Floating Men And Pale Faces:

The Floating Man Katharine Towers, 2011-12-22 Appropriately for a book haunted by music Katharine Towers poems exhibit an almost pianistic sense of timing touch and tone In The Floating Man Towers writes about weight and weightlessness presence and absence the body in space and our oblique relationship with the natural world always with a wonderful sense of compositional balance she is expert at registering the huge emotional shifts effected by the smallest things whether the scent of apples the slant of the light or the grace notes of memory Music expresses the things we cannot say but Towers recruits its power to bring the beyond words into the realm of speech The result is a debut of great originality and subtlety

Floating Men and Pale Faces Kurt Palomaki, 2003-01-01 Becoming Marc Johnson, 2010 They wake and find themselves alone in a world where dreams are tangible Some find the world dark some find it home but all look into the dark uncertainty of it and find themselves lost For them Becoming is a beginning and it is from this beginning that they each find themselves wandering a dark world looking for some trace of their former humanity if it was ever there to begin with The hero Mahavir finds himself conflicted between losing his own life for the human beings that he despises or simply leaving them behind As he comes to know Joseph and his father and Lila and her brother he struggles to move away from the fate that dreams have allotted to him and realizes that even the power of those dreams cannot take away his choice Regardless of the strength of the nightmares that plague the world around him he knows that it is only his decision that will determine the fate of men

Cavalry Life in Tent and Field Mrs. Orsemus Bronson Boyd, 1894 A biography of U S Army cavalry officer Orsemus Bronson Boyd by his wife Chaucer Geoffrey Chaucer, Steve Ellis, 2014-06-11 This new addition to the Longman Critical Readers Series provides an overview of the various ways in which modern critical theory has influenced Chaucer Studies over the last fifteen years There is still a sense in the academic world and in the wider literary community that Medieval Studies are generally impervious to many of the questions that modern theory asks and that it concerns itself only with traditional philological and historical issues On the contrary this book shows how Chaucer specifically the Canterbury Tales has been radically and excitingly opened up by feminist Lacanian Bakhtinian deconstructive semiotic and anthropological theories to name but a few The book provides an introduction to these new developments by anthologising some of the most important work in the field including excerpts from book length works as well as articles from leading and innovative journals The introduction to the volume examines in some detail the relation between the individual strengths of each of the above approaches and the ways in which a postmodernist Chaucer is seen as reflecting them all This convenient single volume collection of key critical analyses of Chaucer which includes work from some journals and studies that are not always easily available will be indispensable to students of Medieval Studies Medieval Literature and Chaucer as well as to general readers who seek to widen their understanding of the forces behind Chaucer s writing     The Western Literary Messenger ,1852
