with African origins and racial and cultural purity toward concerns of hybridity and fragmentation in the New World or Diasporic space In addition to exploring how this shift parallels the larger debate around modernism and postmodernism Lewis makes a significant contribution by arguing for the inclusion of Martinican intellectual Paulette Nardal and other women into the canon as significant contributors to the birth of modern black Francophone literature Crossroads of Colonial Cultures Gesine Müller, 2018-04-23 The study examines cultural effects of various colonial systems of government in the Spanish and French speaking Caribbean in a little investigated period of transition from the French Revolution to the abolition of slavery in Cuba 1789 1886 The comparison of cultural transfer processes by means of literary production from and about the Caribbean embedded in a broader context of the circulation of culture and knowledge deciphers the different transculturations of European discourses in the colonies as well as the repercussions of these transculturations on the motherland s ideas of the colonial other The loss of a culturally binding centre in the case of the Spanish colonies in contrast to France's strong presence and binding force is accompanied by a multirelationality which increasingly shapes hispanophone Caribbean literature and promotes the pursuit for political independence The book provides necessary revision to the idea that the 19th century Caribbean can only be understood as an outpost of the European metropolises Examining the kaleidoscope of the colonial Caribbean opens new insights into the early processes of cultural globalisation and questions our established concept of a genuine western modernity Updated and expanded translation of Die koloniale Karibik Transferprozesse in hispanophonen und frankophonen Literaturen De Gruyter mimesis 53 2012 Antillanité, créolité, littérature-monde Isabelle Constant, Kahiudi C.
