Floodland And Forest Memories Of The Chilliwack Valley:

Floodland and Forest The Royal British Columbia Museum, Imbert Orchard, Be of Good Mind Bruce Granville Miller, 2011-11-01 In this book anthropologists archaeologists historians linguists and Aboriginal leaders describe the Coast Salish Aboriginal peoples living in western British Columbia and Washington State They focus on how Coast Salish lives and identities have been influenced by the two colonizing nations and on by shifting Aboriginal circumstances The volume builds on new scholarship to move beyond existing academic views of the Coast Salish which largely derive from ecological anthropology in creating a new view of the Coast Salish world Contributors point to the continual reshaping of Coast Salish identities and our understandings of them through litigation and language revitalization as well as community efforts to reclaim their connections with the environment Equally important is the development of much more detailed local and regional history and archaeology They point to significant continuity of networks of kinfolk spiritual practices and understandings of landscape This is the first book length effort to directly incorporate Aboriginal perspectives and a broad interdisciplinary approach to research about the Coast Salish

Indian Education in Canada, Volume 1 Jean Barman, Yvonne Hébert, Don McCaskill, 2011-11-01 The two volumes comprising Indian Education in Canada present the first full length discussion of this important subject since the adoption in 1972 of a new federal policy moving toward Indian control of Indian education Volume 1 analyzes the education of Indian children by whites since the arrival of the first Europeans in Canada Volume 2 is concerned with the wide ranging changes that have taken place since 1972

Sound Heritage Series, 1981 Canadiana, 1984 The Fraser Valley John A. Cherrington, 1992 This book overviews the history of the region extending from Hope to the mouth of the Fraser River excluding the broad Burrard plateau comprising Burnaby and Vancouver Note to the reader Sound Heritage Saeko Usukawa, 1984 Canadian Book Review Annual, 1984 Imagine Please Dennis Duffy, 1983 Imagine Please focuses on the development of private and public broadcasting in British Columbia revealed through the tape recordings of the people who made that history It also draws on other reference material government documents city directories newspapers and unpublished manuscripts The main sources however are the broadcasters themselves This book also reflects the goal of the Provincial Archives of British Columbia to collect preserve and make available for research the historical records of broadcasting both private and public in British Columbia Imagine Please takes its title from a dramatic series produced by Fletcher Markle for CKWX in 1940 and 1941 It underscores one of the main themes of this book that before the coming of television radio broadcasting was a vehicle of imagination as well as information
