Flowers Calendar:

The Japanese Floral Calendar Ernest Wilson Clement, 1904      The Floral Calendar, Monthly and Daily, 1839

The Book of the Seasons, Or, the Calendar of Nature William Howitt, 1839      Folklore and Symbolism of Flowers, Plants and Trees Ernst Lehner, Johanna Lehner, 2003-10-23 This profusely illustrated archive of more than 200 flowers plants and trees was compiled by two of the world's foremost collectors of pictorial symbols who also happen to be devoted flower enthusiasts. Their comprehensive collection rendered from rare illustrations extends from ancient Chinese lotus buds to a basket of flowers in a 19th century Valentine silhouette. Bouquets, wreaths, flowers of the months and other floral designs are also included. In addition to providing a table summarizing the symbolic meanings of every known species from absinth to zinnia, the authors explain the religious, magical and legendary significance of such flora as the mandrake, resurrection flower and mistletoe and trace the development of many horticultural images in heraldic devices, emblems and symbols. A visual treat for flower lovers, this essential sourcebook for artists, designers and folklore enthusiasts will also be of value to botanical and gardening specialists.

The Japanese Floral Calendar Ernest Clement, 2014-09-15 From the Introduction: THE JAPANESE are a nature loving people and frequently give practical expression to their feelings by taking a holiday simply for flower viewing. At the proper season the entire nation so to speak takes a day off and turns out on a big picnic to see the plum blossoms or the cherry blossoms or the maples or the chrysanthemums. No utilitarian views of the value of time or miserly conceptions of the expense of such outings prevail for a moment for the Japanese are worshippers of beauty rather than of the almighty dollar. A few pennies on such occasions bring many pleasures and business interests are sacrificed at the shrine of beauty. And as one or more flowers are blooming every month there is almost a continuous round of such picnics during the year. Having lived in Japan for some time it is my purpose therefore to tell my American countrymen something of the flower or flowers popular each month with some folk lore poems or other description thereof and have it illustrated by pictures. But first we must call attention to the fact that the Japanese word hana includes not only a flower or blossom according to our conceptions but also twigs, leaves, grasses etc so that the pine, the maple and even the snow may come into this category. We are confronted at the very outset with a chronological difficulty in presenting this subject to Western readers. For the programme of Japanese floral festivals was originally arranged on the basis of the old lunar calendar so long in vogue in Japan. By that calendar the New Year came in about the 21st of January to the 18th of February so that it was from three to seven weeks behind the Occidental solar calendar. For instance the following is a floral programme according to the old style: First month about February Pine, Second month about March Plum, Third month about April Cherry, Fourth month about May Wistaria, Fifth month about June Iris, Sixth month about July Tree peony, Seventh month about August Lespedeza, Eighth month about September Eularia, Ninth month about October Chrysanthemum, Tenth month about November Maple, Eleventh month about December Willow, Twelfth month about January Paulownia. But when Japan adopted the Gregorian calendar many of the floral festivals were transferred to the new style without regard to the awful anachronism that followed In the case of the pine which is chosen for the first month on account of the prominent part that it plays in the New Year's decorations it makes no special difference whether the New Year begins January 1 or February 18 But in many other cases the calendar suffers serious dislocation because some of the flowers cannot conveniently be moved back a month or more The autumn full moon too in whose festival certain blossoms figured cannot be arbitrarily hurried up Hence it is rather difficult for the flowers of Old Japan to run on the new Occidental schedule     Messages of Flowers George Henry O'Neill, 1917     Chinese Flower Arrangement H. L. Li, 2012-10-09 Illustrated history of Chinese floral art provides practical suggestions for applying traditional methods to modern settings including selecting flowers for symbolic qualities and beauty Forty two illustrations span centuries of Chinese paintings prints tapestries and porcelains     The Publishers' Trade List Annual, 1893     The Flower Garden Martin Doyle, 1835     The Floral Art of Japan Josiah Conder, 1899     iPhoto '11: The Missing Manual David Pogue, Lesa Snider, 2011-03-15 With better ways to get your photos online and new options for creating printed projects iPhoto 11 makes it easier than ever to transfer photos from a digital camera organize them and publish print or share them in maps but there's still no printed manual for the program Fortunately David Pogue and Lesa Snider team up in this witty authoritative book that should have been in the box Organize your collection Discover all of the options for grouping your pictures by events in albums or based on who's in the photo or where it was taken Sharpen your editing skills Learn how to use iPhoto's beefed up editing options including its Photoshop like adjustments panel Share images online Get your photos to everyone on your list by publishing them to Flickr Facebook and MobileMe Dive into creative projects Have fun building slideshows with music gift books calendars and cards     The American Stationer, 1893     The every-day book and table-book; or, Everlasting calendar of popular amusements William Hone, 1837     Weekly Florists' Review Gilbert Leonard Grant, 1929     Flowers and Flower Lore Hilderic Friend, 1884     The Publishers Weekly, 1911     The Bookseller and the Stationery Trades' Journal, 1897 Official organ of the book trade of the United Kingdom     The Universe Félix-Archimède Pouchet, 1902     The Western Farmer and Gardener, 1848     The Western Farmer and Gardener, and Horticultural Magazine, 1844
