human stories often obscured by broader historical narratives challenging readers to reflect on the intersections of war displacement and belonging Globalized Eating Cultures Jörg Dürrschmidt, York Kautt, 2018-09-10 This innovative volume explores the link between local and regional eating cultures and their mediatization via transnational TV cooking shows glocal food advertising and social media transfer of recipes Pursuing a global and interdisciplinary approach it brings together research conducted in Latin America Australia Africa Asia and Europe from leading scholars in sociology and political science media and cultural studies as well as anthropology Drawing on this rich case study material facilitates a revealing and engaging analysis of the connection between the meta concepts of globalization and mediatization Across fifteen chapters its authors provide fresh insights into the different impact that food and eating cultures can have on the everyday mediation of ethnicity and class as well as local regional and transnational modes of belonging in a media rich global environment This exciting addition to the food studies literature will appeal in particular to students and scholars of sociology anthropology media and cultural studies Jefferson Davis, Napoleonic France, and the Nature of Confederate Ideology, 1815-1870 Jeffrey Zvengrowski, 2020-01-06 In this highly original study of Confederate ideology and politics Jeffrey Zvengrowski suggests that Confederate president Jefferson Davis and his supporters saw Bonapartist France as a model for the Confederate States of America They viewed themselves as struggling not so much for the preservation of slavery but for antebellum Democratic ideals of equality and white supremacy The faction dominated the Confederate government and deemed Republicans a coalition controlled by pro British abolitionists championing inequality among whites Like Napoleon I and Napoleon III pro Davis Confederates desired to build an industrial nation state capable of waging Napoleonic style warfare with large conscripted armies States rights they believed should not preclude the national government from exercising power Anglophile anti Davis Confederates in contrast advocated inequality among whites favored radical states rights and supported slavery in the abstract theories that were dismissive of white supremacy Having opposed pro Davis Democrats before the war they preferred decentralized guerrilla warfare to Napoleonic campaigns and hoped for support from Britain The Confederacy they avowed would willingly become a de facto British agricultural colony upon achieving independence Pro Davis Confederates wanted the Confederacy to become an ally of France and protector of sympathetic northern states Zvengrowski traces the origins of the pro Davis Confederate ideology to Jeffersonian Democrats and their faction of War Hawks who lost power on the national level in the 1820s but regained it during Davis term as secretary of war Davis used this position to cultivate friendly relations with France and later warned northerners that the South would secede if Republicans captured the White House When Lincoln won the 1860 election Davis endorsed secession The ideological heirs of the pro British faction soon came to loathe Davis for antagonizing Britain and for offering to accept gradual emancipation in exchange for direct assistance from French soldiers in Mexico Zvengrowski's important new interpretation of Confederate ideology situates the Civil War in a global context of imperial competition It also shows how anti Davis ex Confederates came to dominate the postwar South and obscure the true nature of Confederate ideology Furthermore it updates the biographies of familiar characters John C Calhoun who befriended Bonapartist officers Davis who was as much a Francophile as his namesake Thomas Jefferson and Robert E Lee who as West Point s superintendent mentored a grand nephew of Napoleon I The last million; how they invaded France - and England Ian Hay,1919
