Flesh And The Ideal Winckelmann And The Origins Of Art History

Flesh And The Ideal Winckelmann And The Origins Of Art History:

Flesh and the Ideal Alex Potts, 2000-01-01 Winckelmann's writing has a richness and density that take it well beyond the bounds of the simple rationalist art history and Neo classical art theory with which it is usually associated. He often seems to speak disturbingly directly to our present awareness of the discomfiting ideological and psychic contradictions inherent in supposedly ideal symbolic forms.

Flesh and the Ideal Alex Potts, 1994-05-01 Johann Joachim Winckelmann 1717-1768 one of the most important figures ever to have written about art is considered by many to be the father of modern art history. This book is an intellectual biography of Winckelmann that discusses his magnum opus History of the Art of Antiquity in the context of his life and work in Germany and in Rome in the eighteenth century.

The Art of Art History Donald Preziosi, 1998 What is art history? Why, how, and where did it originate and how have its aims and methods changed over time? The history of art has been written and rewritten since classical antiquity. Since the foundation of the modern discipline of art history in Germany in the late eighteenth century, debates about art and its histories have intensified. Historians, philosophers, psychologists, and anthropologists among others have changed our notions of what art history has been, is, and might be. This anthology is a guide to understanding art history through a critical reading of the field's most innovative and influential texts over the past two centuries. Each section focuses on a key issue: aesthetics, style history, art iconography and semiology, gender, modernity and postmodernity, deconstruction, and museology. More than thirty readings from writers as diverse as Winckelmann, Kant, Gombrich, Warburg, Panofsky, Heidegger, Lisa Tickner, Meyer Schapiro, Jacques Derrida, Mary Kelly, Michel Foucault, Rosalind Krauss, Louis Marin, Margaret Iversen, and Nestor Canclini are brought together, and Donald Preziosi's introductions to each topic provide background information, bibliographies, and critical elucidations of the issues at stake. His own concluding essay is an important and original contribution to scholarship in the field. From the pre-publication reviews: Until now, anthologies about the history of art have tended to be worthy yet inert, plotting a linear evolution from the great precursors, Vasari, Winckelmann, to the founding fathers of the modern discipline, Wolfflin, Riegl, Panofsky, to the achievements and refinements of today's scholarship. The texts that Donald Preziosi has brought together provide something far more challenging: the juxtapositions and alignments between individual essays point the reader towards unresolved problems, ongoing debates, and paths not taken or not yet taken. In place of the consoling tale of intellectual progress, the collection defamiliarizes the whole field and opens up a space for radical reflection on its basic procedures and assumptions. Definitely the best introduction to art history currently available. Professor Norman Bryson, Harvard University. Donald Preziosi has prepared an anthology from the Greek: a collection of flowers of art history. His bouquet contains representatives from the discipline's two hundred year history, arranged in standard and innovative methodological categories. Within each, the readings selected provide stimulating congruencies and contradictions that will inspire productive debate and contemplation. But what makes this anthology more than an arresting assemblage is the author's critical stance toward what he has wrought.

His introduction and concluding chapter write around and under the subjects presented emphasizing the art of art history its kinship with modernity's post Enlightenment project and its collaboration with the rise of nationalism Thus the discipline's past is probed and questioned and made relevant for its present and future The whole thereby addresses without healing or concealing the disciplinary ruptures of modernism The book might also have explored further nature of art history's history within the emergent discourse of post colonialism and the globalization of culture Yet the many new perspectives it does offer help to re present the discipline for its readers students teachers and curators for other areas of humanistic inquiry which are being subject to similar critiques and for artists and the larger art community for whom history narrative and an accounting of art's past have once again become vital issues Professor Robert S Nelson Professor of Art History and Chair Committee for the History of Culture University of Chicago Rather than focusing on its Vasarian moment or on the later academic institutionalization of art history in the 19th and 20th centuries Donald Preziosi in The Art of Art History constructs a reading of this hegemonic and reductive practice of making the visible legible as one that is inextricably tied to the museographic paradigm of late 18th and early 19th centuries This shift he sees as equivalent in importance to the brought by the invention of perspective But the author goes further than to underline the implication of art history with the premises of modernity he makes a strong case in a vivid and inspiring prose for a tighter equation between art history and modernity an equation grounded in his insightful considerations and meteoric formulations of the epistemological setting rhetorical operations political colonialist aims and schizophrenic yet all invasive aestheticization of knowledge that in the last two centuries have fashioned what we will no longer dare to call the discipline of art history The result is a flamboyant book that offers anything but a celebratory reading of art history It does not constitute an articulation of canonical texts or an up to date menu of art historical currents methods or trends Yet it manages to avoid none of these dimensions Art history is not envisaged as the learned discourse of modernity on a specific class of objects nor is it reduced to a genealogy of outstanding artist subjects and their volatile constellations of contemporary subjects readers It becomes a practice wherein objects and subjects relate and relations often crystallize under the unrecognized aegis of the fetish this Other of art since Preziosi concisely defines art as the anti fetish fetish Far from the fantastic neutrality that is traditionally found in the format of such an historiographic endeavour Preziosi frames his selection of text and threads through them with an array of different strategic voices superimposed to stress a spatial figure he is keen to discern in order to elaborate a strong polemic position that situates art history as an enduring and well disguised fictional genre In the process the author courageously takes on the paradox that is at the core of his project to introduce students to the coming out of art history as art one that is not necessarily meant to be our coming out of it but that certainly well establishes our motives to continue to shake its grounds and its multi storied apparatus Professor Johanne Lamoureux University of Montreal

