Flowers Of Tarbes Or Terror In Literature:

The Flowers of Tarbes, Or, Terror in Literature Jean Paulhan, 2006 Paulhan's seminal work in English for the first time Les Fleurs de Tarbes ou la terreur dans les lettres first published as a single volume in 1941 was considered by Jean Paulhan to be the furthest reaching expression of his thinking about literature and language It is now recognized as a landmark text in the history of twentieth century literary criticism and in the emergence of contemporary literary theory This is the first time it has been translated into English The playful tone and quirky casual style of Paulhan's writing mask a theoretical intent and seriousness of purpose that are extraordinarily prescient In The Flowers of Tarbes Paulhan probes the relationship between language meaning context intention and action with unremitting tenacity and in so doing produces a major treatise on the nature of the literary act and a meditation on what we might now call the responsibility or ethical imperative of literature itself

Encyclopedia of Contemporary Literary Theory Irene Rima Makaryk, 1993-01-01 The last half of the twentieth century has seen the emergence of literary theory as a new discipline As with any body of scholarship various schools of thought exist and sometimes conflict within it I R Makaryk has compiled a welcome guide to the field Accessible and jargon free the Encyclopedia of Contemporary Literary Theory provides lucid concise explanations of myriad approaches to literature that have arisen over the past forty years Some 170 scholars from around the world have contributed their expertise to this volume Their work is organized into three parts In Part I forty evaluative essays examine the historical and cultural context out of which new schools of and approaches to literature arose The essays also discuss the uses and limitations of the various schools and the key issues they address Part II focuses on individual theorists It provides a more detailed picture of the network of scholars not always easily pigeonholed into the categories of Part I This second section analyses the individual achievements as well as the influence of specific scholars and places them in a larger critical context Part III deals with the vocabulary of literary theory It identifies significant complex terms places them in context and explains their origins and use Accessibility is a key feature of the work By avoiding jargon providing mini bibliographies and cross referencing throughout Makaryk has provided an indispensable tool for literary theorists and historians and for all scholars and students of contemporary criticism and culture

The Marquis de Sade and the Avant-Garde Alyce Mahon, 2020-05-26 This is the first book to examine the cultural history of Marquis de Sade's 1740-1814 philosophical ideas and their lasting influence on political and artistic debates An icon of free expression Sade lived through France's Reign of Terror and his writings offer both a pitiless mirror on humanity and a series of subversive metaphors that allow for the exploration of political sexual and psychological terror Generations of avant garde writers and artists have responded to Sade's philosophy as a means of liberation and as a radical engagement with social politics and sexual desire writing fiction modelled on Sade's novels illustrating luxury editions of his works and translating his ideas into film photography and painting In The Sadean Imagination Alyce Mahon examines how Sade used images and texts as forms that could explore and dramatize the concept of terror on political physical and psychic levels and how avant garde artists have continued to engage in a complex dialogue with his works Studying Sade s influence on art from the French Revolution through the twentieth century Mahon examines works ranging from Anne Desclos s The Story of O to images texts and films by Man Ray Pier Paolo Pasolini Guillaume Apollinaire Jean Jacques Lebel and Peter Brook She also discusses writings and responses to Sade by feminist theorists including Angela Carter and Judith Butler Throughout she shows how Sade s work challenged traditional artistic expectations and pushed the boundaries of the body and the body politic inspiring future artists writers and filmmakers to imagine and portray the unthinkable

Passive Voices (On the Subject of Phenomenology and Other Figures of Speech) Kristina Mendicino,2023-02-01 At least since Aristotle s Peri hermeneias there has been talk of the pathos of language of language as symbols of the affections in the soul The way these affections are registered however suggests that they are themselves structured like language For Aristotle and others language is suffered before any sense can be voiced The pathos of language thus becomes a question of how language affects the subject of speech and in the last analysis of how language could respond to these questions of language Passive Voices On the Subject of Phenomenology and Other Figures of Speech approaches these questions first through readings of Augustine s investigations into language and mind and Edmund Husserl s descriptions of passive synthesis It then traces the further resonance of Augustine s and Husserl s interventions in selected literary experiments by Georges Bataille Franz Kafka and Maurice Blanchot that recall Husserl and Augustine while exceeding the restrictive fictions of phenomenological science In drawing out the echoes that emerge across confessional philosophical and fictional writings this book exposes the ways in which speech occurs in the passive voice and affects any claim to experience

