Elusive Equality The Status Of Black Americans In Higher Education:

Elusive Equality Lorenzo Morris, 1979 The Racial Crisis in American Higher Education William A. Smith, Philip G. Altbach, Kofi Lomotey, 2012-02-01 Why is it that as we enter the twenty first century the nation's predominantly white colleges and universities continue to be settings where people of color feel unwelcome and marginalized The contributors to this volume dissect a variety of structural and attitudinal factors that are prevalent in the higher education community organizational constructs and value orientations which seem to hark more to the past than to the future They comment on the political social and economic factors that have shaped academic culture and buttressed its quietly efficient maintenance of racially discriminatory practices The American system of higher education is often regarded as the best in the world Smith Altbach and Lomotey have edited a volume that implicitly asks how much better still it could be if it embraced people of color and provided them with a supportive and nurturing environment one which encouraged them to reach their fullest creative and intellectual potential Indeed this will probably be the most significant challenge that the academy faces in the twenty first century William B Harvey Vice President and Director Office of Minorities in Higher Education American Council on Education Washington D C The State of Black America 1981 James D. Williams, 1981-01-01 In Pursuit of Equality in Higher Education Anne S. Pruitt-Logan, Anne S. Pruitt, 1987 The Education of African-Americans Charles V. Willie, Antoine M. Garibaldi, Wornie L. Reed, 1991-05-23 As part of a project on the status of African Americans that was initiated by the William Monroe Institute for the Study of Black Culture at the University of Massachusetts at Boston this volume takes a comprehensive look at the education of African Americans specifically early childhood through postsecondary education and relevant public policy issues since 1940 The list of contributors to the study includes both white and black scholars who are affiliated with primarily urban institutions located in the Northwest the South and on the East Coast who are deeply committed to educational research By focusing on the known status of the education of African Americans to date and the additional factors which need to be considered in order to develop appropriate educational strategies these essays evaluate current programs and provide recommendations for public policy improvements Each essay addresses some aspect of the history of the education of African Americans or the effectiveness of pertinent laws and policies enacted within the past fifty years Trends in the educational advancement of Blacks are clearly defined with particular focus on the forecasting of circumstances that could affect future progress Topics ranging from counseling and guidance of minority children to the need for more Black teachers and the continuing struggle with racial violence on campus demonstrate the broad scope of this volume Suggestions for further reading on a specific topic appear in the list of references at the end of each chapter

Afro-American Life, History and Culture, 1985 Out of the Revolution Delores P. Aldridge, Carlene Young, 2000-11-01 The introduction of Black studies programs into institutions of higher education was a direct response to the mandate for change at all levels that characterized the civil rights movement and the social rebellions of the 1950s and 1960s In Out of the Revolution Delores P Aldridge and Carlene Young collect thirty one of the nation s top scholars to provide a complete reference for understanding the impetus for the development of and future considerations for the discipline of Africana studies Topics addressed include epistemological considerations humanistic perspectives the role of bureaucracy and the academic institution the social psychological political and economic dimensions the position of black women in the field and how the discipline has empowered the black student This invaluable resource for educators and students alike concludes with a look at graduates in Africana studies and their careers and a discussion of the future of the field Encyclopedia of African-American Education Charles A. Toward Black Undergraduate Student Equality in American Higher Education Michael Nettles,A. Robert Thoeny,1988-03-30 This book addresses some of the issues of equity and equality for Black undergraduates in higher education during the latter years of the twentieth century It provides analyses of black students experiences and performance at predominantly white colleges as well as Black colleges and also examines the role of federal and state governments as well as private interest groups in achieving equity for blacks in higher education Offering a contemporary perspective on the issues confronting colleges and universities as they strive to obtain equity for minorities this timely work offers recommendations based on recent research that will assist them in achieving some of their goals The book concentrates on postsecondary education and considers such topics as academic performance and experience improving preparation for post collegiate experiences improving preparation for academic and professional careers in the scientific disciplines expanding the role of the federal and state governments and developing an agenda for private interest group involvement in achieving equality for Blacks in higher education EBOOK: Higher Education And The Lifecourse Maria Slowey,David Watson,2003-10-16 key arguments for policy and practice for lifelong learning in higher education Higher Education Digest At the beginning of the 21st century it is increasingly clear to professionals at all levels of formal and informal education that we need to refresh the concept of lifelong learning Most importantly the concept needs to be expanded so that it is lifelong and lifewide concerned not just with serial requirements of those already engaged but also with the creation of opportunities for those who have not found the existing structures and processes accessible or useful This book discusses resulting arguments about policy and practice in three parts Part One focuses on the lifelong dimension addressing in particular the changing nature of the student population Part Two investigates the lifewide connections between higher education and other areas of social and economic life Part Three offers a structural analysis based on research on changing needs of learners and setting out some key implications for higher education Higher Education and the Lifecourse provides a timely analysis of the higher education sector and will be an important resource for graduate students researchers policy makers and senior managers within the fields of higher and post compulsory education The Edge of Campus Gordon D. Morgan,Izola Preston,1990-01-01 Written by the first black faculty member employed at the University and his wife a longtime research assistant this book chronicles the setbacks and triumphs in their attempts to bring true integration to the University of Arkansas Race, Rigor, and Selectivity in U. S. Engineering Amy E. Slaton,2010-06-01 Despite the educational and professional advances made by minorities in recent decades African Americans remain woefully underrepresented in the fields of science technology mathematics and engineering Even at its peak in 2000 African American representation in engineering careers reached only 5.7 percent while blacks made up 15 percent of the U.S. population Some forty five years after the Civil Rights Act sought to eliminate racial differences in education and employment what do we make of an occupational pattern that perpetually follows the lines of race Race Rigor and Selectivity in U.S. Engineering pursues this question and its ramifications through historical case studies Focusing on engineering programs in three settings in Maryland Illinois and Texas from the 1940s through the 1990s Amy E. Slaton examines efforts to expand black opportunities in engineering as well as obstacles to those reforms Her study reveals aspects of admissions criteria and curricular emphases that work against proportionate black involvement in many engineering programs Slaton exposes the negative impact of conservative ideologies in engineering and of specific institutional processes ideas and practices that are as limiting for the field of engineering as they are for the goal of greater racial parity in the profession Individual and
