Contemporary Sino-French Cinemas Michelle E. Bloom, 2017-11-30 Transnational cinemas are eclipsing national cinemas in the contemporary world and Sino French films exemplify this phenomenon through the cinematic coupling of the Sinophone and the Francophone linking France not just with the Chinese mainland but also with the rest of the Chinese speaking world Sinophone directors most often reach out to French cinema by referencing and adapting it They set their films in Paris and metropolitan France cast French actors and sometimes use French dialogue even when the directors themselves don t understand it They tend to view France as mysterious sexy and sophisticated just as the French see China and Taiwan as exotic As Michelle E Bloom makes clear many films move past a simplistic opposition between East and West and beyond Orientalist and Occidentalist cross cultural interplay Bloom focuses on films that have appeared since 2000 such as Tsai Ming liang s What Time Is It There Hou Hsiao hsien s Flight of the Red Balloon and Dai Sijie s Balzac and the Little Chinese Seamstress She views the work of these well known directors through a Sino French optic applying the tropes of m tissage or biraciality intertextuality adaptation and remake translation and imitation to shed new light on their work She also calls attention to important lesser studied films Taiwanese director Cheng Yu chieh s Yang Yang which depicts the up and coming Taiwanese star Sandrine Pinna as a mixed race beauty and Emily Tang Xiaobai s debut film Conjugation which contrasts Paris and post Tiananmen Square Beijing the one an incarnation of liberty the other a place of entrapment Bloom s insightful analysis also probes what such films reveal about their Taiwanese and Chinese creators Scholars have long studied Sino French literature but this inaugural full length work on Sino French cinema maps uncharted territory offering a paradigm for understanding other cross cultural interminglings and tools to study transnational cinema and world cinema The Sino French rich and multifaceted linguistically culturally and ethnically constitutes an important part of film studies Francophone studies Sinophone studies and myriad other fields This is a must read for students scholars and lovers of film

What Makes Airplanes Fly? Peter P. Wegener, 2012-12-06 How can an airplane weighing many tons stay aloft for many hours flying so smoothly that the passengers may feel less like they are moving than they would in a car The answer of course lies in the wings and the air they are moving through and the study of the flow of air around airplane wings is part of the science of aerodynamics This book is about aerodynamics in the broadest sense In addition to airplanes it discusses the aerodynamics of cars and birds and the motion of diverse object thorough air and water The fundamental notions of mechanics and fluid dynamics that is the basic physics underlying aerodynamics are clearly explained The underlying science is discussed rigorously but only elementary mathematics is used and only occasionally To put the science into its human context the author describes with many illustrations the history of human attempts to fly and discusses the social impact of commercial aviation as well as the outlook for future developments This book is addressed primarily to readers whose background is not in physics or engineering It will deepen their knowledge of these fields and add to their appreciation of some exciting recent developements in technology This new edition has been brought up to date throughout solutions to selected excercises have been added as well as new problems and other study aids
