Kennedy, 2013-11-20 During the Long Classical Millennium fourth century BC to eighth century AD Northwest Jordan was part of two worlds looking west to the Mediterranean as well as east towards the Arabian desert It was not only a collection of distinctive micro regions but a virtual island isolated by geography on all sides Here one finds historical and archaeological data of an intensity and quality probably superior to that of any region in the Near East other than Israel This book exploits some of that evidence to explain the character of an unusual region with a dense network of cities and an unexpected surge of settlement which reached a peak and extent not encountered again until the mid twentieth century It explores and develops some of the principal themes one may investigate for the region of Northwest Jordan but which often apply to the Near East as a whole A Companion to the Hellenistic and Roman Near East Ted Kaizer, 2022-01-06

Discover a comprehensive and cross disciplinary handbook exploring several sub regions and key themes perfect for a new generation of students A Companion to the Hellenistic and Roman Near East delivers the first complete handbook in the area of Hellenistic and Roman Near Eastern history The book is divided into sections dealing with interdisciplinary source material each with a great deal of regional variety and engaging with several key themes It integrates discussions of the classical Near East with the typical undergraduate teaching syllabus in the Anglo Saxon world All contributors in this edited volume are leading scholars in their field with a combination of established researchers and academics and emerging voices

Contributors hail from countries across several continents and work in various disciplines including Ancient History Archaeology Art History Epigraphy Numismatics and Oriental Studies In addition to furthering the integration of the Levantine lands in the classical periods into the teaching canon the book offers readers The first comprehensively structured Companion and edited handbook on the Hellenistic and Roman Near East Extensive regional and sub regional variety in the cross disciplinary source material A way to compensate for the recent destruction of monuments in the region and the new generation of researchers inability to examine these historical stages in person An integration of the study of the Hellenistic and Roman Near East with traditional undergraduate teaching syllabi in the Anglo Saxon world Perfect for undergraduate history and classics students studying the Near East A Companion to the Hellenistic and Roman Near East will also earn a place in the libraries of graduate students and scholars working within Near Eastern studies as well as interested members of the public with a passion for history

Vrbes Extinctae Andrea Augenti, 2016-12-05 Core tourist sites for the classical world are the ruins of those many and scattered examples of lost and abandoned towns from Pompeii to Timgad to Ephesus and Petra Usually studied for their peaks and growth rarely are their ends explored in detail to consider the processes of loss and also to trace their afterlives when they were often robbed for materials even if still hosting remnant populations This volume breaks new ground by examining the phenomenon of urban loss and abandonment from Roman to medieval times across the former Roman Empire Through a series of case studies two main aspects are examined firstly the sequences and chronologies of loss of sites roles structures people identity and secondly the methodologies of study of these sites from early discoveries and exploitation of such sites to current archaeological and scientific approaches notably excavation urban survey georadar and geophysics to studying these crucial centres and their fates How can we determine the causes of urban failure whether economic military environmental political or even religious How drawn out was the process of urban decay and abandonment What were the natures of the afterlives of these sites which archaeology is beginning to trace How far does scrutiny of these extinct sites help in discussion of archaeological trajectories of sites that persisted The fourteen core chapters in this collection consider specific examples and case studies of such lost classical cities from across the many Roman provinces in order to address these questions Bringing together an array of archaeological and historical voices to share views on and findings from excavations and surveys of failed towns this volume offers much to scholars of Roman late antique and early medieval and medieval archaeology and history were first delivered as papers at the Alexander von Humboldt Stiftung Kolleg Syro Palestinian Religions and the Hebrew Bible that was presented at the Stellenbosch Institute for Advanced Studies from 4-5 November 2005. The aim of the Kolleg was to bring together prominent German scholars and South African and other African scholars to discuss major issues in the present debate on the interface between Syro Palestinian religions and the study of the Hebrew Bible. Different perspectives were offered and a variety of methodologies were applied in reading and interpreting the ancient sources including texts and material sources.
