Flooded Reflections Of Hurricane Floyd:

Flooded Friends of Braswell Library,2004-01-01 Hurricanes Paul V. Kislow,2008 A hurricane is a tropical storm with winds that have reached a constant speed of 74 miles per hour or more Hurricane winds blow in a large spiral around a relative calm centre known as the eye The eye is generally 20 to 30 miles wide and the storm may extend outward 400 miles As a hurricane approaches the skies will begin to darken and winds will grow in strength As a hurricane nears land it can bring torrential rains high winds and storm surges A single hurricane can last for more than 2 weeks over open waters and can run a path across the entire length of the eastern seaboard August and September are peak months during the hurricane season that lasts from 1 June to 30 November This book presents the facts and history of hurricanes Flood Hazards and Health Roger Few,Franziska Matthies,2013-06-17 Flood hazards and the risks they present to human health are an increasing concern across the globe in terms of lives well being and livelihoods and the public resources needed to plan for and deal with the health impacts This book is the first detailed assessment and discussion of the global health implications of flooding and future flood risk It combines an analysis of the human health impacts of flooding with analysis of individual and societal response to those risks and sets these findings in light of potential future increases in flood hazard as a result of climate change Written and edited by leading researchers and practitioners on flood hazards and human health the volume brings together findings from epidemiological environmental social and institutional studies with analysis rooted in an approach that emphasizes the developmental as well as environmental causes of flood risk and the socially differentiated nature of vulnerability and coping capacity The first part of the book sets out the scope of the issues and provides a detailed discussion of the global health impacts of floods and the nature of human response to the health risks posed The second part presents new research evidence on specific health aspects of floods covering mental health infectious diseases local level responses and the responses of health systems drawing on case study material from Europe Africa Asia and North America including the impact of Hurricane Katrina in 2005 The conclusion synthesizes insights from the previous chapters and discusses priorities for policy practice and research It draws out implications for present and future adaptation to flooding and emphasizes the need to integrate action on health with the broader agenda of long term risk reduction This is indispensable reading for professionals and researchers working on hazard and disaster planning risk reduction and public health in all countries and contexts The North Carolina Historical Review ,2007 Analyzing and Interpreting Qualitative Research Charles Vanover,Paul Mihas,Johnny Saldana,2021-04-14 This text provides comprehensive coverage of the key methods for analyzing interpreting and writing up qualitative research in a single volume and drawing on the expertise of major names in the field Covering all the steps in the process of analyzing interpreting and presenting findings in qualitative research the authors utilize a consistent chapter structure that provides novice and seasoned researchers with pragmatic how to strategies Each chapter introduces the method uses one of the authors own research projects as a case study of the method described shows how the specific analytic method can be used in other types of studies and concludes with questions and activities to prompt class discussion or personal study USGS Water Programs in North Carolina--2001 Jerad Bales,2001 View from Here Franklin Burroughs,2024-11-29 The essays in Farnklin Burroughs new collection many of which were published in Down East magazine as part of Burroughs Room With a View column cast a wide net over the land water and wildlife of his adopted state Maine Moving casually between current events historic conservation natural observation and solid research these essays give Burrough s unique perspective to broad range of Maine s natural world Contemporary Landscape Performance Methods and Techniques Galen Newman,Rui Zhu,Dongying Li,Megan Barnes,2024-10-14 This book defines illustrates applies and explores current and future tools and methods for measuring landscape performance using the Houston Arboretum and Nature Center HANC as a case site providing the most extensive comprehensive description and application of existing landscape performance tools in the current literature to date Landscape performance is a measure of the effectiveness with which landscape solutions fulfill their intended purpose and contribute to sustainability The design of the HANC is a prime case for measuring landscape performance as the site has undergone a pervasive transformation of its 65 acre core as an initial phase of improvements The massive six year effort has reconfigured arrival circulation and parking developed new educational facilities constructed a network of walks and trails and established sustainable ecologies of prairie savannah riparian woods and upland woods across the northern half of its property This book uses landscape performance as an integral method of not only blending science into the design process but using scientific outputs as the rationale for design decision making Through this the book showcases a multitude of proven quantitative and qualitative evaluation methods which can be applied to other designs and plans calculating their specific impacts on the HANC and guiding readers through how to use each tool through an applied process This book provides a comprehensive set of tools and approaches to measuring landscape performance that could be used as a guide for other projects to replicate or expand upon The book helps move the design professions beyond simple stereotypes of simple beauty of form showcasing and describing how the design professions primarily landscape architecture are an extremely scientific and evidence based industry American Book Publishing Record ,2003 Fact Sheet ,2001 Coastal Sensitivity to Sea-level Rise ,2009 One of 21 climate change synthesis and assessment products commissioned by the U S Climate Change Science Program CCSP this report examines the effects of sea level rise impacts on society and opportunities to prepare for those consequences focusing on the eight coastal states from New York to North Carolina Using scientific literature and policy documents the report describes potential changes to barrier Black Man in a White Coat Damon Tweedy,2015-09-08 When Tweedy began medical school he envisioned a bright future where his segregated working class background would become irrelevant Instead he found himself grappling with race bias and the unique health problems of black Americans and met a professor who bluntly questioned whether he belonged in medical school In examining the complex ways in which both black doctors and patients must navigate the difficult and often contradictory terrain of race and medicine he illustrates the complex social cultural and economic factors at the root of most health problems in the black community

A Place between the Tides Harry Thurston, 2004 A Place Between the Tides is an evocative mix of scientific observation and personal memories that captures the tremendous vitality and vulnerability of marshlands For every nature writer there seems to be one special place that demonstrates the ways of the natural world and its relationship with humans For Thoreau it was a pond for Annie Dillard a creek for author Harry Thurston it is the salt marsh where land meets sea one of the most biologically diverse habitats on Earth but one that is increasingly threatened This is the story of Thurston s return to the beloved environment of his boyhood Elegantly moving back and forth in time and deftly interweaving a naturalist s observations with a personal journey he describes the seasons of the marsh over two decades Altogether Thurston documents more than 100 species of fish birds and mammals a myriad of creatures hiding in tidal pools and 70 species of plants
