Roberg examines the impact of tourism on indigenous and local populations and the environment they live in specifically in several locations in the northeast of Argentina Several of the chapters examine the lives and problems of the Mbya Guaran people an indigenous culture that has been attempting to survive in the rainforest of Misiones Province In recent years the loss of traditional lands some of which was taken for tourist hotels has led the Mbya to engage in tourism with both positive and negative changes to their culture Most of the tourists who interact with the Mbya come to the area to see the beautiful Iguazu National Park and Waterfalls and stay in the nearby city of Puerto Iguazu The waterfalls now draw over one million visitors a year The authors of this volume further explore how while Puerto Iguazu has been engaged in mass tourism for many years the nearby small town of Colonia Carlos Pelligrini has struggled to keep its younger tourism industry modest due in part to its location near pristine wetlands This town faces a number of challenges that must be addressed soon to protect both the surrounding wetlands and the town itself Tourism in Northeastern Argentina explores all of these issues and more in the context of human and indigenous rights and the protection of the environment
