richesses sont riches philosophiques psychanalytiques et scientifiques devient un véritable lieu de rencontre d'inspirations et de savoirs divers. L'étude que voici se donne un double objectif : analyser le parcours riche du poète, c'est-à-dire partir de l'anabase extérieure, traverser un continent, puis la destruction des terres par la violence, et finalement création d'une nouvelle ville pour aboutir à cette anabase intérieure qui mène au Moi profond du poète, c'est le point sensible du front où le poète se tablit. Quelle importance faut-il accorder à la dimension psychanalytique lorsque nous lisons Saint-John Perse ? Le poète peut-il être fini comme un miroir de l'inconscient ? Voici quelques-unes des interrogations qui ont guidé l'auteur du présent livre dans sa lecture intéressante et originale de cette œuvre extrêmement riche.

Orphan Narratives Valérie Loichot, 2007. In Orphan Narratives Valérie Loichot investigates the fiction and poetry of four writers who emerged from the postslavery plantation world of the Americas: William Faulkner (USA), Édouard Glissant (Martinique), Toni Morrison (USA) and Saint-John Perse (Guadeloupe). She shows how these descendants from slaves and from slaveholders wrote both in relation and in resistance to the violence of plantation slavery. She uses the term orphan narrative to capture the ways in which this violence severed the child, the text and history from a traceable origin. Black or white, male or female, Antillean or American, these writers share a common inheritance and transnational connection through which their texts maintain familial, temporal and narrative patterns without having any central authority figure. The author specifically cites Saint-John Perse's Eloges (1911), Faulkner's Light in August (1932), Morrison's Song of Solomon (1977) and Glissant's La Case du commandeur (1981) as postslavery texts. Where the actual family is dismembered, these narrative accounts invent new familial links. Reciprocally, biological family ties endure despite the literal and discursive violence inflicted upon them. Breaking new ground in trans-American studies by juxtaposing texts from the francophone Lesser Antilles and the US South, Orphan Narratives will be a valuable addition to Caribbean, American and postcolonial studies, not to mention its appeal to scholars and students of Faulkner, Glissant, Morrison and Saint-John Perse.

Eloges Saint-John Perse, 1960. Postcolonial Francophone Autobiographies Edgard Sankara, 2011-08-03. Bringing a comparative perspective to the study of autobiography, Edgard Sankara considers a cross-section of postcolonial francophone writing from Africa and the Caribbean in order to examine and compare for the first time their transnational reception. Sankara not only compares the ways in which a wide selection of autobiographies were received locally as well as in France, but also juxtaposes reception by the colonized and the colonizer to show how different meanings were assigned to the works after publication. Sankara's geographical and cultural coverage of Africa and its diaspora is rich with separate chapters devoted to the autobiographies of Hampât B. Valentin, Mudimbe Kesso Barry, Patrick Chamoiseau, Raphaël Confiant and Maryse Condé. The author combines close reading, reception study and postcolonial theory to present an insightful survey of the literary connections among these autobiographers as well as a useful point of departure for further exploration of the genre itself, the role of reception studies in postcolonial criticism and of the stance that postcolonial francophone writers choose to take regarding their communities of origin.