The Power of Rhetoric, the Rhetoric of Power Michael Syrotinski,2004-01-01 This volume includes topics on Jean Paulhan as editor and critic rhetoric and what really happens rhetoric and politics and the power of literature plus two texts by Jean Paulhan

Artmaking in the Age of Global Capitalism Bryant Jan Bryant,2019-09-11 Jan Bryant looks at the strategies visual artists and filmmakers are using to criticise the social and economic conditions shaping our historical moment She then assesses how the world is being positively re imagined through their work today Located at the intersection of practice and theory Bryant argues that an effective contemporary political aesthetics encompasses more than just analysis of a work s conceptual or aesthetic reality It should also consider the impact the artwork has at the point of reception the methods adopted by the artists and the relationships they engender with communities

The Seduction of Unreason Richard Wolin,2019-04-30 Ever since the shocking revelations of the fascist ties of Martin Heidegger and Paul de Man postmodernism has been haunted by the specter of a compromised past In this intellectual genealogy of the postmodern spirit Richard Wolin shows that postmodernism s infatuation with fascism has been extensive and widespread He questions postmodernism s claim to have inherited the mantle of the Left suggesting instead that it has long been enamored with the opposite end of the political spectrum Wolin reveals how during in the 1930s C G

Jung Hans Georg Gadamer Georges Bataille and Maurice Blanchot were seduced by fascism's promise of political regeneration and how this misapprehension affected the intellectual core of their work The result is a compelling and unsettling reinterpretation of the history of modern thought In a new preface Wolin revisits this illiberal intellectual lineage in light of the contemporary resurgence of political authoritarianism

Civilisation and Fear Wojciech Kalaga, Agnieszka Kłis, 2012-03-15 Paradoxically if nature has always been a source of fear civilisation its other and at the same time the epitome of progress and order has not only doubled fear itself but also added its new sister anxiety In effect the notions of civilisation fear and anxiety can hardly be separated Fear either linked with anxiety or distinct from it lies at the foundation of civilisation which as much promises to shelter us from these afflictions as it does proliferate them Confronted no longer with the adversary powers of nature humans have to face now the adversary powers produced by their own endeavours and ideologies Each effort aimed at attaining an equilibrium results in new unexpected rifts and breaches into which fear and anxiety grow Out of the games played between fear and civilisation there emerge new versions of the human subject homo anxious homo civilis homo rationalis This volume represents a collection of papers devoted to the many various relations between fear and society culture and civilisation both Western and Eastern contemporary and past The articles collected here approach the relationship of civilisation fear anxiety and the subject from multiple perspectives Relating to modern critical thought including that of Kant Freud Derrida Kierkegaard and Heidegger they investigate the objects causes and effects of fear reality nature reason libidinal excess atheism critical discourse technological advances conspiracy terrorism capital punishment the diversity of cultures and the breakdown of civilisation as a whole most of all however they explore the various shades of fear itself

Roots and Routes: Poetics at New College of California Patrick James Dunagan, Marina Lazzara, Nicholas James Whittington, 2020-10-06 Roots and Routes gathers essays talks interviews statements notes and other prose writings by poets who studied and or taught at the New College of California's Masters in Poetics program over the course of its nearly 30 year existence The collection evokes a much needed anti hierarchical even anarchic pedagogy in poetry poetics and the literary arts and is part of a general reevaluation of standard higher education models on Creative Writing As such it will appeal to a wide range of students and scholars interested in America's recent literary history as well as to poets outside the academy and the general reader interested in US poetry and poetics

