Flowers of Delight Leonard de Vries,1965 Flowers of Delight Leonard De Vries,1965 Flowers of delight Leonard DeVries,1965 Flowers of Delight ,1965 Flowers of Delight Leonard de Vries,1965 Flowers of Delight Leonard de Vries,Eric Ayers,1965 Flowers of Delight Leonard de Vries,1965 Excessive Love Prostheses Margaret Christakos,2002 The heart writes Margaret Christakos is a public organ of private damage The poems in Excessive Love Prostheses confess rather than deride the complexities of contemporary desire describing a subject that is both public and private physical and virtual Excessive Love Prostheses takes the confessional lyric poem and runs it through Kathy Acker s Cuisinart Christakos shapes a sensory surfeit of pornography cautionary nursery rhymes mothering bisexuality and the paradoxes of feminism into poignant analogies for contemporary obsessions and ailments here are the voices of construction workers staple sorters obstetricians video technicians and others shattered and sorted by a practiced writerly hand The result is a near ecstatic tribute to the hyper embodied intelligence of a new millennial subject Children's Publishing and Black Britain, 1965-2015 Karen Sands-O'Connor,2017-06-23 This book examines a critical period in British children s publishing from the earliest days of dedicated publishing firms for Black British audiences to the beginnings of the Black Lives Matter movement in the UK Taking a historical approach that includes education acts Black protest community publishing and children s literature prizes the study investigates the motivation behind both independent and mainstream publishing firm decisions to produce books for a specifically Black British audience Beginning with a consideration of early reading schemes that incorporated Black and Asian characters the book continues with a history of one of the earliest presses to publish for children Bogle L Ouverture Other chapters look at the influence of community based and independent presses the era of multiculturalism and anti racism the effect of racially motivated violence on children s publishing and the dubious benefit of awards for Black British publishing The volume will appeal to children s literature scholars librarians teachers education policy makers and Black British historians Soon Come Home to This Island Karen Sands-O'Connor,2013-10-31 Soon Come Home to This Island traces the representation of West Indian characters in British children s literature from 1700 to today This book challenges traditional notions of British children s literature as monocultural by illuminating the contributions of colonial and postcolonial era Black British writers The author examines the varying depictions of West Indian islands and peoples in a wide range of picture books novels textbooks and popular periodicals published over the course of more than 300 years An excellent resource for any children s literature student or scholar the book includes a chronological bibliography of primary source material that includes West Indian characters and twenty black and white illustrations that chart the changes in visual representations of West Indians over time Public Poetics Bart Vautour,Erin Wunker,Travis V. Mason,Christl Verduyn,2015-06-08 Public Poetics is a collection of essays and poems that address some of the most pressing issues of the discipline in the twenty first century The collection brings together fifteen original essays addressing public poetry and poetics from the situated space of Canada while simultaneously troubling the notion of the nation as a stable term. It asks hard questions about who and what count as public in Canada. Critical essays stand alongside poetry as visual and editorial reminders of the cross-pollination required in thinking through both poetry and poetics. Public Poetics is divided into three thematic sections. The first contains essays surveying poetics in the present moment through the lens of the public-private divide, systematic racism in Canada, the counterpublic feminist poetics, and Canadian innovations on postmodern poetics. The second section contains author-specific studies of public poets. The final section contains essays that use innovative renderings of poetics as a means of articulating alternative communities and practices. Each section is paired with a collection of original poetry by ten contemporary Canadian poets. This collection attends to the changing landscape of critical discourse around poetry and poetics in Canada and will be of use to teachers and students of poetry and poetics.

Flowers of Delight Leonard de Vries, 1965 Encounters with American Culture
Peter Prescott, 2018-01-18 This collection of essays discusses some of the important books, authors, and literary trends of a volatile era in American and world literature whose cultural repercussions are still being felt. Peter S. Prescott was one of the most penetrating knowledgeable and sensitive critics to write for a general audience in the tradition of Edmund Wilson. Readers will discover not only Prescott's acute and subtle comments on the enduring and/or representative books of the time but also his humor and style, his way with an anecdote or aphorism, his talent for parody, and his ability to laugh at himself as well as at the authors he sometimes skewers. Prescott's writing has an immediacy and vivacity that suggests what it was like to read new books during his time. Here is one critic's view, ironic and complex, of good books by famous writers like Norman Mailer, Jorge Luis Borges, Joyce Kilmer, Carol Oates, Aleksandr Solzhenitsyn, and Vladimir Nabokov, as well as of good books by little-known writers and others who would later achieve renown. Here too is some astringent criticism of distinguished and popular authors who have fallen into self-indulgence. Prescott writes about the New Journalism in its early days and about fragmentary autobiography as a literary form, genres whose importance he was among the first to recognize. His essays also touch on theater, film, food, and politics. The criticism in this volume are examples of the literary essay in its truest sense: an attempt to explore, in however brief space allowed, what the author sees around him and connections between books and other aspects of the way people live. Always personal and urbane, these essays are often hilarious, generally moving, and exemplify the essay as an art form.

Education-Literature of the Profession, 1966 Libraries, Books, and Collectors of Texts, 1600-1900
Annika Bautz, James Gregory, 2018-05-03 This book presents the collector's role as prominently as the collections of books and texts which they assembled. Contributors explore the activities and networks shaping a range of continental and transcontinental European public and private collections during the Renaissance, Enlightenment, and modern eras. They study the impact of class, geographical location, and specific cultural contexts on the gathering and use of printed and handwritten texts and other printed artefacts. The volume explores the social dimension of book collecting and considers how practices of collecting developed during these periods of profound cultural social and political change
