The Devil and the Dolce Vita Roy Domenico, 2021-09-10 Italy s economic expansion after World War Two triggered significant social and cultural change Secularization accompanied this development and triggered alarm bells across the nation s immense Catholic community The Devil and the Dolce Vita is the story of that community the church of Popes Pius XII John XXIII and Paul VI the lay Catholic Action association and the Christian Democratic Party and their efforts in a series of culture wars to preserve a traditional way of life and to engage and tame the challenges of a rapidly modernizing society Roy Domenico begins this study during the heady days of the April 1948 Christian Democratic electoral triumph and ends when pro divorce forces dealt the Catholics a defeat in the referendum of May 1974 where their hopes crashed and probably ended Between those two dates Catholics engaged secularists in a number of battles many over film and television censorship encountering such figures as Roberto Rossellini Luchino Visconti Federico Fellini and Pier Paolo Pasolini The Venice Film Festival became a locus in the fight as did places like Pozzonovo near Padua where the Catholics directed their energies against a Communist youth organization and Prato in Tuscany where the bishop led a fight to preserve church weddings Concern with proper decorum led to more skirmishes on beaches and at resorts over modest attire and beauty pageants By the 1960s and 1970s other issues such as feminism a new frankness about sexual relations and the youth rebellion emerged to contribute to a perfect storm that led to the divorce referendum and widespread despair in the Catholic camp

Rome, Ostia, Pompeii Ray Laurence, David J. Newsome, 2011-11-24 Rome Ostia Pompeii Movement and Space demonstrates how studies of the Roman city are shifting focus from static architecture to activities and motion within urban spaces This volume provides detailed case studies from the three best known cities from Roman Italy revealing how movement contributes to our understanding of the ways different elements of society interacted in space and how the movement of people and materials shaped urban development The chapters in this book examine the impressions left by the movement of people and vehicles as indentations in the archaeological and historical record and as impressions upon the Roman urban consciousness Through a broad range of historical issues this volume studies movement as it is found at the city gate in public squares and on the street and as it is represented in texts Its broad objective is to make movement meaningful for understanding the economic cultural political religious and infrastructural behaviours that produced different types and rhythms of interaction in the Roman city This volume s interdisciplinary approach will inform the understanding of the city in classics ancient history archaeology and architectural history as well as cultural studies town planning urban geography and sociology

Fear of Freedom Carlo Levi, 2008 Carlo Levi was a painter writer and antifascist Italian from a Jewish family and his political activism forced him into exile for most of the Second World War While in exile he wrote Christ Stopped at Eboli a memoir and Fear of Freedom a philosophical meditation on humanity s flight from moral and spiritual autonomy and our resulting loss of self and creativity Brooding on what surely appeared to be the decline if not the fall of Europe Levi locates the human abdication of responsibility in organized religion and its ability to turn the sacred into the sacrificial In doing so he references the entire intellectual and cultural estate of Western civilization from the Bible and Greek mythology to Sigmund Freud and Carl Jung This edition features newly published pieces of Levi s artwork and publication of the work It also includes an introduction that discusses Levi s life and enduring legacy Fear of Freedom not only addresses a specific moment in history and a universal timeless condition but it is also a powerful indictment of our contemporary moral and political failures

Cinematic Rome Richard Wrigley, 2008 This collection is based on the papers given at a conference at the University of Nottingham in September 2005 The conference was intended to explore Rome as a site for the making of films and also its changing role as a setting for cinematic narrative The resulting collection of essays will contribute to the burgeoning genre of studies on cinema and the city by focusing on one particularly rich case study both for the nature of the films discussed and the complexities of the city and its representation The volume will also reach beyond film studies in so far as the subject draws on and informs other approaches to Rome s cultural history geography art history urban history classics The essays address topics ranging from the interwar period to the present A diverse set of cinematic interactions and interventions are placed within the context of the evolving architectural social and political fabric of Rome in a period of rapid and often traumatic historical change Implicit in the conception of the conference was the idea that cinematic representations of the city inherit and rework established habits of visualisation used to produce images of the Eternal city Three other tropes which constitute key elements in Rome s international reputation can be seen as being embedded in cinematic narratives Firstly the trope of transformation artistic narratives Firstly the trope of transformation artistic psychological spiritual secondly the city s reputation as a cosmopolitan crossroad Thirdly Rome s status as a locus classicus for the juxtaposition of the ancient and the modern which was given a new relevance and complexity in films which sought to focus on aspects of contemporary life be it in the Fascist era or the extreme contrasts of poverty and international bohemianism of the postwar era Rome as a Guide to the Good Life Scott Samuelson,2023-04-24 A unique portable guidebook that sketches Rome's great philosophical tradition while also providing an engaging travel companion to the city. This is a guidebook to Rome for those interested in both la dolce vita and what the ancient Romans called the vita beata the good life. Philosopher Scott Samuelson offers a thinker's tour of the Eternal City rooting ideas from this philosophical tradition within the geography of the city itself. As he introduces the city's great works of art and its most famous sites the Colosseum the Forum the Campo de Fiori Samuelson also gets to the heart of the knotty ethical and emotional questions they pose. Practicing philosophy in place Rome as a Guide to the Good Life tackles the profound questions that most tours of Rome only bracket. What does all this history tell us about who we are. In addition to being a thoughtful philosophical companion Samuelson is also a memorable tour guide taking us on plenty of detours and pausing to linger over an afternoon. Negrini sample four classic Roman pastas or explore the city's best hidden gems. With Samuelson's help we understand why Rome has inspired philosophers such as Lucretius and Seneca poets and artists such as Horace and Caravaggio filmmakers like Fellini and adventurers like Rosa Bathurst. This eclectic guidebook to Roman philosophy is for intrepid wanderers and armchair travelers alike anyone who wants not just a change of scenery but a change of soul.

Possess the Air Taras Grescoe,2019-10-15 A Globe and Mail Fall 2019 Book to Watch. Whoever you are you are sure to be a severe critic of Fascism and you must feel the servile shame. But even you are responsible for your inaction. Do not seek to justify yourself with the illusion that there is nothing to be done. That is not true. Every person of courage and honour is quietly working for a free Italy. Even if you do not want to join us there are still TEN THINGS which you can do. You can and therefore you must. These unsayable words printed on leaflets that rained down on Mussolini's headquarters in the heart of Rome at the height of the dictator's power drive the central drama of Possess the Air. This is the story of freedom fighters who defied Italy's despot by opposing the rising tide of populism and xenophobia. Chief among them poet and aviator Lauro de Bosis firstborn of an Italian aristocrat and a New Englander who transformed himself into a modern Icarus and amazed the world as he risked his life in the skies to bring Il Duce down. Taras Grescoe's inspiring story of resistance risk and sacrifice paints a portrait of heroes in the fight against authoritarianism. This is an essential