Nonmodern Practices Elisabeth Arnould-Bloomfield, Claire Chi-ah Lyu, 2020-10-01 This collection of essays responds to the urgent call in the humanities to go beyond the act of negative critique which so far has been the dominant form of intellectual inquiry in academia The contributors take their inspiration from Bruno Latour's pragmatic relational approach and his philosophy of hybrid world where culture is immanent to nature and knowledge is tied to the things it co creates In such a world nature society and discourse relate to rather than negate each other The 11 essays ranging from early modern humanism and modern theorization of literature to contemporary political ecology and animal studies propose new productive ways of thinking reading and writing with not against the world In carrying out concrete practices that are inclusive rather than exclusive contributors strive to exemplify a form of scholarship that might be better attuned to the concerns of our post humanist era

The Ontology of Death Aaron Aquilina, 2023-05-18 Through examination of the death penalty in literature Aaron Aquilina contests Heidegger's concept of being towards death and proposes a new understanding of the political and philosophical subject Dickens Nabokov Hugo Sophocles and many others explore capital punishment in their works from Antigone to Invitation to a Beheading Using these varied case studies Aquilina demonstrates how they all highlight two aspects of the experience First they uncover a particular state of being or more precisely non being that comes with a death sentence and second they reveal how this state exists beyond death row as sovereignty and alterity are by no means confined to a prison cell In contrast to Heidegger's being towards death which individualizes the subject only I can die my own death supposedly this book argues that when condemned to death the self and death collide putting under erasure the category of subjectivity itself Be it death row or not when the supposed futurity of death is brought into the here and now we encounter what Aquilina calls relational death Living on with death severs the subject's relation to itself the other and political sociality as a whole rendering the human less a named and recognizable being than an anonymous living corpse a human thing In a sustained engagement with Blanchot Levinas Hegel Agamben and Derrida The Ontology of Death articulates a new theory of the subject beyond political subjectivity defined by sovereignty and beyond the Heideggerian notion of ontological selfhood

Persuasion after Rhetoric in the Eighteenth Century and Romanticism Yasmin Solomonescu, Stefan H. Uhlig, 2024-07-18 While the question of how rhetoric lost authority to modern philosophical and scientific inquiry has drawn much scrutiny we have paid less attention to how values that were once bound up with rhetoric were rearticulated after its demise This volume explores how persuasion ceased to be the seemingly self evident objective of rhetoric and became instead a variable and substantive focus for discussion in its own right After rhetoric ceded much of its centrality to logic and empirical procedures the significance and implications of persuasion were the subject of renewed attention in a range of different fields including philosophy law poetry novels botany cultural criticism historiography political thought and public lecturing Persuasion after Rhetoric in the Eighteenth Century and Romanticism maps how values of persuasion were adapted and diversified in ways that still resonate with current arguments about conviction understanding and belief Contributors address the figurations of persuasion in a range of theorists and writers from Jean Jacques Rousseau Adam Smith Immanuel Kant Edmund Burke and Mary Wollstonecraft to Samuel Richardson Jane Austen Thomas De Quincey Thomas Campbell William Hazlitt Heinrich Heine William Lloyd Garrison and Frances Ellen Watkins Harper This collection offers a detailed account of persuasive interests at the threshold of modernity It also prompts us to rethink persuasion now that its continued efficacy seems at risk in a fragmented public sphere

Gertrude Stein in Europe Sarah Posman, Laura Luise Schultz, 2015-10-22 Although often hailed as a quintessentially American writer the modernist poet novelist and playwright Gertrude Stein 1874 1946 spent most of her life in France With chapters written by leading international scholars Gertrude Stein in Europe is the first sustained exploration of the European artistic and intellectual networks in which Stein's work was first developed and circulated Along the way the book investigates the European contexts of Stein's writing how her own work intersected with European thought including phenomenology and the vitalist work of Henri Bergson and ultimately how it was received by scholars and artists across the continent Gertrude Stein in Europe opens up new perspectives on Stein as a writer and on the centrality of artistic and intellectual networks to European modernism

