Emergency Care for Children Institute of Medicine, Board on Health Care Services, Committee on the Future of Emergency Care in the United States Health System, 2007-06-08 Children represent a special challenge for emergency care providers because they have unique medical needs in comparison to adults. For decades policy makers and providers have recognized the special needs of children but the system has been slow to develop an adequate response to their needs. This is in part due to inadequacies within the broader emergency care system. Emergency Care for Children examines the challenges associated with the provision of emergency services to children and families and evaluates progress since the publication of the Institute of Medicine report Emergency Medical Services for Children 1993, the first comprehensive look at pediatric emergency care in the United States.
