Flemish Illuminated Manuscripts 1400 155:

Piety in Pieces Kathryn M. Rudy, 2016-09-26 Medieval manuscripts resisted obsolescence Made by highly specialised craftspeople scribes illuminators book binders with labour intensive processes using exclusive and sometimes exotic materials parchment made from dozens or hundreds of skins inks and paints made from prized minerals animals and plants books were expensive and built to last They usually outlived their owners Rather than discard them when they were superseded book owners found ways to update amend and upcycle books or book parts These activities accelerated in the fifteenth century Most manuscripts made before 1390 were bespoke and made for a particular client but those made after 1390 especially books of hours were increasingly made for an open market in which the producer was not in direct contact with the buyer Increased efficiency led to more generic products which owners were motivated to personalise It also led to more blank parchment in the book for example the backs of inserted miniatures and the blank ends of textual components Book buyers of the late fourteenth and throughout the fifteenth century still held onto the old connotations of manuscripts that they were custom made luxury items even when the production had become impersonal Owners consequently purchased books made for an open market and then personalised them filling in the blank spaces and even adding more components later This would give them an affordable product but one that still smacked of luxury and met their individual needs They kept older books in circulation by amending them attached items to generic books to make them more relevant and valuable and added new prayers with escalating indulgences as the culture of salvation shifted Rudy considers ways in which book owners adjusted the contents of their books from the simplest add a marginal note sew in a curtain to the most complex take the book apart embellish the components with painted decoration add more quires of parchment By making sometimes extreme adjustments book owners kept their books fashionable and emotionally relevant This study explores the intersection of codicology and human desire Rudy shows how increased modularisation of book making led to more standardisation but also to more opportunities for personalisation She asks What properties did parchment manuscripts have that printed books lacked What are the interrelationships among technology efficiency skill loss and standardisation Between France and Flanders Susie Nash, British Library, 1999-01-01 Examining manuscript illumination in Amiens in its historical and socio economic context the author pinpoints the artistic interchange between France and Flanders Flemish Miniatures from the 8th to the Mid-16th Century Maurits Smeyers, 1999 A beautiful overview of the development in style of the miniature From the anonymous and modest early Romanesque illustrations to the luxurious late Gothic miniatures of Simon Marmion or Lucas Horenbout who in the fifteenth and sixteenth centuries exported their Flemish masterpieces as far afield as Spain and Russia Never before has the reader viewer been presented with such a complete overview of the art of Flemish miniatures from the eighth to the sixteenth centuries Never before has a book presented such a fascinating history of eight centuries of the art of miniatures from the Low Countries Never before have so many miniatures more than 600 colour illustrations been reproduced in one book This publication offers an overview of the style of the Flemish miniature from the anonymous and modest early Romanesque illustrations to the luxurious late Gothic miniatures some of which were exported as far afield as Spain and Russia Flemish Painting Outside Bruges, 1400-1500 Barbara G. Lane,1986 The Renaissance Reform of the Book and Britain David Rundle,2019-05-02 Reform of the script was central to the humanist agenda this book suggests a new explanation of its international success The Winter Missal of Arnold of Rummen Carolyn Coker Joslin Watson,2024-11-18 The Hundred Years War the Plague the van Artevelde uprising conflict between a count and an aspiring count Corpus Christi and the Eucharist these are the context for the enigmatic manuscript studied in this book Above all this missal from Ghent is outstanding for its rich and inventive penwork flourishing given life by the prayer pulses of the text and enriched by cycles of development The lowly two line initial emerges as the primary locus of creative interaction between painting and flourishing Illumination produced by a priest and a layman is notable for its theological richness and is enlivened by distinctive gorgons The Flemish Primitives Musées royaux des beaux-arts de Belgique,Anne Dubois,1996 The fifth volume examines all the works painted by anonymous masters Most works of the 15th and early 16th centuries are not signed Several of these works have not proved possible to attribute to a known painter or to a master with a provisional name These works labelled as anonymous have been little studied until now because they are in general thought to be of lesser quality and because researchers have prioritised the study of more important masters It is however becoming increasingly apparent that these reflect the ongoing production of the time in the Southern Netherlands Beside the fact that these paintings represent the themes that enjoyed a certain popularity at the time their study opens perspectives onto the socio economic context and workshop practice These paintings could be destined for a broad market and betray different working methods allowing for swift execution in several copies Furthermore two of these anonymous works dating from around 1400 or a little bit later rank amongst the rare representatives of pictorial production in the Southern Netherlands prior to the technical innovations introduced by the Flemish Primitives This production is by convention called pre Eyckian painting Illuminating the Renaissance Thomas Kren,Scot McKendrick,2003-07-01 This comprehensive and richly illustrated catalogue focuses on the finest illustrated manuscripts produced in Europe during the great epoch in Flemish illumination During this aesthetically fertile period beginning in 1467 with the reign of the Burgundian duke Charles the Bold and ending in 1561 with the death of the artist Simon Bening the art of book painting was raised to a new level of sophistication Sharing inspiration with the celebrated