

EMERALD SQUARE MALL

The image shows the interior of a large, modern shopping mall. The space is characterized by a high ceiling with a complex, geometric pattern of white beams and a series of tall, white columns. The floor is polished and reflects the overhead lights. In the foreground, a person is silhouetted against the bright light coming from the far end of the mall. To the right, there is a potted plant. The overall atmosphere is one of a large, open, and somewhat empty public space.

When the Clock Struck in 1916 Derek Molyneux,Darren Kelly,2015-03-20 Well I ve helped to wind up the clock I might as well hear it strike Michael Joseph O Rahilly The Easter Rising of 1916 was a seminal moment in Ireland s turbulent history For the combatants it was a no holds barred clash the professional army of an empire against a highly motivated well drilled force of volunteers What did the men and women who fought on the streets of Dublin endure during those brutal days after the clock struck on 24 April 1916 For them the conflict was a mix of bloody fighting and energy sapping waiting with meagre supplies of food and water little chance to rest and the terror of imminent attacks The experiences recounted here include those of 20 year old Sean McLoughlin who went from Volunteer to Captain to Commandant General in five days his cool head under fire saved many of his comrades Volunteer Robert Holland a sharpshooter who continued to fire despite punishing rifle recoil Volunteer Thomas Young's mother who acted as a scout leading a section through enemy infested streets the 27th Sherwood Foresters NCO who died when the grenade he threw at Clanwilliam House bounced off the wall and exploded next to his head 2nd Lieutenant Guy Vickery Pinfield of the 8th Royal Hussars who led the charge on the main gate of Dublin Castle and became the first British officer to die in the Rising This account of the major engagements of Easter Week 1916 takes us onto the shelled and bullet ridden streets of Dublin with the foot soldiers on both sides of the conflict into the collapsing buildings and through the gunsmoke The Liberties Maurice Curtis, 2013-03-11 Following the murder of Thomas Becket King Henry II came to Ireland He decreed that an abbey be founded in his memory and the monks that founded it were to be free from city taxes and rates This Liberty expanded and took in the part of Dublin which today is known as the Liberties one of Dublin's oldest and most interesting parts of the capital occupying a unique place in Ireland's social and cultural history In this book author Maurice Curtis explores this fascinating history and its significance to the people of Dublin We Go Into Action Today at Noon ... Eamonn Duggan, 2021-10-11 Nearly 2 000 people gave detailed statements to the Bureau of Military History between 1947 and 1957 about their role in Ireland's fight for freedom The statements are the recollections of many of those who participated in the 1916 Easter Rising and the War of Independence 1919 1921 Recently released to scholars and researchers they allow a much broader view of what actually happened in the fateful decade that led to independence from the British Empire They offer a remarkable window into a tumultuous era in Ireland's modern history when men and women rose up against British rule and demanded independence The statements examined in the book reflect the views of republican men and women from all facets of society They were urban and rural dwellers middle and working class individuals farmers labourers and professionals all of whom came together in the pursuit of one common goal Their statements confirm the commitment they gave to the independence cause and are testaments to the courage and determination they displayed in their efforts to achieve a free and independent Ireland Eamonn Duggan explores the individual contributions of these remarkable people and what they add to the history we thought we knew A fascinating view of a vital period in Irish history from 1913 to Independence
