The Graphic Novel Jan Baetens, 2001 The essays collected in this volume were first presented at the international and interdisciplinary conference on the Graphic Novel hosted by the Institute for Cultural Studies University of Leuven in 2000 The issues discussed by the conference are twofold Firstly that of trauma representation an issue escaping by definition from any imaginable specific field Secondly that of a wide range of topics concerning the concept of visual narrative an issue which can only be studied by comparing as many media and practices as possible The essays of this volume are grouped here in two major parts their focus depending on either a more general topic or on a very specific graphic author The first part of the book Violence and trauma in the Graphic Novel opens with a certain number of reflections on the representation of violence in literary and visual graphic novels and continues with a whole set of close readings of graphic novels by Art Spiegelman Maus I and II and Jacques Tardi whose masterwork C'est la guerre des tranchées is still waiting for its complete English translation The second part of the book presents in the first place a survey of the current graphic novel production and insists sharply on the great diversity of the range in the various continental traditions for instance underground comix and feminist comics high art graphic novels critical superheroes fiction whose separation is nowadays increasingly difficult to maintain It continues and ends with a set of theoretical interventions where not only the reciprocal influences of national and international traditions but also those between genres and media are strongly forwarded the emphasis being here mainly on problems concerning ways of looking and positions of spectatorship

"Trading Magic for Fact," Fact for Magic Marc Colavincenzo, 2021-10-18 This study brings together three major areas of interest history postmodern fiction and myth Whereas neither history and postmodern fiction nor history and myth are strangers to one another postmodernism and myth are odd bedfellows For many critics postmodern thought with its resistance to metanarratives stands in direct and deliberate contrast to myth with its apparent tendency to explain the world by means of neat complete narratives There is a strain of postmodern Canadian historical fiction in which myth actually forms a complement not only to postmodernism's suspicion of master narratives but also to its privileging of those marginal and at times ignored areas of history The fourteen works of Canadian fiction considered demonstrate a doubled impulse which at first glance seems contradictory On the one hand they go about demythologizing in the Barthesian sense various elements of historical discourse exposing its authority as not simply a natural given but as a construct This includes the fact that the view of history portrayed in the fiction has been either underrepresented or suppressed by official historiography On the other hand the history is then re mythologized in that it becomes part of a pre existing myth its mythic elements are foregrounded myth and magic are woven into the narrative or it is portrayed as extraordinary in some way The result is an empowering of these histories for the future they are made larger than life and unforgettable The Quarterly or that of high art films that are perhaps the corollary of the middle brow novel or smart chick flicks This book seeks to fill this void by focusing on the steady stream of films about and for women that emerge out of independent American and European cinema and that are designed to address an international female audience The new woman s film as a genre includes narratives with strong ties to the woman s film of classical Hollywood while constituting a new distinctive cycle of female centered films that in many ways continue the project of second wave feminism albeit in a modified form Topics addressed include The Bridges of Madison County Clint Eastwood 1995 the feature length films of Nicole Holofcener 1996 2013 the film roles of Tilda Swinton Rachel Getting Married Jonathan Demme 2008 Blue Jasmine Woody Allen 2013 Frances Ha Noah Baumbach 2012 Belle Amma Asante 2013 Fifty Shades of Grey Sam Taylor Johnson 2015 and Jane Campion s Top of the Lake Sundance Channel 2013

Harris, 2017-10-16 Feminist reading of women s representation and activism in Israeli cinema Warriors Witches Whores Women in Israeli Cinema is a feminist study of Israel s film industry and the changes that have occurred since the 1990s Working in feminist film theory the book adopts a cultural studies approach considering the creation of a female centered and thematically feminist film culture in light of structural and ideological shifts in Israeli society Author Rachel S Harris situates these changes in dialogue with the cinematic history that preceded them and the ongoing social inequalities that perpetuate women s marginalization within Israeli society While no one can deny Israel s Western women s advancements feminist filmmakers frequently turn to Israel s less impressive underbelly as sources for their inspiration Their films have focused on sexism the negative impact of militarism on women s experience rape culture prostitution and sexual abuse These films also tend to include subjects from society s geographical periphery and social margins such as female foreign workers women and refugees Warriors Witches Whores is divided into three major sections and each considers a different form of feminist engagement The first part explores films that situate women in traditionally male spheres of militarism considering the impact of interjecting women within hegemonic spaces or reconceptualizing them in feminist ways The second part recovers the narratives of women s experience that were previously marginalized or silenced thereby creating a distinct female space that offers new kinds of storytelling and cinematic aesthetics that reflect feminist expressions of identity The third part offers examples of feminist activism that reach beyond the boundaries of the film to comment on social issues This section demonstrates how feminists use film and work within the film industry in order to position women in society While there are thematic overlaps between the chapters each section marks structural differences in the modes of feminist response Warriors Witches Whores considers the ways social and political power have affected the representation of women and looks to how feminist filmmakers have fought against these inequities behind the camera and in the stories they tell Students and scholars of film gender or cultural studies will appreciate this approachable monograph Rewriting/Reprising in Literature Claude Maisonnat, Josiane Paccaud-Huguet, Annie Ramel, 2009-10-02 This volume includes a series of 17 selected essays preceded by a methodological introduction whose purpose is to offer a fresh outlook on the question of rewriting reprising The argument taking for granted the phenomenon of intertextuality develops along three main axes the first one reconsiders the already debated issue of authority on post structuralist premises arguing that the origin of a text is untraceable The second looks at a phenomenon often associated with reprising especially in a post colonial context trauma whether individual or historical in relation to creative repetition The third axis offers a re reading of the question of voice introducing the notion of the textual voice understood as that part of the enunciative act over which the author has no control When writers make of reprising a deliberate practise we are tempted to believe that their position between homage and pillage presupposes the existence of a traceable source of the literary Word We must however face the problematic nature of enunciation the void on which is founded Which leads us to the proposition that the act of reprising is a creation ex nihilo a certain mode of organisation around that void Besides in a century of major man made traumas whose effect was the tearing up of social fabrics reprising will assume a more complex significance the symptomatic repetitive stitching of what is being constantly ripped up The Book of Summer Michelle Gable, 2017-05-09 From New York Times bestselling author of A Paris Apartment summer in Nantucket and a guestbook that reveals family secrets