God's Mirror Katherine Davies, Toby Garfitt, 2014-12-01 Gathering in one place a cohesive selection of articles that deepen our sense of the vitality and controversy within the Catholic renewal of the mid twentieth century God's Mirror offers historical analysis of French Catholic intellectuals This volume highlights the work of writers thinkers and creative artists who have not always drawn the attention given to such luminaries as Maritain Mounier and Marcel Organized around the typologies of renewal and engagement editors Katherine Davies and Toby Garfitt provide a revisionist and interdisciplinary reading of the narrative of twentieth century French Catholicism Renewal and engagement are both manifestations of how the Catholic intellectual reflects and takes position on the relationship between the Church personal faith and the world and on the increasingly problematic relationship between intellectuals and the Magisterium A majority of the writings are based on extensive research into published texts with some occasional archival references and they give critical insights into the tensions that characterized the theological and political concerns of their subjects

Understanding Bergson, Understanding Modernism S. E. Gontarski, Paul Ardoyn, Laci Mattison, 2013-01-17 Henri Bergson is frequently cited amongst the holy trinity of major influences on Modernism literary and otherwise alongside Sigmund Freud and William James Gilles Deleuze's Bergsonism has re popularized Bergson for the 21st century so much so that perhaps our Bergson is Deleuze's Bergson. Despite renewed interest in Bergson, his influence remains understudied and consequently undervalued. While books examining the impact of Freud and James on Modernism abound, Bergson's impact, though widely acknowledged, has been closely examined much more rarely. Understanding Bergson: Understanding Modernism remedies this deficiency in three ways. First, it offers close readings and critiques of six pivotal texts. Second, it reassesses Bergson's impact on Modernism while also tracing his continuing importance to literature, media, and philosophy throughout the twentieth and into the 21st century. In its final section, it provides an extended glossary of Bergsonian terms, complete with extensive examples and citations of their use across his texts. The glossary also maps the influence of Bergson's work by including entries on related writers, all of whom Bergson either corresponded with or critiqued.

Femininity and Psychoanalysis Agnieszka Piotrowska, Ben Tyrer, 2019-05-29 For Freud, famously, the feminine was a dark continent or a riddle without an answer. This understanding concerns man's relationship to the question of woman, but femininity is also a matter of sexuality and gender, and therefore of identity and experience. Drawing together leading academics, including film and literary scholars, clinicians, and artists from diverse backgrounds, Femininity and Psychoanalysis: Cinema Culture Theory speaks to the continued relevance of psychoanalytic understanding in a social and political landscape where ideas of gender and sexuality are undergoing profound changes. This transdisciplinary collection crosses boundaries between clinical and psychological discourse and arts and humanities fields to approach the topic of femininity from a variety of psychoanalytic perspectives. From object relations to Lacan to queer theory, the essays here revisit and rethink the debates over what the feminine might be. The volume presents a major new work by leading feminist film scholar Elizabeth Cowie, in which she presents a first intervention on the topic of film and the feminine for over 20 years, as well as a key essay by the prominent artist and psychoanalyst Bracha Ettinger. Written by an international selection of contributors, this collection is an indispensable tool for film and literary scholars engaged with psychoanalysts and anybody interested in different approaches to the question of the feminine.

Postcolonial Thought in the French Speaking World Charles Forsdick, David Murphy, 2022-04-01 In the late 1990s, Postcolonial Studies risked imploding as a credible area of academic enquiry. Repeated anthologization and an overemphasis on the English language literatures led to sustained critiques of the field, and to an active search for alternative approaches to the globalized and transnational formations of the postcolonial world. In the early twenty-first century, however, postcolonial began to reveal a new openness to its comparative dimensions. French language contributors to postcolonial debate, such as Édouard Glissant and Abdelkebir Khatibi, have recently risen to greater prominence in the English-speaking world, and there have also appeared an increasing number of important critical and theoretical texts on postcolonial issues written by scholars working principally on French language material. It is to such a context that this book responds. Acknowledging these shifts, this volume provides an essential tool for students and scholars outside French departments seeking a way into the study of Francophone colonial/postcolonial debates. At the same time, it supplies scholars in French with a comprehensive overview of essential ideas and key intellectuals in this area Genesis and Validity Martin Jay, 2021-11-12 The essays in this collection by one of the most recognized figures in the field of intellectual history touch on a wide variety of topics ranging from the heroism of modern life to the ability of photographs to lie and explore the fraught connection between the truth of history and the truthfulness of historians