A New History of the Humanities Rens Bod,2013-11-14 Many histories of science have been written but A New History of the Humanities offers the first overarching history of the humanities from Antiquity to the present There are already historical studies of musicology logic art history linguistics and historiography but this volume gathers these and many other humanities disciplines into a single coherent account Its central theme is the way in which scholars throughout the ages and in virtually all civilizations have sought to identify patterns in texts art music languages literature and the past What rules can we apply if we wish to determine whether a tale about the past is trustworthy By what criteria are we to distinguish consonant from dissonant musical intervals What rules jointly describe all possible grammatical sentences in a language How can modern digital methods enhance pattern seeking in the humanities Rens Bod contends that the hallowed opposition between the sciences mathematical experimental dominated by universal laws and the humanities allegedly concerned with unique events and hermeneutic methods is a mistake born of a myopic failure to appreciate the pattern seeking that lies at the heart of this inquiry A New History of the Humanities amounts to a persuasive plea to give Panini Valla Bopp and countless other often overlooked intellectual giants their rightful place next to the likes of Galileo Newton and Einstein

The Barbarian Invasions Eric Michaud,2019-12-10 How the history of art begins with the myth of the barbarian invasion the romantic fragmentation of classical eternity The history of art argues ric Michaud begins with the romantic myth of the barbarian invasions Viewed from the nineteenth century the Germanic led invasions of the Roman Empire in the fifth century became the gateway to modernity seen not as a catastrophe but as a release from a period of stagnation renewing Roman culture with fresh northern blood and with new art that was anti Roman and anticlassical Artifacts of art from then on would be considered as the natural product of races and peoples rather than the creation of individuals The myth of the barbarian invasions achieved the fragmentation of classical eternity This narrative Michaud explains inseparable from the formation of nation states and the rise of nationalism in Europe was based on the dual premise of the homogeneity and continuity of peoples Local and historical particularities became weapons aimed at classicism's universalism The history of art linked its objects with racial groups denouncing or praising certain qualities as Latin or Germanic Thus the predominance of linear elements was thought to betray a southern origin and the painterly a Germanic or northern source Even today Michaud points out it is said that art best embodies the genius of peoples In the globalized contemporary art market the ethnic provenance of works categorized for example as African American Latino or Native American creates added value The market displays the same competition among races that was present at the foundation of art history as a discipline

Futures & Ruins Nina L. Dubin, Hubert Robert, 2010 In this timely and provocative study Hubert Robert's paintings of urban ruins are interpreted as manifestations of a new consciousness of time one shaped by the uncertainties of an economy characterized by the dread inducing expansion of credit frenzied speculation on the stock exchange and bold ventures in real estate As the favored artist of an enterprising Parisian elite Robert is a prophetic case study of the intersections between aesthetics and modernity's dawning business culture At the center of this lively narrative lie Robert's depictions of the ruins of Paris macabre and spectacular paintings of fires and demolitions created on the eve of the French Revolution Drawing on a vast range of materials Futures Ruins understands these artworks as harbingers of a modern appetite for destruction The paintings are examined as expressions of the pleasures and perils of a risk economy This captivating account lavishly illustrated with rarely reproduced objects recovers the critical significance of the eighteenth century cult of ruins and of Robert's art for our times

Observations on the Letter of Monsieur Mariette Giovanni Battista Piranesi, 2002 An impassioned plea for a Roman Style eclecticism that draws freely on all artistic forms and traditions Piranesi's Observations anticipates the contemporary debate between devotees of a rational minimal architecture and advocates of an architecture rich in ornament and historical references

Down from Olympus Suzanne L. Marchand, 2020-06-30 Since the publication of Eliza May Butler's Tyranny of Greece over Germany in 1935 the obsession of the German educated elite with the ancient Greeks has become an accepted if severely underanalyzed cliché In Down from Olympus Suzanne Marchand attempts to come to grips with German Graecophilia not as a private passion but as an institutionally generated and preserved cultural trope The book argues that nineteenth century philhellenes inherited both an elitist normative aesthetics and an ascetic scholarly ethos from their Romantic predecessors German neohumanists promised to reconcile these intellectual commitments and by so doing to revitalize education and the arts Focusing on the history of classical archaeology Marchand shows how the injunction to imitate Greek art was made the basis for new state funded cultural institutions Tracing interactions between scholars and policymakers that made possible grand scale cultural feats like the acquisition of the Pergamum Altar she underscores both the gains in specialized knowledge and the failures in social responsibility that were the distinctive products of German neohumanism This book discusses intellectual and institutional aspects of archaeology and philhellenism giving extensive treatment to the history of prehistorical archaeology and German orientalism Marchand traces the history of the study excavation and exhibition of Greek art as a means to confront the social cultural and political consequences of the specialization of scholarship in the last two centuries