panel painters of the time illuminators achieved astonishing innovations in the handling of color light texture and space creating a naturalistic style that would dominate tastes throughout Europe for nearly a century Centering on the notable artists of the period Simon Marmion the Vienna Master of Mary of Burgundy Gerard David Gerard Horenbout Bening and others the catalogue examines both devotional and secular manuscript illumination within a broad context the place of illuminators within the visual arts including artistic exchange between book painters and panel painters the role of court patronage and the emergence of personal libraries and the international appeal of the new Flemish illumination style Contributors to the catalogue include Maryan W Ainsworth curator of European paintings at the Metropolitan Museum of Art independent scholar Catherine Reynolds and Elizabeth Morrison assistant curator of manuscripts at the Getty Museum Illuminating the Renaissance is published in conjunction with an exhibition organized by the Getty Museum the Royal Academy of Arts London and the British Library to be held at the Getty Museum from June 17 to September 7 2003 and at the Royal Academy of Arts from November 25 2003 to February 22 2004 The Cambridge History of the Book in Britain Richard Gameson, Lotte Hellinga, Nigel J. Morgan, Rodney M. Thomson, J. B. Trapp, John Barnard, David McKitterick, 1999-12-09 This volume of The Cambridge History of the Book in Britain presents an overview of the century and a half between the death of Chaucer in 1400 and the incorporation of the Stationers Company in 1557 The profound changes during that time in social political and religious conditions are reflected in the dissemination and reception of the written word The manuscript culture of Chaucer's day was replaced by an ambience in which printed books would become the norm The emphasis in this collection of essays is on the demand and use of books Patterns of ownership are identified as well as patterns of where why and how books were written printed bound acquired read and passed from hand to hand The book trade receives special attention with emphasis on the large part played by imports and on links with printers in other countries which were decisive for the development of printing and publishing in Britain Medieval and Renaissance Manuscripts in the Walters Art Gallery Lilian M. C. Randall, 1997 The collection of over 500 medieval and Renaissance manuscripts at the Walters Art Gallery in Baltimore includes Bibles liturgical texts didactic tracts chronicles romances and many books for private devotion Catalogue raisonné des livres d'Heures conservés au Québec Brenda Dunn-Lardeau, 2018-08-28T00:00:00-04:00 Le Québec possède un trésor inconnu un ensemble de 24 livres d'Heures augmentés de 50 pièces connexes feuillets de livres de membrures enluminures de coupes etc et réparties dans les fonds anciens de divers musées bibliothèques et archives de la province Ce catalogue raisonné dévoile ce précieux patrimoine européen couvrant la période allant de 1225 à 1583 et conservé en Amérique du Nord The Art of the Illuminated Manuscript David Metheny Robb, 1973 The Art of Illumination Timothy Husband, J. Paul Getty Museum, Metropolitan Museum of Art (New York, N.Y.), 2008 Patinir Joachim Patinir, 2007 Imagining the Miraculous Anna D. Russakoff, 2019 This is not a book about miraculous images of the Virgin Mary but rather about their representations in French illuminated manuscripts from ca 1250 to ca 1450 Illustrations such as these point to the ubiquity of local miraculous Marian images in devotional practices from the thirteenth to the fifteenth century in French speaking regions This book examines in systematic fashion a large quantity of images mostly unpublished from the various types of texts devoted to Marian miracles It then analyzes the depiction of their materiality and the animated miracles they perform and traces their evolution from the earliest narratives of Marian miracles written in Old French through to the Burgundian court of the late Middle Ages Early Netherlandish Painting Otto Pächt, 1997 This volume follows on from Pacht's work on the Van Eycks and their circle to encompass the great artists of the fifteenth and sixteenth centuries Figures such as Van Der Weyden Bouts Christus Van Der Goes and Memling as well as lesser known artists are examined in turn With detailed discussion of particular paintings style and symbolism Catalog of Printed Books of the Folger Shakespeare Library, Washington, D. C. : First Supplement Folger Shakespeare Library, 1976 Medieval Pets Kathleen Walker-Meikle, 2012 Animals in the middle ages have often been discussed but usually only as a source of food as beasts of burden or as aids for hunters This book takes a completely different angle showing that they were also beloved domestic companions to their human owners It offers a full survey of pets and pet keeping how they were acquired kept fed exercised and displayed it looks at the problems pets could cause and finally how they were mourned It also examines the representation of pets and their owners in art and literature the many charming illustrations offer further evidence for the bonds between humans and their pets then as now Dr Kathleen Walker Meikle is a Wellcome Trust Fellow at the University of York working on animals and medieval medicine Revue d'histoire ecclésiastique , 1996 Each vol includes an annual bibliography 1915 20 consist of bibliography only English Medieval Misericords Paul Hardwick, 2011 Misericord carvings present a fascinating corpus of medieval art which in turn complements our knowledge of life and belief in the late middle ages Subjects range from the sacred to the profane and from the fantastic to the everyday seemingly giving equal weight to the scatological and the spiritual alike Focusing specifically on England though with cognisance of broader European contexts this volume offers an analysis of misericords in relation to other cultural artefacts of the period Through a series of themed case studies the book places misericords firmly within the doctrinal and devotional milieu in which they were created and sited arguing that even the apparently coarse images to be found beneath choir stalls are intimately linked to the devotional life of the medieval English Church The analysis is complemented by a gazetteer of the most notable instances Dr Paul Hardwick is Professor in English Leeds Trinity University College
