Genre Imagery in Early Modern Northern Europe Arthur J. DiFuria, 2017-07-05 Exploring the rich variety of pictorial rhetoric in early modern northern European genre images this volume deepens our understanding of genre's place in early modern visual culture From 1500 to 1700 artists in northern Europe pioneered the category of pictures now known as genre portrayals of people in ostensibly quotidian situations Critical approaches to genre images have moved past the antiquated notion that they portray uncomplicated slices of life describing them instead as heavily encoded pictorial essays laden with symbols that only the most erudite contemporary viewers and modern iconographers could fully comprehend These essays challenge that limiting binary revealing a more expansive array of accessible meanings in genre's

deft grafting of everyday scenarios with a rich complex of experiential cultural political and religious references Authors deploy a variety of approaches to detail genre s multivalent relations to older more established pictorial and literary categories the interplay between the meaning of the everyday and its translation into images and the multifaceted concerns genre addressed for its rapidly expanding unprecedentedly diverse audience The Ashgate Research Companion to

Women and Gender in Early Modern Europe Jane Couchman,2016-03-23 Over the past three decades scholars have transformed the study of women and gender in early modern Europe This Ashgate Research Companion presents an authoritative review of the current research on women and gender in early modern Europe from a multi disciplinary perspective The authors examine women s lives ideologies of gender and the differences between ideology and reality through the recent research across many disciplines including history literary studies art history musicology history of science and medicine and religious studies The book is intended as a resource for scholars and students of Europe in the early modern period for those who are just beginning to explore these issues and this time period as well as for scholars learning about aspects of the field in which they are not yet an expert The companion offers not only a comprehensive examination of the current research on women in early modern Europe but will act as a spark for new research in the field

Seventeenth-Century Flemish Garland Paintings Susan Merriam,2017-07-05 Focusing on three celebrated northern European still life painters Jan Brueghel Daniel Seghers and Jan Davidsz de Heem this book examines the emergence of the first garland painting in 1607 1608 and its subsequent transformation into a widely collected type of devotional image curiosity and decorative form The first sustained study of the garland paintings the book uses contextual and formal analysis to achieve two goals One it demonstrates how and why the paintings flourished in a number of contexts ranging from an ecclesiastical center in Milan to a Jesuit chapter house and private collections in Antwerp to the Habsburg court in Vienna Two the book shows that when viewed over the course of the century the images produced by Brueghel Seghers and de Heem share important similarities including an interest in self referentiality and the exploration of pictorial form and materials Using a range of evidence inventories period response the paintings themselves Susan Merriam shows how the pictures reconfigured the terms in which the devotional image was understood and asked the viewer to consider in new ways how pictures are made and experienced On Art and Painting ,2016-07-15 The only volume on the work of Vicente

Frans Floris (1519/20–1570): Imagining a Northern Renaissance Edward H. Wouk,2018-03-20 Frans Floris de Vriendt radically transformed Netherlandish art His monumental mythologies introduced a new appreciation for the heroic nude to the Low Countries and his religious art challenged standards of decorum Born into a family of sculptors and architects Floris refashioned his art through travel first studying with the humanist painter Lambert Lombard in Liège and then continuing on to Italy. These experiences defined the hybridizing novelty of his art, forged by juxtaposing antique and modern Italian and northern sources. This book maps Floris's hybrid style onto shifting conceptions of cultural, religious, and political identity on the eve of the Dutch Revolt. It explores his collaborations and rivalries, engagement with artistic theory, hierarchical workshop, and revolutionary use of print.

Images of Purgatory Tomáš Malý, Pavel Suchánek, 2022-02-10T17:38:00+01:00

On the example of the Czech lands, the book discusses the transformation of the representation of Purgatory in the period between the late Reformation debates at the end of the sixteenth century and partial rejection of Purgatory by the so-called reform Catholicism of the late eighteenth century. The authors, moving permanently in between history and art history, gradually analyse theology, iconography, practice, and reception of Purgatory. They address the questions of space and time in Purgatory, of emotions, and the early modern affects, treatment of images in religious practice, circulation, and diffusion of meditative texts and images, or the problem of revenant souls. The book offers a comprehensive consideration of the development of a fascinating cultural phenomenon in a crucial period of significant changes in people's thoughts and behaviour.
